

Capital City Bank Group Foundation Announces Grants

Nina Craven and Carol McKinney of Grace Ministry of Florida, Inc. are presented a CCBG Foundation grant by Capital City Bank Community Banker Kurt Richardson and Capital City Bank Market Leader Shelly Irvin.

Once a year, the Capital City Bank Group (CCBG) Foundation donates funds to charitable organizations in the communities it serves. During the 2014 grant cycle, the CCBG Foundation reinvested $17,000 into the Suwannee Valley communities by way of grants awarded to organizations like College of Central Florida Foundation, Dixie Education Foundation, Inc., ForVets, Inc., Grace Ministry of Florida, Inc., Levy County Schools Foundation, Suwannee Foundation for Excellence in Education, Inc., The Education Foundation of Gilchrist County, Inc., Tri County Outreach and Unity Family Community Center, Inc. The grants provided by the CCBG Foundation help these organizations and others like them to fulfill their missions and enhance the lives of thousands of local citizens.

"We are grateful to be in a position to help organizations make an impact in our communities," said Clif Bradley, Capital City Bank president of the Suwannee Valley area. "Community involvement has always been a hallmark of Capital City Bank and by donating valuable funds to worthwhile organizations such as these, the Capital City Bank Group Foundation can help build stronger communities."

A majority of the funds are distributed to specific areas of focus, including: arts/culture, children/youth services, economic/community development, education, health/sciences and human services. Applications are reviewed once a year and are due by April 1. For more information on the Capital City Bank Group Foundation, visit www.ccbgfoundation.org.
