November 2020 Newsletter www.WWIIRoundtable.com

Greetings to members and guests of the Roundtable:

Blessed Veterans Day to all. I hope and pray you all are able to reflect on what a wonderful country we have inherited from our forebears through the endless sacrifice of our veterans and their families with God's blessing. Don't let the day-to-day issues detract you from our many freedoms AND responsibilities as citizens. Thank a vet—especially if YOU are one too! Our last hybrid meeting went well and we had a REAL LIVE SPEAKER at the dinner that folks on their phones or on Zoom could enjoy as well. We maxed out the room at the Northside Events & Social Club (K of C) and now have learned we can have up to 6 attendees/table so can have 60. BUT, you MUST RSVP to Karl Kleinbub ASAP if you want to go; first RSVP, first confirmed; so you don't get locked out of the dinner program (if you want to be there in person). Remember: don't come if ill, or without your mask or exact dollars to pay for your meal/tips/drawing tickets. You MUST wear your mask unless actually eating or drinking! Be sure and become a member or renew either on the our website or mail in your check. See you on the 23rd! Dr. Holt

All attendees MUST wear a mask—except when seated and eating or drinking at a table. No wandering around without a mask! Our newsletter and webpage will also keep you informed of changes. INFORMATION DEADLINE FOR NEXT NEWSLETTER December 9TH Please send to editor, Kathryn Lerch: c/o klerch@parktudor.org See our newsletter's first page "bookmark" for future program dates in 2021.

Here's a preview of the December WWIIRT Dinner Program ...

Our Roundtable Board is hoping this will entice our members and guests to share some wonderful stories—start preparing now! if you were in the service at Christmas or Hanukkah, what memorable story would you have to share? Or, if you are a WWII veteran, please share one of your special stories from your time in the service. Please limit your talk to 3-5 minutes at the most. To get you thinking—this recent show on PBS, was all about sharing a story: How to return a portrait taken from a house in France during WWII—how this bit of repentance turned into a family pilgrimage back to Normandy. This is a great story!

THE SILENT SOLDIER AND THE PORTRAIT documents the story of one of the last living survivors of a major World War II military tragedy, and two secrets that he kept for decades. On Christmas Eve 1944, John Waller was a 19-year-old soldier on his way to join in the Battle of the Bulge. A German U-boat sunk his troop's ship, the S.S. Leopoldville. He revisits the location and reveals his secrets. I guarantee this will put a lump in your throat, and maybe a few tears as well! If you missed it, go to this link to watch the whole show: https://www.pbs.org/video/the-silent -soldier-and-the-portrait-bdndjl/

Stalin had a son, Yakov, who was murdered in a German POW camp. He had a daughter, Svetlana, who defected to the US.

Mussolini was executed by Italian Partisans at the entrance gate to the Villa Belmonte in the town of Mezzegra. Italy. Several years later a movie was made on Mussolini's life staring Rod Steiger. Steiger and a camera crew travelled to the Villa Belmonte and reenacted the execution for the camera on the exact spot where it actually occurred.

Svetlana defected to US in 1967 and she wrote this NYT bestseller

Steiger as Mussolini

- The US Office of War Information (OWi) reviewed movies to be produced during the war. They encouraged patriotic themes, warned of spy activities and often made suggestions and changes. The movie studios usually cooperated.
- Movie actor Charlie Chapman had a Japanese butler, Toraichi Kono, who was a Japanese spy. This was discovered in June 1941 and Kono was arrested.
- Soon after the Pearl Harbor attack, damage was done to the power lines leading from the Bonneville Dam. It was first believed that it was done by Japanese spies. A later examination, however, showed that it was done by cattle.

What is special about November?

What comes to mind first and foremost is Veteran's Day. Originally it was celebrated as Armistice Day—when at the eleventh hour on the eleventh day of November, 1918, the guns went silent on the Western Front. What is especially poignant about this day is that there were still casualties and deaths at 11:00 A.M. How painful it must have been to find out your son, father, or brother died needlessly!

Here is an excerpt written home that day by a personal friend of Pershing's, Colonel Clarke Stull Smith. Smith had also graduated from West Point as part of the "Spanish War Class" in 1898. He was in command of the 311th Engineers in the 86th Division. On the 11th he was situated comfortably in headquarters in Bordeaux. He wrote the following to his wife, Orian:

It has been a great day for France and its allies! One may say that day here commenced about noon with the ringing of the big bell in the old gate of the ancient wall. I knew a half an hour before that the armistice had been signed. At least it was understood that it had, although the official information had not yet come. . . . Then about noon the big bell sounded: the gate is not far from here and I found 16 gendarmes in brass helmets doing the ringing. There was a moderate crowd about and the bell was rung until almost a quarter to one. When it stopped everyone clapped and went away. Since then the enthusiasm has increased progressively with the hours until three in the afternoon. It was difficult to traverse the Alleé de Tourney, The L'Intendance or the Rue Ste. Catherine for the crowd. By that time the streets were ablaze with flags of France and the allies and the US and crowds were marching hither & there singing & yelling the Marsaillansie [sic] being the popular air. The children singing "Vive La France" "vive L'Amerique" were having a great time. No one I think scarcely appreciated at first what had occurred: it has gradually dawned on them. "C'est fini, la guerre!" that is the cry everywhere. As for me "Ah-a-a-a-a-a-h!" I give a sigh of relief as deep as the ocean at what appears to be the beginning of the end of this vast tragedy, this long sustained struggle and hope that the time will not be far distant when it will all be settled. My thoughts promptly turn towards home, to my wife & children whom I would love to see again. Well as I have said it has been a great day. . . . I cannot let the day pass without sending you this little note & my love to you & the children. Am well, Lovingly, Clark

"The Last Post" is often heard during commemorations such as Remembrance Day in Britain on November 11. Here the "Last Post" is played at the Menin Gate, a memorial in Belgium. https://www.bbc.com/news/magazine-34768398 "The sound of a lone bugler playing the Last Post has become one of the most distinctive sounds in the world. Eerie and evocative, it exists beyond all the usual barriers of nation, religion, race and class, charged with the memory of generations of the fallen." It has become a sacred anthem. https:// www.youtube.com/watch?v=Az7vnIf2nXs In the United States, "Taps" originated during the US Civil War and it evokes similar emotions. What are your Winter and 2021 Plans? How about additional intellectual and travel stimulation ?

Does the thought of cold weather bring a chill to your bones? Are you feeling "stuck" at home due to Covid and wish you could go somewhere exotic? Here is a "solution"! Perhaps you could travel virtually to a warmer climate—not Florida, but the South Pacific. To get in the mood first—I suggest you try out a series of songs from Roger & Hammerstein's South Pacific. [https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RwYvWF5j0a8] The New York stage production opened in 1949, followed by the London production in 1950 which starred Enzio Pinza and Mary Martin. My parents took me to see this production as a very young child—and, coincidentally, this was on our way to live in the Philippines in the South Pacific!

Some of our readers may remember a few notable songs from the musical: "Bali Ha'I", "Some Enchanted Evening", "I'm gonna wash that man right outa my hair", etc. The romanticized story was set in 1943 on a tropical island in the South Pacific (and it was also filmed later at the Hanalei Plantation on Kaui.) [photo on left: London Playbill and photo on right: Halderson in 1944 on Hollandia]

The Pacific Theater from 1941-1945 was certainly not like the setting in the musical! To find out much more about the war years in the Pacific, join histo-rian/author and WWII Round Table John Shively member for a series of informative and engaging GoTo webinar lectures this winter and next spring.

Why has John Shively devoted himself to study of the Pacific War? What is his connection to the Pacific? He shared the following reasons: "I became interested in the Pacific war in 2000 when I started interviewing my uncle who fought in the battle of Iwo Jima and which culminated in the book, The Last Lieutenant. My interest grew while interviewing ex-POWs who were in the Philippines, some of whom survived the Bataan Death March. While I was on a tour of the Philippines with Valor Tours in 2006 I met Blythe and her father, Malcolm Amos, a Death March survivor. We met at the Manila Hotel one morning before setting out to explore the battle fields and memorials. I interviewed Malcolm and fell in love with Blythe. The rest is history. Ex-POW and former Indiana governor, Ed Whitcomb was our Best Man when we got married in his house on the Ohio River in Southern Indiana. Five years later, when Ed was 95 years old, I was his Best Man and Blythe was their Matron on Honor. The interviews of ex-POWs eventually resulted in my second book, Profiles in Survival.

I have visited nearly every island battlefield in the Pacific and am now a battlefield tour guide with Valor Tours. I have guided tours to Okinawa, Tarawa, Pearl Harbor, and Guadalcanal. Next year I will add Midway and Samoa to my tour list as guide. I have had the privilege to give lectures on the Pacific war on three cruises to the Western Pacific over the past More information will be forthcoming on when & how to access these special free lectures. six years." Thank you, John!

tells a family's love story

They fell in love through their letters. Between 1941 and 1945, Bernard wrote a total of 246 handwritten letters to Selma. Writing daily to his childhood friend Selma from army college in Oklahoma, boot camps in Georgia and Texas, and the WWII front lines in France and Germany, a teenage Bernard's letters chronicled the young infantryman's experience during WWII. Their young love flourished amidst the background of Bernard's war experiences. "Fate is on our side" is a recurring theme as Bernard never faltered in his belief that he would safely return to Selma's arms. Proceeds from the sale of this book will be donated to the Ronald McDonald House at the Rood Family Pavilion in Portland, Oregon. A little closer to home, Park Tudor's Legacy Initiative Project is working on a similar book-we have digitized and transcribed love letters from a US Army field surgeon: "Dear Stellie". Dr. Powers landed in Normandy on D-Day and traveled across France, up to Belgium for Battle of the Bulge, then across the Rhine to Bavaria, Austria, Czechoslovakia, and finally home. His collection of more than 250 letters, one of his medical journals and numerous special photographs will make this an exceptional story. Please stay tuned! If you are looking for some special reading materials for family during the holidays, our Project has numerous different volumes of our Words of War anthologies which are available. See the order sheet at the end of this newsletter for more information. I can deliver at the December meeting or mail to you. Thanks for your support of our project, Kathryn

REVIEW OF ZOOM HOW-TO

If you are not familiar with Zoom, please take a few minutes to become comfortable with Zoom. Use the link below to read about how to get set up and how to use the Zoom system. It very easy and has great potential. It is a Zoom Tutorial.

https://support.zoom.us/hc/en-us/articles/201362033-Getting-Started-on-Windows-and-Mac#h 97174a74-246a-4e54-8e9c-22b55cd0b665

BE SURE YOU ARE MUTED ONCE YOU LOG ON! BACKGROUND NOISE AND TALK-ING CARRIES ACROSS MICROPHONES TO OUR SPEAKER

DOWNLOAD ZOOM: https://zoom.us/support/download

1. Sign in to your own Zoom account.

2. Once signed in select "New Meeting"

a. You can check your camera, microphone and settings. b. What you "see" is what others will see when you go to a meeting. c. Tips: provide lighting in front of you so that your image is viewable, not a dark silhouette.

d. Set you camera (laptop) pretty much level with your face. If you tilt the screen back the back ground ends up being your ceiling fan.

3. Once you are satisfied with your equipment and picture composition "Leave the Meeting". You are all set.

4. Once you have left the video page click on "Home" at the top line of options. Then click on "Settings" at the right corner icon is a gear wheel. Browse down through the options and make selections you want. I do recommend that you select "Allow HD video.

You will look real good in HD. There are features there that allow you to check out your video and audio systems.

1. Once you have signed up for a Zoom account you only need your email and the password you created to join any meeting provided you know the Meeting ID and the Meeting Password a. Use the Meeting ID and Meeting Password at the top of this memo and enter it on Zoom. b. The meeting that the Zoom host set up will be indicated in a dialogue box. If the Host (the meeting moderator) has not opened (started) the meeting the dialogue box will remain active. As soon as the Host opens the meeting you will be immediately entered. I suggest that everyone do this well before the start time of the meeting. 10-15 minutes is not too early.

2. Zoom protocols

a. Not everyone can speak at once. Well, they really can but it's bizarre and the system tries to highlight (yellow border around their image) who is speaking. Normally, the moderator will mute everyone then ask the next speaker to unmute. The mute icon is a microphone at the bottom left corner. Moving the cursor to that area turns the selection bar on.

b. There is a "Chat" icon at the bottom middle of your screen. If you click on it everyone attending the meeting is listed. You can select their name and send them a chat text message while the meeting is going on. You can also send "Everyone" a text message. Response back to you will be indicated by a number in the chat icon

c. If you need to step away from the meeting to get a cup of coffee, kiss the wife or let the dog out you can "Stop Video" at the lower left of your screen. If you have entered a picture of yourself in your Zoom account profile that image will appear. When you return to the meeting click Start Video and your camera's image will come back on-line. 3.
