

THE LIONFISH

Is a Fairfield, Connecticut-based funky blues-rock band. Formed in 2012,

The Lionfish has now grown into a live-performance experience that anyone would want to hear! The five-piece rhythm section combined with the phunky horn section brings a rockin blend of Chicago-based blues and New Orleans funk to contemporary rock and roll.

At its core, The Lionfish digs deep into the roots of American music. Drawing its influences from legends such as Robert Johnson and Chuck Berry, the band also takes inspiration from artists today such as Bruce Springsteen, The Rolling Stones, Jimi Hendrix, and Bruno Mars. The Lionfish embodies soul, talent, and a creative energy that is hard to find in young bands today!

The Band Features:

Robby Schwartz – keyboards, trombone, vocals

Chris Finelli – guitar, trumpet, vocals

Dan Horstmann – drums, vocals

Mark Schwartz – guitar vocals

The Lionfish has shared the stage with bands such as New Duke and James Darling and The Nuclear Heartbreak. Band members have performed with artists such as Brian Torff, Ryan Keberle, Fred Maxwell, Gary Versace, Jimmy Greene, Kirk Knuffke, Daryl Tookes, Jamie Finegan, and Marvin Stamm.
