Genuflections and Bows

A genuflection, made by bending the right knee to the ground, signifies adoration, and therefore it is reserved for the Blessed Sacrament, as well as for the Holy Cross from the solemn adoration during the liturgical celebration on Good Friday until the beginning of the Easter Vigil.

During Mass, three genuflections are made by the priest celebrant: namely, after the showing of the host, after the showing of the chalice, and before Holy Communion. Concelebrants bow as the celebrant makes the first two of these genuflections, and genuflect individually as they prepare to communicate.

If, however, the tabernacle with the Blessed Sacrament is present anywhere in the sanctuary, the priest, the deacon, and the other ministers genuflect when they approach the altar and when they depart from it, but not during the celebration of Mass itself. Otherwise all who pass before the Blessed Sacrament genuflect, unless they are moving in procession. Ministers carrying the processional cross or candles bow their heads instead of genuflecting.

A bow signifies reverence and honor shown to the persons themselves or to the signs that represent them. There are two kinds of bows: a bow of the head and a bow of the body: A bow of the head is made when the three Divine Persons are named together and at the names of Jesus, of the Blessed Virgin Mary, and of the Saint in whose honor Mass is being celebrated. In the United States a reverent bow of the head is suggested before receiving Holy Communion.

A bow of the body, that is to say a profound bow, is made to the altar during the prayers Munda cor meum (Cleanse my heart) and In spiritu humilitatis (With humble spirit); in the Creed at the words Et incarnatus est (and by the Holy Spirit... and became man); in the Roman Canon at the words Supplices te rogamus (In humble prayer we ask you, almighty God). The same kind of bow is made by the deacon when he asks for a blessing before the proclamation of the Gospel. In addition, the priest bows slightly as he speaks the words of the Lord at the Consecration.

Other Gestures

During the Penitential Act, if the Confiteor is used, the faithful strike their breast three times at the words 'my fault...my fault...my most grievous fault'.

At the Gospel when the priest or deacon announces the reading it is customary for the faithful to make a sign of the cross on their forehead, lips and breast.
