

Annie Lou W. Sibley

Annie Lou Wallace Sibley, 89, of Oil City died Wednesday in Oil City after a brief illness.

Mrs. Sibley was a native of Van, Ark., and had lived in Oil City 40 years. She was a member of Oil City Methodist Church.

The funeral will be at 3 p.m. Friday in the Oil City Methodist Church. The Rev. Dan Grove, pastor of Mooringsport Methodist Church, and H.A. McFarlin, pastor of the United Pentecostal Church of Oil City, will officiate. Burial will be in Lakeview Memorial Cemetery of Oil City.

Mrs. Sibley's survivors include her husband, George M. Sibley; seven sons, Vee L. Sibley of San Marcos, Texas, George C. Sibley of Memphis, Tenn., Harvey N. Sibley of Jacksonville, Texas, Herman T. Sibley of Pasadena, Texas, William T. Sibley of Phoenix, Ariz., Johnny G. Sibley of Monroe and Robert C. Sibley of Oil City; two daughters, Vivian L. Fruge of Shreveport and Ina M. Jamar of Blanchard; 27 grandchildren, 41 great-grandchildren and six great-great-grandchildren.