Tuition Assistance for Student Athletes Nationwide!

The non-profit organization, Gifted Too, Incorporated (GTI), has recently launched its debut website, www.MartialArtsScholarships.org, and the word is getting around! GTI offers tuition assistance and various programs that provide physical fitness, academic enhancement, and nutrition education services to youth involved in all types of martial arts, amateur boxing, wrestling, and similar sports.

Originally started in Southern California in 2009, GTI and its main subsidiary, the Fundamentals of Martial Arts Scholarship Program (FMASP) are currently recruiting students nationwide to receive scholarships and financial assistance. GTI programs are free of charge to students who can show financial hardships or low income in their homes. Students are chosen because of financial need. Academic success is not a pre-requisite. However, students are required to bring their grades up (if below average), and maintain at least a "C" average or higher while participating in GTI scholarship programs.

For more information about our programs and how you can receive GTI student financial assistance in your city or community, or to find out how you can help, please visit our website or call (323) 617-5433. You may also email inquiries to: info@giftedtooinc.org

Help dedicated students across America to stay fit, excel academically, learn more about nutrition, and improve their everyday lives through martial arts (all types), amateur boxing, and other sports.
