

KATEY AUGSBERGER BIO

Katey grew up on the Central Coast, and has been riding horses all her life. She competed in multiple disciplines as a child, from gymkhanas to hunter jumpers to gathering cattle on local ranches and drill teams. She became very specialized in dressage and young horses in 2003, and has been running her training business, Four Corners Dressage since then. She has been the assistant trainer to Gold medalist and local author Ellen Eckstein for ten years. Katey is also a Bronze and Silver medalist and has qualified for countless Championship shows on many different horses. In 2013 she and an Arabian gelding she brought up through PSG won the USEF National FEI Arabian Horse of the Year. In 2014 she and Swedish mare, Sirella were selected for the West Coast Young Horse Training Symposium with Scott Hassler and successfully competed in the FEI Six year old classes. She has trained with extraordinary horseman Dave Hillman on starting and bringing along young horses, and ridden in clinics with USEF team coaches.

Katey owns four of her own horses:

A very special fourteen year old Holsteiner mare named Romani Rei (out of Carnaby Crescendo x Accord) who is getting ready to compete at PSG and occasionally gathers cattle and ropes too!

A four year old Hanoverian stallion named Devon's Eclipse (out of Devon Heir x WeltClasse/Kalypso) that she bred, raised and started who will be competing this year.

A four year old Hanoverian mare named Daiya (also out of Devon Heir x WeltClasse/Saloniki) that she also bred, raised and started and will also be competing this year

And a 12 year old BLM mustang John Henry that she trail rides and gathers cattle.

In her spare time, Katey enjoys agility with her dog, spending time at the beach and hiking.
