Understanding the Random Number Generator

People are always talking about the RNG when they talk about slot machines. The Random Number Generator (RNG) is the brains of the slot machine. While most players know that there is a computer chip picking the numbers, they do not fully understand how it works and this can lead to some of the many myths and misconceptions about a slot machine. One of the most common myths is that a machine has a cycle that can let a player know when it is due to hit. Many “Snake Oil Salesmen” will try to sell you a system for doing just that. Save your money — it can't be done.

The RNG program

Inside the slot machine is a micro-processor similar to the one in your home computer. Instead of running Word or Excel, it runs a special program, the RNG, that generates numbers to correspond to the symbols on the reel of the slot machine.

You might say that the RNG is in perpetual motion. As long as there is power to the machine it is constantly selecting random numbers every millisecond. The RNG generates a value between 0 and 4 billion (approximate number) which is then translated into a specific set of numbers to correspond to the symbols on the reels. The outcome of each spin is determined by the number selected by the RNG. This number is chosen when you hit the spin button or deposit a coin.

The RNG uses a formula known as an algorithm which is a series of instructions for generating the numbers. The scope of this is beyond most of our mathematical knowledge but can be checked for accuracy. This is done by the Casino Control Board and other testing laboratories to make sure that the program performs as it should so the player will not be cheated.

Principles of the Random Number Generator

Here is a more simplified explanation that's easier to relate to. Although this is not precisely how the RNG operates, it should give you a basic understanding of the principles of how the winning spins are determined.

Reel type slot machines have a number of spaces on each reel that contain a symbol or blank. These are referred to as the physical stops. Modern slots have reels with 22 physical stops. For our purposes, let's imagine that there are only 10 stops on each reel. With 10 stops there can be 1,000 different combinations. We get this number by multiplying the number of symbols on each reel. ($10 \times 10 \times 10 = 1,000$.) The 1,000 combinations that can be attained are known as a cycle, and this is the word that sometimes confuses a player into thinking that the machine has cycles of winning and losing.

The odds of a three-number combination being picked are one in a thousand. Theoretically, if you play 1,000 spins you should see each of these number combinations once. However, we all know that this is not the case. If you played a million spins you would see that the numbers would even out to be closer to the actual probability. This is similar to flipping a coin 100 times. Although the odds are 50-50 you are unlikely to see 50 heads and 50 tails after 100 flips.

Author talk

In 1962, at age thirty, Edward O. Thorp published “Beat the Dealer,” the book that launched tens of thousands of card-counting careers. While he was a professor of mathematics at New Mexico State and UC Irvine, he used his familiarity with probability and statistics to discover and exploit pricing anomalies in securities markets, set up his first hedge fund, and was on his way to making a fortune. Today, Thorp is 91 and lives in Laguna Beach and in a rare interview on Bloomberg.com, he “shares what he's learned about exercise, diet, and managing risk in all areas of life.” The article is well worth the 10-minute read.

Banned for life

The National Basketball Association has banned 24-year-old Toronto Raptors' center Jontay Porter after an investigation determined that he gambled on NBA games, which included betting on the Raptors to lose, disclosed confidential information to sports bettors, and influenced the outcome of a player proposition on himself. The investigation was launched after unnamed “licensed sports betting operators and an organization that monitors legal betting markets” flagged “unusual gambling patterns” based on Porter's play, or lack thereof, in a game on March 20 against the Sacramento Kings. NBA Commissioner Adam Silver called Porter's actions “a cardinal sin” and banned him from the game for life.

Brightline breaks ground in Vegas

Brightline West, the high-speed train between southern California and Las Vegas that's been 25 years in the making and no one ever thought would come to fruition, was set to finally break ground in a major ceremony in south Vegas in late April. At press time, Secretary of the U.S. Department of Transportation Pete Buttigieg, among a number of other federal, state, and local dignitaries and the founder and chairman of Brightline were set to attend the groundbreaking at the site of the train station, just off Las Vegas Blvd. and Warm Springs. Construction is expected to take four years, with a projected completion date of 2028 in time for the L.A. Summer Olympics, and the trip is expected to take two hours on trains traveling at up to 200 mph.

Booze ban at Bingo

A group of pensioners in the Netherlands who had been deprived of their bingo afternoon because of gambling and alcohol regulations have found a way around the ban. The pensioners, who gather every month at community center The Klarinet in Soest were unhappy the council has issued a bingo ban because alcohol is served at the same venue. "It's not as if everybody is on the booze during the bingo. People have the occasional glass of wine, that's all," organizer Petra Schouten told the local paper. No cafes or community centers where alcohol is served are allowed to host gambling events, which bingo is considered to be, even if the event itself is teetotal. For many elderly people bingo afternoons are the only outing they have, Schouten said. "What are they supposed to do, sit behind the geraniums?" she said, referring to the Dutch shorthand for bored and lonely elderly. The group have now found a way around the ban by shouting "geranium!" instead of 'Bingo!' when getting a full card to foil inspectors. "The rules have been changed a bit but it's sort of the same game but it's the message that counts," the organizers said. "We just want this group to continue to meet up and we won't give that up." Local mayor Rob Metz says he is now going to raise the issue with government officials.

illegal without a license (non-licensed games can offer non-cash prizes and gift cards). "We just want to make sure that businesses don't infringe upon the licensed games that have to jump through hoops," said Rockey. Bingo is not being banned in bars, but the association is pushing people to play in a way that does not go against state laws.

Some Brits seek ban of classic call

The phrase "two fat ladies" has historically been called in the UK to describe the number 88, but a new poll conducted by the betting site Paddy Power Bingo has found Brits find it outdated. One in four of the 2,000 people polled wanted it scrapped. A spokesman said that Generation Z feel quite strongly the phrase is past its sell-by-date, and that opinion is shared to a lesser extent across the generations. Other classic bingo calls include "pick and mix" for 26, "Winnie the Pooh" for 42 and "bang on the drum" for 71.

... The Aztec death whistle produces a horrifying sound sometimes described as "the scream of a thousand corpses."

... There's a territory in Costa Rica called Territorio de Zaguates, or Land of the Strays, which is basically a huge, no-kill dog shelter where one can hike for free with the canines.

... And while we're on the subject of dogs: "Dogfooding" is the term for using a company's product to gain the trust of customers. It's said a dog food company president ate a can of the firm's food in a shareholders meeting to demonstrate that "if it's good for me, it's good for your dog." We'll take his word for it, thank you.

... The fertilizer used by the tobacco industry is radioactive.

... In 1970, actor Bill Murray joked to a fellow airline passenger that he had two bombs in his bag. The jest backfired when U.S. marshals searched his luggage, discovered $20,000 worth of marijuana, and arrested him.

Old law enforced again

A rule is now being enforced by the Nebraska Gaming Commission on how bingo is being played. Playing traditional bingo for cash prizes without a license has been prohibited since 1978, but it is just now being enforced after the gaming association learned just how many businesses were unaware of the Bingo rules. "Something I've been doing for seven years, and they bring it to my attention now, I think it's a ridiculous thing," said Harry Watson, owner of Grata Bar & Lounge. They will no longer be hosting their Wednesday night bingo after finding out their use of the traditional ball draw machine is against the law. Brian Rockey, Director of Nebraska Lottery, explained that to run a bingo with a traditional ball selection machine is against the law without a license, and that only non-profit organizations can obtain licenses. Making money off the game and offering cash prizes is also

Horoscopes for June 2024

ARIES (MAR 21-APR 20): This month's vibe shifts between feeling energetic and languid. You're attempting to push and pull at the same time. This toggling can wear down your battery. Here's some advice from the author Carl Rogers: "The curious paradox is that when I accept myself just as I am, then I can change."
Lucky Days: 4 - 28
Lucky Numbers: 5 - 19

TAURUS (APR 21-MAY 21): Mars's movement through your sign redefines the term rockin' and rollin'. Your life has become a mixture of breakdown and breakthrough. Relief arrives during the full Moon on June 21. Suddenly, you see clearly how all the puzzle pieces fit. One chapter closes as a new one arrives.
Lucky Days: 4 - 11
Lucky Numbers: 24 - 34

GEMINI (MAY 22-JUN 21): With Jupiter traversing your sign for the next year, you have a cosmic opportunity to showcase all your skill sets. Now is the time to establish what you want to achieve by the end of the year and then stick to the plan. Momentum and optimism are on your side.
Lucky Days: 20 - 24
Lucky Numbers: 8 - 18

CANCER (JUN 22-JUL 22): The full Moon this month, on the 21st, finds you reconsidering the different facets of key relationships. But it's the new people you're meeting now who will make you wonder the most. Consider Maya Angelou's advice: "When someone shows you who they are, believe them the first time."

Lucky Days: 2 - 30
Lucky Numbers: 4 - 39

LEO (JUL 23-AUG 23): This is an excellent month to rekindle your daring spirit and test your courage and focus. Sometimes, obstacles or setbacks are necessary in life. External hurdles allow us to see where we need to refine our knowledge. Depending on the subject, you might need to consult with teachers who can assist you in fine-tuning your aim.
Lucky Days: 2 - 16
Lucky Numbers: 29 - 48

VIRGO (AUG 24-SEP 23): What if you used other words to describe low energy or depression? Don't be trapped by language. Experiment with other ways of defining your reality. Be at peace with yourself. As Virginia Woolf once wrote: "No need to hurry. No need to sparkle. No need to be anybody but oneself."
Lucky Days: 16 - 19
Lucky Numbers: 3 - 33

LIBRA (SEP 24-OCT 23): Your ability to see the future as bigger and better is at a peak this month. Use your discretionary skill to counter any inflationary fancies that might drain your bank account. Yes, you're feeling lucky now, but you also want to maintain your quality of life by acting soundly.
Lucky Days: 4 - 18
Lucky Numbers: 44 - 56

SCORPIO (OCT 24-NOV 22): Passions are running high in June. You're eager to explore new potentials and promises. If you aren't in a committed relationship, this is a great month to mingle and meet a potential mate. You operate best when partnerships and intimate exchanges with others stimulate your emotions.
Lucky Days: 1 - 3
Lucky Numbers: 9 - 42

SAGITTARIUS (NOV 23-DEC 21): Discovering new approaches is like prospecting for gold. If you look in familiar places, you'll find that you've already exhausted that source. Decide to venture off the beaten path this month, increasing your chances of discovering new insights and solutions to existing quandaries.

Lucky Days: 7 - 10
Lucky Numbers: 32 - 59

CAPRICORN (DEC 22-JAN 20): If you feel trapped by an existing situation, see if you can reframe or rename what's happening around you. Language can be illuminating. It can also be limiting if we react automatically to whatever impression a word or definition generates. Different words can create different assumptions.
Lucky Days: 8 - 11
Lucky Numbers: 4 - 35

AQUARIUS (JAN 21-FEB 19): The poet T.S. Eliot wrote: "The end is where we start from." Take this to heart as you prepare for a long process of disassembling the past. Retain only what is absolutely necessary to commence in a new direction. Old goals won't serve you now—see the world around you with new eyes.
Lucky Days: 11 - 51
Lucky Numbers: 8 - 29

PISCES (FEB 20-MAR 20): You're at a crossroads right now but taking only one path over the other isn't going to work. This means you'll benefit by living your life right now as if you had a twin. There is your day world and your night world. How will both of these points of view come to co-exist? That's your riddle for June.
Lucky Days: 2 - 18
Lucky Numbers: 7 - 17

Fruit soup: Simple and fresh

Dear Annie,

We were on a cruise recently and they served a cold soup made with fresh fruit. Do you have any recipes for this sort of soup? —Julie P., The Villages, Florida

Dear Julie,

Here's a great recipe for a Cantaloupe and Mango Soup. (Do not serve to children as it contains wine.) This soup serves the same purpose as a sorbet—it cleanses your palette in between courses. Enjoy! —Annie

CANTALOUPE AND MANGO SOUP
2 cups cantaloupe, peeled, seeded and chopped
3 mangoes, peeled, pitted and chopped
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
½ cup dry white wine
½ cup plain yogurt
2 tablespoons confectioners ten-x sugar
mint leaves

Using a blender, puree all the ingredients except for the mint leaves. Chill for at least 3 hours. When ready to serve, stir, pour into small bowls (I use ramekins), garnish with the mint leaves and serve. Serves 4 to 6.

Veterans Post

Stolen valor, stolen benefits

How, one wonders, does something like this happen? How does a civilian collect $146,000 in VA benefits for allegedly having been wounded and held a prisoner of war in Iraq when he's never even served in the military?

The story: A civilian has been charged with taking education, health and disability benefits after he claimed to be a Marine who was wounded in combat and held as a prisoner of war in Iraq. He claimed to have been wounded in an IED (improvised explosive device) attack and was then captured. He claimed he'd been awarded the Purple Heart, Prisoner of War medal and several others.

To apply for all those benefits and cash, he would have needed a DD214 as well as other paperwork. To keep from delaying the handing out of benefits and cash, the VA lets veterans use their own documents when they submit applications.

Sometimes people lie and turn in fake documents. Over time he turned in a pile of those fake documents, including the DD214 and certificates for his stack of alleged medals.

But that's where this criminal's story should have fallen apart. I can see accepting a veteran's initial documents to get him started on the benefits, but to let the fraud go on for five long years? Surely someone could have looked up the details to verify the Purple Heart and prisoner of war status? Did no one bother to check to see if he'd even been in the military?

Eventually the criminal got greedy and applied for educational benefits on top of the cash he received each month for his alleged physical injuries, receiving monthly subsistence payments and payments to the university.

If that wasn't enough, he then applied for an increase in the disability payments.

How is it no one spotted this fraud long ago?

Check your insurance: If you have private health insurance or a Medicare Advantage plan through an HMO or PPO that covers in-network doctors only, check your plan to find out what's covered if you need medical care when traveling outside your geographic area.

Beneficiaries that have original Medicare are covered everywhere in the U.S. But if you're traveling abroad, you won't be covered outside the U.S. and its territories except in rare circumstances. Most private health plans don't pay health care costs outside the U.S. either. Be sure to check.

Many retirees traveling abroad choose to purchase travel insurance with medical coverage, which may cover expenses if you cancel the trip, need to be treated while traveling or need to be evacuated for medical care. Make sure the policy will also cover your preexisting medical conditions. To shop and compare policies visit TravelInsurance.com, InsureMyTrip.com or SquareMouth.com.

Organize your medications: Make sure you have a sufficient supply of medications to last the entire trip.

If traveling by air, you need to pack your medicine in your carry-on bag, so if your checked luggage gets lost or misdirected you won't be without. It's best to keep your medications in their original containers to get through airport security without delays. It's also a good idea to bring along a note from your doctor that explains why you take these medications, especially if syringes or other medical supplies are involved.

For airport security requirements visit TSA.gov — click on "Disabilities and Medical Conditions." You can also call TSA Cares at 855-787-2227 prior to traveling with questions about screening policies, procedures and what to expect at the security checkpoint.

Maximize technology: Keep a list of your medications and other important health and medical information handy on your smartphone so you can easily access and share it with emergency health care providers when you're traveling. Some good apps that can help with this are Backpack Health (BackpackHealth.com) and Capzule (Capzule.com).

How to find volunteers

Hi Guy,

We're having trouble with recruiting volunteers for Bingo and wondered if you had any ideas. The Bingo is sponsored by a high school PTA and generates money for various student/school activities. — Vince L., via email

Hi Vince,

If you are a PTA, I would assume that the volunteer workers you currently have are parents and teachers. If you are looking to expand your volunteer workforce beyond that, I have several suggestions.

First off: grandparents and students (if state law allows). Grandparents who are retired may have the extra time and interest in getting involved with your Bingo. It would be a real incentive for them to know that they are enhancing their grandchildren's education and life experience. As far as tapping the students, I think this is a no-brainer. Parents invest so much time and energy in raising their kids that I think sometimes they become blind to opportunities for their kids to do something for themselves.

Unrelated retired folks may also be looking for ways to be of service, so be sure to check in at your local senior center.

Reach out to social and professional clubs, campus-based sororities and fraternities, membership groups, and community groups. All of these can be excellent volunteer resources.

There are also sites online, like VolunteerMatch.com, that could prove useful, and resources to help you to retain the volunteers you do have.

Finally, the players themselves. If you let them know that your operation needs volunteers to keep the game alive, perhaps a few would like to step up on occasion and help out.

The bottom line is, charity bingo needs volunteers to survive, so finding them, and keeping them should be a top priority for everyone who loves the game. — Guy

Health-related travel tips

Dear Savvy,

What tips can you offer retirees with health issues who are planning some trips? We've been looking forward to traveling again after staying home the past few years, but my husband has a heart condition and some back problems that worry me. — Concerned Wife

Dear Concerned,

A dream vacation can turn into a real nightmare if you get ill or injured while you're away and aren't prepared. Before setting out, here are some tips to help ensure a safe and healthy trip for you and your husband.

Get prepared: Before you go, talk with your doctor about your travel itinerary and what precautions you need to take before traveling. You should also have your doctor's contact information with you when you travel, as well as a list of the medications you're taking in case you need emergency medical care while you're away.

It's also a smart idea to locate health clinics or urgent care facilities near the areas you're visiting. Your hotel can help you with this or a simple internet search can identify nearby health care services. If you're traveling abroad, the U.S. consulate or embassy in the countries you're visiting (go to step.state.gov to enroll your trip) is a good place to get a referral. Or use the International Society of Travel Medicine's directory at ISTM.org.

If you're traveling outside the U.S., you also need to find out the health conditions of the country you're visiting and what, if any, vaccinations and/or preventative medications are recommended. See CDC.gov/travel or call 800-232-4636 to get this information.

Dear Aunt Bingo

by Bonnie Mitchell

Cracked balls cause chaos

Dear Aunt Bingo,

There was a big blowup today at Bingo when two games into the second session a player near the caller noticed a cracked Bingo ball in the blower. They stopped the machine and emptied it and found not one, but three, cracked balls. Two of them were split so badly that there was barely a speck of plastic holding the pieces together.

The Bingo operator was very apologetic, but most of the players weren't interested in her apologies...we were all too busy searching for our Bingo paper from the first session. It was total chaos as people dumped out the used Bingo paper from the trash bags and began digging through for sheets with matching serial numbers. Then players began checking to see if the damaged balls had been called.

As you'd expect, one of the balls, O-71, never came up. Everyone who had an O-71 on their sheets (and there were a LOT of us) were quite upset.

The people running the Bingo offered a partial refund, which some players liked but others rejected. They said they couldn't give full refunds to everyone because they'd already paid out prize money—which the winners made clear they were not going to give back. There were a number of other suggestions, but no one could agree on anything.

Finally, after at least a half an hour of all this, a group of players said they were sick of waiting and demanded their money back, and that if they didn't get it they were calling the police! More players joined them and finally the manager—who looked so stressed I began worrying about her health—gave in, ended the games, and agreed to refund everyone's money (except for the winners, of course!)

It must have taken at least another hour (probably more!) before all the players' paper was verified and we got our money back. You never saw a more miserable group of people in your life—players and workers alike. — Anna C., via email

Dear Anna,

What a nightmare! Your story describes a "perfect storm" of unfortunate circumstances, resulting in a terrible day at Bingo for everyone involved. Such a shame. I am not sure what the specific rules are regarding examining the Bingo balls before the start of the games, but clearly someone at that hall failed to do so...miserably.

Someone has to put all the balls in the tray to confirm there is a complete set before releasing them into the chamber. That means that each ball was handled individually by someone, and that someone failed to notice that three of them were severely damaged. Not good.

It strikes me that the Bingo operator really had no choice but to call an end to the games and refund everyone's money. Legally, I assume they couldn't add sessions or start from scratch with all new paper and Bingo balls. (Would they even have other Bingo balls to substitute?) Plus, doing that would result in the loss of even more money.

My sincere hope is that players will see this as an unfortunate accident and will not punish this Bingo by boycotting it in the future. My heart also goes out to the Bingo workers who volunteered to be there and did not sign on for such drama. Let's hope they return as well and help keep the games going, but with stricter protocols for sure. — Aunt Bingo

• It's tough to eat home-cooked meals as a single eater. Most recipes are geared for multiple portions, and you probably don't want to eat the same thing for five days straight. Try this: Get together with some friends and have a potluck. Each guest brings an entree and at least two side dishes, in extra-large portions, and his or her own leftovers containers. Split the food up amongst the guests, packaged as meals.

• "Leftover dry erase calendars make good bingo card bases. Cut out a five by five section, and use a permanent marker to fill the squares with small random numbers. Make matching call cards from the unused squares. Place the call cards in a sandwich baggie and the rest in a larger plastic bag. Include a couple dry erase markers, and you have a set that can be used anywhere (ours is in the car) over and over again." — E.W. and S.D. in Oregon

DEAR PAWS: I adopted a sweet but somewhat rambunctious little mutt, "Karla," who is about 13 months old. The problem is that she wants to jump and bark at other dogs when we're out for a walk. How can I calm her down? — Jen in Duluth, Georgia

DEAR JEN: Reactivity is natural behavior for a puppy that loves to play with other dogs, but of course, it's not desirable behavior. Jumping and barking can trigger an aggressive response from some dogs, or stress out other dogs. It can scare humans.

Fortunately, it's a behavior that you can moderate with a specific, daily training regime to stay calm on the leash.

First, gather your tools: A sturdy leash that is about 5 feet long (no retractable leashes allowed), a harness and a pocketful of Karla's favorite treats, cut into tiny pieces. I recommend the harness over a collar because it allows you to strongly control Karla if she starts jumping, without risking an injury to her throat.

Next, teach and reinforce three crucial commands: sit, stay and heel. From the moment you put on Karla's harness and leash, to when you take them off at the end of the walk, she needs to follow your commands. During the walk, she should remain next to you, with a little slack in the leash. If she starts to tug ahead, stop, command her to sit and, once she sits, start off again, giving the command "heel."

Keep the training positive, and remember that it will take time and consistency.

Understanding poker hand ranges

When watching world-class poker players in action, it often seems like they “know” what their opponents have, as if they have x-ray vision. While many people presume this is some unnatural gift they were lucky enough to be blessed with, in reality, they understand how hand ranges interact with each other.

Unless your opponent is especially bad at poker, you should strive to put them on a range of hands and then narrow that range as play progresses based on their actions. Do not put them on one specific hand and trust that guess all the way to the river. For example, when someone raises before the flop, they could have AxAx, 6x6x or KxJx. As long as they play these hands in the same manner, you have no way of knowing which one they have.

One of the biggest errors novice players make is to put their opponent on exactly one hand, because in reality, their opponent would play many hands in the same manner.

Suppose a tight, straightforward player raises from early position to $25 out of his $500 stack in a $2/$5 cash game. You can immediately narrow the opponent's range to roughly 6-6+, A-10s+, A-Jo+, K-Js+, K-Qo, Q-Js, and J-10s. You can presume your opponent will play all these hands in the same manner. That said, perhaps your opponent uses a strategy that also involves limping, resulting in some hands being raised and others being limped, but either way, their raising range will consist of the best preflop hands.

Suppose only you call for $20 more from the big blind. The flop comes 9s7s6c. You check and your opponent bets $30 into the $52 pot. Let's presume your opponent makes the typical mistake of continuation-betting with every hand in their range. If that is the case, your marginal made hands, such as Kh6h and Ax8x have plenty of equity to justify calling, so you call.

Then say the turn is the 5h. This is an excellent spot to lead into your opponent with your best hands as well as your draws and made hands that are unlikely to be ahead at the moment because you have far more premium hands (i.e. straights) in your range than your opponent. If your opponent will fold all hands worse than three-of-a-kind, they will fold almost everything except 9-9, 8-8, 7-7, and 6-6. Even if your opponent will continue with an overpair, they will still fold roughly 64% of their range, making a lead extremely profitable. Always be sure to consider how both players' ranges interact with the board and then play accordingly.

Dive-In Movies return

The Cosmopolitan has announced this summer's schedule for its annual “Dive-In Movie” night on Mondays, running through September 9. This is a great way to check out Cosmo's third-floor pool deck and catch a flick at the same time, especially on a hot summer night in the water. The doors open at 7 p.m., the movie starts at 8, and it's absolutely free if you have an Identity players card; otherwise, it's $15, $10 for locals. You can also reserve cabanas and daybeds, though lounge seating is free and first-come first-served. Reservations can be made online. If you're there for Labor Day weekend, seeing The Hangover on September 2 would be appropriate.

PopStroke Mini Golf Opens

PopStroke Mini Golf's 14th location in five states opened recently on Las Vegas Blvd. across the Strip from Town Square just south of Mandalay Bay. The two 18-hole mini-golf courses each take 45-60 minutes to complete, depending on your number of players. The putter and TaylorMade golf balls are included in the day-pass price: $24 kids 3-12, $32 seniors, $40 adults; hours are 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily. The full-service restaurant opens at 11 a.m. and serves a breakfast burrito ($8), tenders ($12), wings ($15), burgers, sandwiches, and wraps ($14-$16), tacos ($16-$18), and salads ($16-$21). There's also an ice cream parlor, playground, Jumbotrons, and more.

Two Vegas bars honored

Tales of the Cocktail Foundation, a non-profit platform that “accelerates the growth of the spirits industry through forward-thinking partnerships and mentorship programs,” also sponsors a global cocktail competition and presents annual Spirited Awards, which recognize beverage professionals, products, establishments, and media throughout the world. Among the 11-state U.S. West regional top-10 honorees for 2024 are the Ski Lodge at Superfrico at the Cosmopolitan, winning a nod as one of the Best U.S. Hotel Bars. This is a hidden bar behind one of the many doors you confront as you enter Superfrico; a classic apres-ski-themed establishment, it's about as far away from the center Strip as you can be. Cleaver restaurant at 3900 Paradise Road received a Best U.S. Restaurant Bar award. Serving steak, seafood, and classic cocktails, Cleaver is a sister restaurant to Herbs & Rye, owned by famed bartender and restaurateur Nectaly Mendoza, that opened in 2022.

Weekly summer fireworks

The Plaza, known for its New Year's Eve and July 4th fireworks, is upping the ante with a weekly pyrotechnic display that runs through the summer. Citing downtown's party atmosphere and inspired by the long tradition at Disneyland, the “several minutes” worth of fireworks will take place at 9:15 every Friday between May 24 (Memorial Day weekend) and August 30 (Labor Day weekend).
