A Friday Morning Prayer

O Lord, our Lord, how excellent is your name in all the earth! You have set your glory in the heavens...When I consider the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars, which you have set in place...what are we that you are mindful of us...O Lord our Lord how excellent is your name!

And so we rise this morning O Lord, recognizing your grace, thanking you for your love, living because of your mercy. O God you protected us last night, you have provided for us this morning and given us purpose for this brand new day, O Lord how excellent is your name.

Now O God in the name of your Son and our Savior Jesus, we seek your face this day to make the impossible possible and the difficult doable. Loving Lord, this Friday bring compassion and cooperation to our community, scholarship and serenity to our schools, joy and geniality to our jobs, justice and equality to our government and hope and happiness to our homes. O Lord our Lord, this day turn tragedies into triumphs, disappointments into destinies, turn sickness into satisfaction and problems into possibilities. O Lord our Lord on this Friday we proceed this morning with praise on our lips, hope in our hearts, faith in our steps and Jesus on our minds, O Lord our Lord how excellent is your name!

Peace and blessings,
