

Human Suffering And God's Wrath

by Joe Slater Justin church of Christ Justin, TX

Atheists claim that human suffering proves there is no God. On the other extreme, some who believe in God assert that human suffering is always the result of God's wrath upon the one who is suffering. Truth, as we might expect, lies between the extremes.

Before sin occurred in Eden, there was no sickness, no pain, no hurricanes, no fires, no death. Beyond dispute, God allows such things to be commonplace now because of sin. That is not to say, however, that every episode of suffering is due to divine wrath against the sufferer!

Much of the misunderstanding stems from the false doctrine of inherited sin. I have engaged in discussions with people who believed little babies are born guilty of Adam's sin, and therefore God afflicts them with terrible diseases! But God Himself told Ezekiel that "the son shall not bear the guilt of the father" (18:20). God's own law given to Israel through Moses forbade punishing children for the crimes of parents (Deuteronomy 24:16).

Job's friends foolishly assumed his suffering was God's way of punishing him for his sins. The Twelve likewise presumed that a man's blindness from birth might be due to his parents' sin (John 9:2). The Lord corrected all of them.

Everyone has known of cases where the innocent suffer due to the sins of the guilty. Drunk drivers kill the innocent and walk away unscathed. Drug-addicted parents spend money on drugs while innocent children go without food and clothes.

Yes, suffering characterizes the world because of sin. But that does not mean every case of suffering is due to God's wrath against the sufferer.

Suffering As a Christian

via Thursday Thoughts "Copyright (c) Ron Adams" (Used with permission)

Be on the alert, stand firm in the faith, act like men, be strong. 1 Corinthians 16:13

The morals of society have never been the same as those found in the New Testament.

Sometimes there have been similarities but at other times they have been far different.

The morals in this country have been drifting farther and farther away from Bible morals:

marriage is just a "relationship" subject to end for any reason; co-habitation before marriage is commonplace; perverted lifestyles are defended as acceptable; right-or-wrong has been replaced by "if it feels right, it's okay."

And many churches have fallen prey to such nonsense.

The challenge for Christians today is to stand firm for Bible morals, no matter who criticizes, or what the cost may be.

Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery ordeal among you, which comes upon you for your testing, as though some strange thing were happening to you; but to the degree that you share the sufferings of Christ, keep on rejoicing, so that also at the revelation of His glory you may rejoice with exultation. If you are reviled for the name of Christ, you are blessed, because the Spirit of glory and of God rests on you. Make sure that none of you suffers as a murderer, or thief, or evildoer, or a troublesome meddler; but if anyone suffers as a Christian, he is not to be ashamed, but is to glorify God in this name. 1 Peter 4:12-16
