

EXECUTIVE POWER -BY THE HOUR

Need a CEO, CFO or COO for a short or intermediate term engagement? Want to strengthen your Board of Directors or need guidance?

FarStar's team of former C-level executives can place decades of experience at your disposal.

Skills cover multinational, international, multi-site organizations with need for senior management oversight, private and public company board participation including committees, strategy, operations and supply chain improvement, financial management and accounting expertise.

Our senior consulting team have over 70 years of combined experience spanning a wide range of manufacturing industries including aerospace, defense, electronics, and industrial products. Other industries include distribution, services and biotechnology. The operating modes cover process, batch and discrete in MTS, ATO, MTO and ETO environments. We have real life experience with family-controlled businesses as well. Both are members in good standing of the Institute of Corporate Directors (www.icd.ca)

In other words, if you are a manufacturing or distribution company, we have you covered.
