An absolutely beautiful villa located in the centre of Rome. The Casali were two country houses (respectively of 190 mq and 150 mq) of a noble Roman family, and they are surrounded by aqueduct "Traiano Paolo" built by Pope Sisto V in 1605. There is also a guest house of 40 mq. The Casali are surrounded by lush gardens of 1.500 mq and were completely restored in 2000 by a specialist for ancient Roman houses; all interiors are handmade. Fabulous location, neighboring the Villa Pamphili Park and only 5 minutes from St. Peter's Square. Extensive grand reception rooms, comfortable and elegant private rooms. The first casale of 190 sq.mt. offers 2 living rooms, as well as 3 bedrooms and 4 bathrooms. The second casale of 150 sq.mt. offers 2 living rooms, 3 bedrooms, 4 bathrooms. The guest house (40 sq.mt.) is composed of 1 living room, 1 bedroom and 1 bathroom. A very beautiful and atmospheric private home of the highest standard which is a piece of paradise in the middle of Rome
