Language Arts

Students in Kindergarten work on the development of fine motor skills, correct pencil grip, and constructing numbers and letters of the alphabet correctly. An online grammar curriculum is available to students in grade levels 2nd – 5th in which they diagram sentences to better understand the relationship of words to their correlating parts of speech. Shurley Grammar is also used as supplemental material. iPads are utilized in teaching D’nealian manuscript in K – 1st grade and cursive in 2nd – 3rd. Those skills are then applied in authentic writing assignments as students progress from writing simple sentences in early grades to paragraphs to papers. They will learn to write to persuade or make an argument, to inform, and to narrate or tell a story. In Communication, students are given ample opportunity to work on public speaking as they deliver recitations and make presentations to peers, parents, and audiences at events and functions.
