

Corky Baron

I started creating art later in my life. My mixed media creations are made from found woods, recycled metals, and dried plants. I create as I work, without a plan in mind. Native American and African influences, such as colors, shapes and lines are reflected in my creations.

