June: It's Not Just About the Dads

"I have no plants in my house. They won't live for me. Some of them don't even wait to die, they commit suicide." — Jerry Seinfeld

by N.L. Preston

I grew up on a farm in rural Ohio, but I am not a typical farmer's daughter in that I hate gardens, gardening, and everything associated with them. Like most families did in those days, our garden was huge and all family members participated in its upkeep. My siblings and I were roused out of bed early before it got too hot so we could weed, hoe, and spray for bugs. Later in the season we gathered the vegetables and helped with the canning; my job being to wash the jars which were inevitably full of bugs because of their winter storage. Yes, you can call me an ungrateful hypocrite and I will freely admit to it because I ate with gusto the produce of our labor, but that didn't change the fact that I loathed all the hard work involved.

I mention this because June 6th is Gardening Exercise Day and I'm told that mind, body, and soul benefit as calories are burnt, yadda, yadda, yadda. A farmer's daughter I am, but a lover of gardening, I definitely am not. I guess it's a good thing I no longer have to grow my own food to survive, because truth be told, I can't even keep potted flowers alive. I have two and my friend, Sandy, regularly takes them to her home for rescue and resuscitation. I can literally hear them scream no, no when she returns them to me; so sad.

On the other hand, two other holidays this month honor two of my favorite foods, doughnuts and onions. National Doughnut Day is June 4th and some of the national chains offer a free doughnut to solicit donations to the Salvation Army or other worthy cause.

My other favorite food, onions, are celebrated on June 27th, National Onion Day. Everyone I know loves onions; that is, except my neighbor who wouldn't eat them if a tiger was biting her butt and she could save herself by eating an onion slice. Besides hating everything about them, Margaret also has two dogs to whom onions can be toxic. That's because onions carry a compound poison that can easily be absorbed by a dog's digestive system, cause anemia, and lead to death. As for me, I grew up eating mustard and onion on biscuits and to this day, I still love them. What's this got to do with Bingo? Well, I'm thinking instead of gardening which I hate, I can exercise by going to Bingo which I love. I can walk around before Bingo starts and get my exercise steps in by visiting my buddies; then I can visit the snack bar where I can order a big old hamburger with a slice of onion. In this age of Covid, my onion breath will reinforce social distancing from other players. Fortunately, this does not apply to my husband who loves onions as much as I. When we both have onion breath, neither of us can complain. May Lady Luck, hopefully without onion breath, blow you kisses as you dance out the door with dollars. Win big.

ARIZONA LEGALIZES SPORTS BETTING

Both houses of the Arizona Legislature passed bills that legalize sports betting in the Grand Canyon State this April. Governor Doug Ducey signed the joint bill the legislature sent to him. Arizona becomes the 21st state, along with the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico, with legal sports betting. The state's professional sports teams (Diamondbacks, Suns, Cardinals, and Coyotes) will all have licenses to operate on-site sports betting at their arenas and stadiums. So will the Phoenix Open and NASCAR. Since sports betting will be available at tribal casinos (the law allows up to 10 Indian tribes to offer it), the Bureau of Indian Affairs needs to sign off on the bill, but that formality could take as little as 90 days. Ducey also signed a new gambling compact between the state and the tribal nations.

WYOMING ALSO ONBOARD

The governor of Wyoming has signed a bill that will make sports betting legal in the state as of September 1. Wagering will be allowed online only, in a format similar to that in Tennessee. There will be a 10% tax on the win.

SEVEN BUFFETS REOPEN

Hungry visitors to the Mississippi Gulf Coast will be happy to know seven of the twelve buffets at Mississippi Gulf Coast casinos operating before the pandemic shutdown were reopened as of press time: Beau Rivage, Golden Nugget, Hollywood, Palace, Island View, Silver Slipper, and Treasure Bay. The procedures range from self-service in the usual fashion and staff dishing out the food at serving stations to wait service and AYCE combined with a regular menu.

Spring Brings Big Bucks

Bingo player Aurelio Aguilar hit the Jumbo Progressive on the 52nd number while playing at Red Rock Casino's Bingo room, netting him $207,691—making his Easter weekend that followed just that much more festive. Station Casinos' linked Jumbo Progressive starts at $100,000, with 47 or fewer called numbers needed to win. The number of balls needed to win the Jackpot depends on the posted jackpot amount, and the game plays as an odd ball coverall. Once the jumbo hits, all participating properties go into a "bonus session" which will pay $1,000 on all regular games, no matter what level card is being played.

Millenials Turn to Bingo

Over the past decade Bingo demographics have changed with the addition of Millennials, who took to the game as it made a transition to the online environment. Millennials had the unique experience of growing up playing video games and witnessed the technical advancements firsthand. This generation's love of electronic games is still going strong and some players have branched out to other genres. While millennials are not keen on spending too much time and resources gambling, they do fancy a brief and exciting session. Millennials have the technical skills needed to understand and trust the technology behind online games. And contrary to some older people's belief that Millennials are anti-social, they are simply more comfortable having social interactions through smart devices. In online Bingo, players can chat to each other while they play and meet new people.

Feds After Florida Fraudsters

AA Florida couple who swindled nearly $6 million from charities through an illegal Bingo operation asked an 11th Circuit panel in Atlanta recently to reject the government's appeal seeking to reverse their acquittal on charges of conspiracy to commit wire fraud. An attorney for former spouses Larry and Dixie Masino told a three-judge panel of the Atlanta-based appeals court that the government failed to prove during an eight-day trial that the couple ever had any intent to defraud the charities. The Masinos rented a Bingo hall in northwest Florida to local charities and ran Bingo games for them in exchange for a large portion of the proceeds. The operation continued for over two decades before they were convicted of illegal gambling and money laundering in 2018. Rather than turning over all Bingo proceeds to players in the form of prizes as Florida law requires, the Masinos held onto millions for themselves. Between 2006 and 2015, the couple received and laundered $5.8 million in profits. Larry Masino was sentenced to one year in prison and Dixie received four months of house arrest as part of a five-year probation term. The couple was also ordered to pay a forfeiture judgment of $5.8 million. Assistant U.S. Attorney Alicia Forbes said the evidence definitively showed the Masinos "conspired and intended to defraud the charities," arguing that the couple actively harmed the charities by keeping excess Bingo proceeds. The panel did not indicate when it would reach a decision in the case.

Horoscopes for June 2021

ARIES (MAR 21-APR 20): Your world takes on a regal glow this month as Mars switches into fiery Leo and grants you the pizzazz you’ve waited for since late spring. What are you going to do with this surfeit of energy and charm? May I suggest that you take on whatever project (or person) that you’ve been avoiding? Now that your quota of courage is up a notch, don’t waste the opportunity to surmount obstacles in your path.
Lucky Days: 2 - 9
Lucky Numbers: 54 - 57

TAURUS (APR 21-MAY 21): Tension is a fascinating phenomenon. It annoys us and can awaken us. You’re caught in the middle now between radical shifts in your world—a new job, new partner, new home—and your desire for life to remain calm and reliable. Best get on board with the dynamism that’s afoot to release the stress and move you into the next phase of your wonderful life.
Lucky Days: 7 - 29
Lucky Numbers: 43 - 50

GEMINI (MAY 22-JUN 21): The new Moon in your sign this month on the 10th triggers your curiosity and sets you off on a hunt for new opportunities and relationships. The trick will be deciding which one interest has the most value for you. If I had to pick one theme, it would be the necessity to liven up your circle of friends. Now that life is starting to return to normal you’ll want to mingle more and grow into a network of like-minded peers.

Lucky Days: 5 - 7
Lucky Numbers: 9 - 21

CANCER (JUN 22-JUL 22): What a sweet and rich summer this is going to be with Venus occupying your sun sign. You can expect an increased interest in poetry, romantic novels, or movies—and a deep appreciation for the beauty of nature. Find ways to align with all of these pastimes by writing your own love poems (or stories) and setting your bare feet strolling along an ocean shore or field of wildflowers. Revel in the sensuous.
Lucky Days: 9 - 14
Lucky Numbers: 49 - 52

LEO (JUL 23-AUG 23): Mars moves into alignment with Saturn and that’s a lot like accelerating your car while stepping on the brakes. There’s still a way forward within this jam-up, but it involves honoring a secret wish that you’ve kept hidden for years. Anger is an energy that can be used for either creative or destructive means: now is the time to use it to bring to life what you’ve been too hesitant to express.
Lucky Days: 2 - 19
Lucky Numbers: 46 - 58

VIRGO (AUG 24-SEP 23): This could be called your psychedelic summer. You’re swirling in strange moods, colorful fantasies, unfounded fears, and maybe a random hallucination here and there. What gives? The universe is recalibrating your nervous system. It’s a refinement process that’s designed to rev up the motor of your imagination. What are you going to produce with all of these newfound visions and ideas?
Lucky Days: 11 - 24
Lucky Numbers: 34 - 37

LIBRA (SEP 24-OCT 23): Diplomacy is called for this month as tension builds between career responsibilities and your desire for autonomy and freedom. Venus, one of your ruling planets, is stimulating your desire to express yourself in a unique way; to explore new interests related to art and beauty. See if you can strike a compromise between what’s required of you at the job and what you can create on your own.
Lucky Days: 12 - 19
Lucky Numbers: 28 - 43

SCORPIO (OCT 24th-NOV 22nd): Think of life this way: You can either dream about how things should be, or you can do the heavy lifting that’s required to make that dream a reality. These are the two poles that most people toggle between in life. Don’t be like most people. Your desire for change is moved up to red alert status this month. Start affirming that you can get what you want if you stay true to the task at hand.
Lucky Days: 23 - 27
Lucky Numbers: 7 - 45

SAGITTARIUS (NOV 23rd-DEC 21st): Your mission right now is to apply your effervescent energy to both career and home improvements. You don’t have to pit one against the other. The money you make from your job increases your ability to make your home a happier place. And the more creative you are at home, the better your job performance. Or do something wild and start working at home for yourself, combining the best of both worlds.
Lucky Days: 6 - 11
Lucky Numbers: 19 - 33

CAPRICORN (DEC 22nd-JAN 20th): You’re in a long slow process, that can seem arduous at times. Then again, you’re remaking your life—or, as some people call it: starting over. Regardless of what you’re leaving behind, you’ll want to stay the course by focusing on the new wisdom you’ve acquired and what you can do with it to make the world a better place. It’s time to step up to the plate and become the leader you were destined to become.

Lucky Days: 2 - 14
Lucky Numbers: 3 - 15

AQUARIUS (JAN 21st-FEB 19th): Zero in on those areas of life that enthuse you most, that move your heart the deepest. Take stock in the words of Norman Mailer: “I don’t think life is absurd. I think we are all here for a huge purpose.” What is your huge purpose? Social causes, social progress, social justice. All of those topics move you in profound ways. Choose one this month and commit yourself to it fully.
Lucky Days: 12 - 18
Lucky Numbers: 45 - 55

PISCES (FEB 20th-MAR 20th): This is the start of a fortunate new cycle. Your ruler Jupiter has just moved into your sun sign. This sets life off on a wonderful new 12-year cycle. You will learn many things, not the least of which will be discovering who you really are as an individual. And that’s pretty important, wouldn’t you agree? Say hello to the newly discovered you.
Lucky Days: 8 - 9
Lucky Numbers: 9 - 10

"SAVVY SENIOR"

YOU ASK THE SENIOR QUESTION
~ WE FIND THE SAVVY ANSWER

Could You Have Prediabetes?

Dear Savvy Senior,
What can you tell me about prediabetes, and how can you know if you have it? My 62-year-old husband, who’s in pretty good shape, was recently diagnosed with prediabetes and didn’t have clue. Could I have it too? —
Wondering Spouse

Dear Wondering,
Underlying today’s growing epidemic of type 2 diabetes is a much larger epidemic called prediabetes, which is when the blood sugar levels are higher than they should be but not high enough to be called diabetes. The Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) estimates that as many as 84 million Americans today have prediabetes. Left untreated, it almost always turns into type 2 diabetes within 10 years. And, if you have prediabetes, the long-term damage it can cause—especially to your heart and circulatory system—may already be starting. But the good news is that prediabetes doesn’t mean that you’re destined for full-blown diabetes. Prediabetes can actually be reversed, and diabetes prevented, by making some simple lifestyle changes like losing weight, exercising, eating a healthy diet and cutting back on carbohydrates. Or, if you need more help, oral medications may also be an option.

Get Tested
Because prediabetes typically causes no outward symptoms, most people that have it don’t realize it. The only way to know for sure if you have it is to get a blood test. Everyone age 45 years or older should consider getting tested for prediabetes, especially if you are overweight with a body mass index (BMI) above 25. See CDC.gov/

bmi to calculate your BMI. If you are younger than 45 but are overweight, or have high blood pressure, a family history of diabetes, or belong to an ethnic group (Latino, Asian, African or Native American) at high risk for diabetes, you should get checked too. To help you determine your risk of diabetes, the American Diabetes Association (ADA) has a quick, online risk test you can take for free at DoIHavePrediabetes.org.
Diabetes Tests
If you find that you’re at risk for prediabetes, there are three different tests your doctor can give you to diagnosis it. The most common is the “fasting plasma glucose test,” which requires an eight-hour fast before you take it. There’s also the “oral glucose tolerance test” to see how your body processes sugar, and the “hemoglobin A1C test” that measures your average blood sugar over the past three months. It can be taken anytime regardless of when you ate. Most private health insurance plans and Medicare cover diabetes tests, however, if you’re reluctant to visit your doctor to get tested, an alternative is to go to the drug store, buy a blood glucose meter and test yourself at home. They cost around $20. If you find that you are prediabetic or diabetic, you need to see your doctor to develop a plan to get it under control. The ADA recommends losing weight and doing moderate exercise, such as 150 minutes a week of brisk walking. And when lifestyle changes alone don’t work, medication might. The ADA recommends the generic drug metformin, especially for very overweight people younger than 60. For more information on diabetes and prediabetes or to find help, join a lifestyle change program recognized by the CDC (see CDC.gov/diabetes/prevention). These programs offer in-person and online classes in more than 1,500 locations throughout the U.S. Over the course of a year, a coach will help you eat healthy, increase your physical activity and develop new habits.

Guy's Turn

By Guy Williams

Bingo Basics

Hi Guy,
I see that they call smaller Bingos “Charity Bingos.” What does that mean, exactly? The money players spend is donated to charity? Do you know what these charities are and how they are picked? — Jerome, via email

Hi Jerome,
Put simply, charity Bingos operate in order to generate funds for charitable work. Some charities have their own licenses and offer their own games. Others are part of a “pool” of charities that may receive a portion of Bingo winnings from a particular organization. For example, a Knights of Columbus Bingo will direct some of the funds to KofC activities and the rest is shared among other not-for-profits the Knights have chosen to help.

I do not know the specific process an organization goes through to select the charities it will support, but I assume there is some kind of selection committee that makes that decision. — Guy

Dear Guy,
The Bingo where I attend is frequented by several groups of teenage boys. They occasionally get a bit loud, but otherwise are not a problem. But I have to be honest, I am not sure how I feel about such young guys playing Bingo. Casinos keep underage players out. They can get big fines if they are caught letting underage players play. Yet here in a community Bingo hall it seems to be OK. — Brendan B., Michigan

Dear Brendan,
I see your point, Bingo is gambling, and perhaps youngsters should not be exposed to it. Some folks say no one under 18 should be allowed into a Bingo hall, regardless of how low the stakes are. Others say they would rather see teens enjoying a quiet evening of Bingo than running around bored and getting into trouble.
As youngsters, my brother and I would go to Bingo on occasion with a parent or friends, and never thought it was that big of a deal. It was just a game and we had a shot at winning some money. Based on that experience, I would have to say that I still feel the same way and have no real problem with teens playing Bingo.
I certainly welcome other opinions from readers. — Guy

If you have a new Bingo experience you’d like to share, or a question, send it to Guy’s Turn, c/o Bingo Bugle, P.O. Box 527, Vashon WA 98070 email: tara@bingobugle.com.

Paws Corner

Q: We have a fenced backyard and have no problem letting our dog “Ace” out to roam. However, for the first time, Ace ran into a skunk! Now I’m trying to get rid of that horrible skunk odor. What can I use to clean his fur? And how do I keep skunks off my property? — Suzie H., via email

A: Skunk encounters are pretty awful. And when a dog gets a good soaking from the skunk’s defensive spray, it can be tough to get out of its hair. The American Kennel Club’s website (www.akc.org) has some expert advice on getting rid of the skunk smell on dogs. Rule No. 1: Do not bring the dog in the house if you can avoid it.

They recommend a homemade solution to break up and remove the odiferous oil that makes up skunk spray: Mix a quart of 3% hydrogen peroxide (available over the counter at the local pharmacy) with two teaspoons of mild dish soap and a quarter cup of baking soda. This mixture will start foaming immediately, so have Ace ready. Rub the foamy solution into his coat, soaking it completely. (Avoiding his eyes or ears.) Leave it on for five minutes, then rinse. Discard any unused solution.

To keep the skunk from coming back, determine where it’s getting into your yard and when. Open trash cans or compost piles are attractive foraging spots. Skunks are most active after sundown or in the early morning hours. Ace may be fine in the yard during the day, but you should accompany him on potty breaks before sunrise or after sundown to prevent another stinky encounter.

Veterans Post

For These Vets, Haircuts Are Life-Changing

I pushed through the coffee shop’s back door and found the attic dormitory crowd in the kitchen. Sarge had arranged for the lady who gave free haircuts at the senior center to come in and “neaten up” the homeless veterans before they went on job interviews. She breezed through the door with a plastic tarp for the floor, fancy salon wraps for their shoulders, a hand mirror, and a bag of scissors, combs, razors, sprays and gels, plus a stack of cosmetology magazines from which each veteran could choose his preferred hairstyle. All just opted for “something shorter.”

For one of the veterans, the one with long, tangled hair past his shoulders and a full bushy beard and mustache that covered half of his face, the “something shorter” turned into “more, please” as she cut.

“Hello again,” he quietly said to his image in the small mirror. “Haven’t seen you in a long time.” He handed the lady a few bills, even though he didn’t need to pay, and then trotted up the street to the drug store, where he bought a pack of disposable razors and shave cream.

Standing outside under the streetlight after the haircuts, Sarge was subdued. “Did you see how his eyes lit up, seeing himself in the mirror like that? All trimmed and shaved? And all of them confident now about finding jobs?”

He quietly muttered an uncharacteristic string of profanities, then spun to face me. “We have to do better for them. The VA has to do better. Towns have to do better.”

As he stared off across the parking lot, I pointed out that he’d singlehandedly changed the lives of these four men by opening the dormitory.

He faced me again and said, “Well, I’m not done yet.”

Miranda Rogel won the Coverall at West St. Paul Bingo Palace.

Bingo Meanies and Belles of the Ball

Dear Aunt Bingo,

I know you get lots of letters from people who say that cheating is going on at their Bingo halls. Have you ever gotten a letter from someone who has been accused of cheating? Because that's what is happening to me right now. I have had some good luck lately. I also have a handful of friends and one relative that work at the Bingo where I have been winning. Two times now people have muttered sarcastic things just loud enough for me to hear suggesting that my bingo wins are suspicious and I have someone "helping" me win.

It is stupid and upsetting and is ruining my good luck and love of Bingo. I stand in line just like everyone else, I pay my money just like everyone else, I am handed my Bingo paper pads just like everyone else—I am doing nothing out of the ordinary that people could observe and say is suspicious and cheating. What would you do? — M.R.M., via e-mail

Dear M.R.M.,
My advice? Ignore it. Hopefully you have Bingo buddies there who support you and know that you are an honest person who is having a lucky streak. And isn't that what we are all there for? To win!?

These people who are accusing you are simply mean-spirited and jealous and are doing what they can to diminish your enjoyment at winning. If you give in to them, then they have achieved their goal. If you ignore them—safe in the knowledge that you are winning fair and square—then you have won, again, and they have failed.

There will always be unhappy people who can only feel good about themselves by dragging down those around them. They do not deserve a moment of our attention. — Aunt Bingo

Now Here's a Tip:

- Spring clean your tools. Ditch half-used tubes of caulk, stiff paintbrushes, random hardware that doesn't have any obvious use, especially screws or nails that have been pulled out of the wall.
- "When cleaning the microwave, boil a couple of cups of water in the microwave first. The steam will help loosen any stuck-on food." — O.D. in Idaho
- Defrost meats on the bottom shelf only. Ideally, you should have a large bowl or container to put packages of meat in that require defrosting, so that if they leak, the leakage will be contained and will not get on any of your other foods.

- "The plastic liner in cereal boxes makes a good, strong container for kitchen scraps if you are saving them for composting." — Y.T. in Oregon
- "Wipe out the insides of a cornstarch container to make a handy catch-all for craft supplies or crayon sets for kids (labeled so they all have their own). These are a really good size, and several brands seem to come with a clear lid." — H.D. in Florida

... In 2007, Scotland spent 125,000 British pounds devising a new national slogan. The winning entry was: "Welcome to Scotland."

... The suicide palm gets its name from how it meets its demise. At the end of its life, the stem tips explode in a massive array of tiny flowers capable of being pollinated and developing into fruit, and their nectar attracts insects and birds. However, the flowers also exhaust the plant and drain its nutritional supply until it dies.

Bingo Bugle Tournament Fall Cruise Top 10

Here are our Top Ten reasons why it's time to sign on for the World Championship Bingo Tournament & Gaming Cruise:

- 10. The Ship. From stem to stern Carnival Freedom is among the most modern, luxurious and unforgettable cruise ships plying the seas.
- 9. The Cruise Host. Carnival is among the most respected luxury cruise line companies in the business. Decades of experience in bringing the best in at-sea adventure and enjoyment are hallmarks of this top-ranked organization.
- 8. Bingo Bugle Cruises. Our professional travel team is there every step of the way to make sure tournament cruise participants have the time of their lives. Simply phone the Bingo Bugle Cruise Hotline (888-352-2464) to ask questions, request information or arrange your passage. You may also visit us online: bingobugle.com/cruise.
- 7. The Bingo Bugle Newspaper Group. The premiere publisher of reliable, informative and entertaining Bingo and gaming news, the Bingo Bugle has been a trusted friend to Bingo fans for decades. Who better, then, to sponsor the best Bingo and gaming cruise around.
- 6. Service. From the moment you board your plane until you return home, dedicated staff members - will be on hand to make sure your cruise adventure goes without a hitch.

- 5. The Casino. Rarely do Bingo fans live by Bingo alone. And aboard the Carnival Freedom they certainly won't have to. Between Bingo play and other shipboard activities, a Las Vegas-style casino is available with slots, roulette, blackjack and so much more.
 - 4. Ports of Call. This year's cruise takes participants to the island destinations of Half Moon Cay, the Bahamas; Grand Turk; Aruba; and Bonaire for hours of shopping, sightseeing or whatever your heart desires.
 - 3. The Food. If you're into quantity, get ready for multiple meals and snacks a day, and special-event dinners. And if you're into quality, get ready to be blown away by some of the most beautifully presented and magnificently prepared dishes you've ever seen or tasted.
 - 2. Tournaments within the tournament. Along with Bingo, players are welcome to participate in the optional Sizzling Slots and Bingo Bugle Blackjack tournaments.
- And reason #1...
- Bingo! Your eight-day high seas adventure includes marathon Bingo and other exciting tournaments, $100,000 in cash prizes, and the awarding of free passage for two on Cruise '22 to the top winner—not to mention the coveted title of Bingo Grand Champion!

And there you have it—Our Top 10 reasons why the World Championship Bingo Tournament & Gaming Cruise is the ultimate Caribbean gaming cruise vacation you need.

But don't take our word for it. Sign on and make a Top-10 list of your own. Phone the Bingo Bugle Cruise Hotline (888-352-2464) or visit us online (bingobugle.com/cruise) today!

Nevada On the Rebound

The Nevada gambling win statewide broke the $1 billion mark in March for the first time in 13 months; the last time it did so was February 2020 before the shutdown of all casinos for 78 days. The total win was $1.07 billion, a 73% increase from March 2020. Of course, that's not an apples-to-apples comparison, since the casinos closed in the middle of the month last year. But the billion-dollar win is solid evidence of how much demand had been pent up during the closures and subsequent capacity restrictions; the casino occupancy limit was raised from 25% to 50% of total capacity on March 15. In addition, March Madness and stimulus money drove visitation and revenue. In fact, five jurisdictions set all-time gambling-revenue records in March: downtown Las Vegas, the Boulder Strip, and Clark County along with Elko County in eastern Nevada and Carson Valley in the north.

MEGA HIT

This past Spring, an early morning visitor from New Mexico hit the largest Megabucks jackpot since Christmas Eve for $10.5 million at South Point. It followed right on the heels of a $2.1 million jackpot hit on a Monopoly Millionaire machine at the Cosmopolitan by a visitor from Alaska ($4 bet of a reported $40 buy-in). Another Alaska resident hit it big in Vegas at the Suncoast on Christmas Eve—interestingly, that player also bought in for $40.

TRIP TO MARS?

It looks like Bruno Mars will be the first headliner to relaunch Strip residencies when he appears at the Park Theater at Park MGM over the July Fourth weekend. Mars will perform July 3, 4, 9, 10, 23, and 24. If all goes according to plan, Mars will bump Usher from the first spot; Usher is scheduled to open at the Colosseum at Caesars Palace on July 16.

Easy Peasy!

Dear Ask Annie,
I need help. I am desperate. My sister-in-law and family are coming for dinner and I need to make something really easy. I am not such a good cook. Can you help me with an entree and salad. I really would appreciate your help. I hope you are feeling good. — Ellen Sue from Raleigh, North Carolina

Dear Ellen Sue,
I have two very simple recipes. The first is a simple salad with tomatoes, mozzarella cheese and basil. The entree is a very easy barbecued chicken. Thank you for asking. I am feeling just fine. I hope you are too! — Annie

TOMATO, MOZZARELLA AND BASIL SALAD
6 ripe medium-sized tomatoes
1 bunch fresh basil, washed and dried
1 pound fresh mozzarella, thinly sliced
2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil freshly ground black pepper and salt to taste

Wash and dry the tomatoes and set aside at room temperature. Remove 24 large leaves from the basil and place in a plastic bag in the refrigerator. At serving time, slice the tops and bottoms from the tomatoes; slice each tomato in half and arrange two slices on 6 salad plates. Top each slice with a slice of mozzarella and two basil leaves. Drizzle on the olive oil and season with salt and pepper. Serves 6.

EASY BREEZY BARBECUED CHICKEN
4 teaspoons canola oil
3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
3/4 cup red wine vinegar
4 large cloves garlic, minced
1 cup catsup
2 teaspoons dry mustard
1/8 teaspoon hot red pepper flakes
1/2 cup finely grated onion
2 + pounds skinless boneless chicken breasts, halved

Mix together the oil, vinegar, catsup, onion, mustard, Worcestershire sauce, garlic and pepper flakes. Rinse and pat dry the chicken breasts and place them in the marinade in a shallow, container for several hours or overnight. Refrigerate or freeze. To serve let the chicken and marinade defrost, if frozen, and either cook the breasts outdoor on a grill or on a stovetop, basting and turning. If there is leftover marinade, bring it to a boil and serve it with the chicken. Serves 6.

Your comments and questions about cooking and entertaining will be addressed in this monthly column. Write to "Ask Annie" c/o Annie Ennis, 17050 SE 91st Culvert Court, The Villages, FL 32162. So Ask Annie. Don't forget you can E-mail me at aennis@thevillages.net.

Home Life Lessons for All of Us

I have a new friend. When she bangs on my door, on a daily basis now, it's clear that she wants to come in and visit. So, being a good neighbor, I open the door and in she trots. She now knows where the kitchen is and that I've laid in a supply of her favorite foods. She heads there, leading the way, talking a mile a minute. Stuffed after she eats, she'll sprawl on the couch and have a long nap, safe from the world.

My new friend is a cat — a grey tabby, age 4, with a tiny bell on her red collar.

This cat, whose name I'm told is Missy, is an orphan, at least right now. Her owner, a neighbor, is in the hospital and the prognosis is grim. The woman was found a few weeks ago when another neighbor noticed that Missy was still sitting on the porch in the middle of the afternoon, apparently unfed and upset. The neighbor investigated and found Missy's owner on the floor. An ambulance was called.

Let this be a lesson to all of us. If we have pets and we live alone, we need a backup plan for the animals' care.

Someone needs to know we have pets, know what they eat and where the food is kept. If it's an older animal and medicine is required, somebody needs to know how to give it, and when. This someone needs to know the name of the vet.

The second lesson is about us: Somebody needs to be aware enough of our daily routines that if something is wrong, they'll know to investigate: the blinds still closed, the paper still at the door... or the cat still sitting unfed on the porch.

The Cleaning Season

Spring isn't just when we spring forward in time, it is also the time when we spring into action to clean those places that likely haven't been cleaned at all: your heating and cooling air ducts.

That can be a problem because that's where dirt, germs, mold, mildew, pet dander and other allergens like to lurk.

A six-room house can generate as much as 40 pounds of dirt, chemicals and pollutants in a typical year—which this wasn't for many families. The contaminants make the heating and cooling system work harder, use more energy and wear out faster. That can get expensive. According to the U.S. Department of Energy, 25 to 40 percent of the energy used for heating or cooling a home is wasted.

Fortunately, there's an easy answer. Get the air ducts cleaned by a member of the National Air Duct Cleaners Association (NADCA). They possess general liability insurance, are trained and tested, agree to a code of ethics, and clean and restore your heating and cooling system following NADCA standards, so they provide results with a high level of safety and security.

For more information, visit www.BreathingClean.com. You can also find a nearby NADCA member at nadca.com/en/prosearch/all and enter your zip code.

Poker Talk

The Key to Poker is Extracting Value

By Chad Holloway

You might think the goal of a poker hand is to win it. While that’s certainly true, it’s not that simple.

In a $1-$2 no-limit hold’em cash game, anyone can look down at pocket aces, move all in and swipe the $3 pot when everyone folds, but who wants to win a small pot? The real goal of poker is to win while also extracting the most value you can from a hand.

That’s easier said than done, and knowing when to go for value and how much is an art in itself. Many players struggle with it, myself included, and sometimes certain spots will leave you shaking your head. I recently played two hands that show knowing when and how to go for value isn’t as easy as knowing when to hold ‘em and when to fold ‘em.

The first hand took place in a big $5-$10 no-limit cash game when I looked down at 4c 4h and was one of three players to put in $30 preflop. The 4d 4s 9h flop gave me four of a kind, which was the stone-cold nuts.

Moving all in here was out of the question. I was sitting with around $1,000, and such a big bet would surely scare off my opponents. Even if one of them had a nine or even a bigger pocket pair, they would simply fold and wait for a better spot.

Instead, I checked, and an opponent bet $75. The third player folded, and I just called before checking again on the 9c turn. I checked once more, and my opponent bet $175. I decided to check-raise to $375, hoping my opponent had a nine, which seemed likely when he called.

On the Qd river, I opted to move all in for my last $450 or so, assuming my opponent had either a nine or big pocket pair and would call. What I didn’t realize was that he had complete air and had called my check-raise with the intention of bluffing the river. By moving all in, I took away that option, and he could only fold, meaning I lost out on the value.

In hindsight, I should have checked, as he would have either bluffed or moved all in if he did have a nine. I won the hand, but I made a mistake by betting.

In a smaller $0.50-$1 no-limit home game, I was in the big blind with Js 3h when action limped around to me, which meant I got to see the Jc Jh 6d flop for free.

Everyone checked, and the 6s paired the board on the turn, giving me a full house. I checked again, hoping another player would bet, but that didn’t happen before the 9s completed the board on the river.

I checked for a third time, expecting someone who paired the nine to bet. Instead it checked around, and one player showed 6c 8h for a worse full house. I couldn’t believe he didn’t bet. Had I bet for value, he undoubtedly would have called.

Like I said, knowing when and how to go for value is an art — one that I have yet to master.

Avoid These Mistakes to Improve Your Game

by Henry Tamburin

Do you want to improve your blackjack game? You can by avoiding these common mistakes made by blackjack players.

Playing 6-5 Games

Unfortunately, many casinos offer blackjack games where a player blackjack pays only 6-5 (instead of the traditional 3-2). This is a horrible game for players even when it’s offered on a single-deck game. Stay away from any blackjack game that doesn’t pay 3-2 for a blackjack. (If you are unsure what a blackjack pays, before you sit down and buy-in ask the dealer. If they say “6-5,” tell them adios.)

Playing with a Continuous Shuffling Machine (CSM)

A CSM is an automatic shuffling device used by many casinos. It’s different from the traditional automatic shufflers that have been in use for many years. With a CSM, the dealer takes the discards from each round (or several rounds) and puts them back into the CSM where they are randomly mixed with the rest of the cards (usually a CSM holds 4-5 decks). Every round with a CSM is like playing a round from a freshly shuffled deck of cards. Because there is no pause in the action for a dealer hand-shuffle, the casino can deal roughly 20% more hands per hour with a CSM. This increases a player’s exposure to the house edge and the average player’s theoretical hourly loss will correspondingly increase. Therefore, CSMs will put a hurt on your bankroll. Don’t play on tables that have them!

Using a Progressive Betting System

If I’ve said this once, I’ve said it a hundred times—progressive betting systems will not change your odds of winning one iota. Some of them are dangerous; others will have you betting more than you normally would and, therefore, your theoretical loss will increase. Whether or not your previous hand just won (or lost) has no bearing on whether your next hand will win (or lose). The only variable that affects your chances of winning in blackjack is the ratio of high cards to low cards in the un-played deck(s) of cards. Therefore, the only time it makes mathematical sense to increase your bets is when the un-played cards contains more high cards than low cards. Therefore, you should be watching the cards on the layout on each round. If you don’t see many picture cards or aces in the early rounds that would be a good time to increase your bets (or better yet, learn a simple card counting system like Speed Count).

Not Using Basic Strategy

Playing by hunches is the biggest mistake I see players make at blackjack. In this day and age, the correct basic playing strategy for blackjack is readily available in books and on the Internet. Why, you can even take a strategy card with you when you play. You’ll face a 1% or higher house edge if you play by hunches and only a half a percent house edge if you play by the basic strategy. Enough said.

Making Side Bets

Players can make numerous side bets while they play blackjack. Match Pair, Lucky Ladies, you name it, you’ll probably see it on the table the next time you play. All of these side best have one thing in common: the house edge is high. Sure, it only costs a buck to make one of these side bets, but those dollars you bet on every hand keep adding up, and unless you are very lucky, at the end of the day you’ll wind up a loser. Stay away from side bets!

Taking Your Bad Luck Out on Others

If you start losing, don’t take it out on the dealer or the player at third base. How they play their hands has no long-term effect on your chances of winning or losing (that’s a fact). So, stop the blame game and instead focus on how to play your hand correctly (and start watching the cards on the layout).

Drinking Too Much

Have you even seen a drunken player winning at blackjack? In thirty years of playing, I’ve seen just the opposite—players who drink too much when they play (after all the drinks are free) managing to lose all their money. You need a clear head when you play blackjack because you have to use your brain to make playing decisions. Moreover, drinking too many alcoholic beverages (just because they are free to players) will cloud your thinking process. Play first, drink later...that’s the best advice I can give you.
