Synchronous vs. Asynchronous Examples

Liz Aburto (a fellow AVUTA member) shared this amazing presentation with me.

It has a lot of examples of each. She is also willing to do training on it; if members are interested after spring break. The training will be after school and you will not be paid for it, but I think it will be worth it to learn more strategies and apps to use for distance learning. Please click on the button below to answer the survey if you would be interested in attending the training. Click the red button for the pdf version of the presentation.
