

President's Message

By Brandi Lynn Nieto

This month will bring lots of changes to the Weld County Bar Association and how we communicate with our members.

Our website has been redesigned thanks to Bibi Thomas and Lisa D. Harbour-Weibel and you can view it here. Our new website is going to provide you with information about the Weld County Bar, including contact information for our board, the board's bylaws, finances and history of not just the Weld Bar but of the Weld County Courts as well. There will be a WCBA Community section that includes news, attorney recognition profiles, this message, and information about mentoring. You will be able to access any upcoming WCBA Events from the new website including the Annual Dinner, Law Day, CLE Lunch & Learn events, Mock Trial and Nuts & Bolts information. There will also be a list of resources on the website to include links to the Courts, other Bar Associations, E-Filing Systems and links to local, state and federal law.

Also debuting with our newly designed website will be our new e-newsletter, which as of yet is unnamed, but I'll get to that in a minute. If you are reading this message, you've seen our new e-newsletter. We want to continue to be able to communicate with you, the members, but we want to do so in a more streamlined and simplified fashion. No more flipping through the same pages, month after month to find new announcements, news, etc. Now, you get to decide what you want to read. Our new e-newsletter will contain links to articles and resources and the WCBA website.

The first order of business is to find a name for the new e-newsletter and we are taking suggestions. In fact, we are having a contest. A contest with a prize! I can't tell you what the prize is because I haven't purchased it yet, but I'm sure it'll be awesome! What do you think we should call our new e-newsletter? Do you have something clever, funny or witty that you'd like to suggest. We will take entries until 4:00 p.m. on Wednesday, September 25, 2013. Please submit your entry to me at Brandilynn.Nieto@Greeleygov.com. May the most clever, funny or witty person win. Good luck!
