A top legal team for the life-cycle of your company

At Brannon Sowers & Cracraft, we are uniquely qualified to serve companies of any size, providing the full spectrum of their legal needs. We specialize in business law, intellectual property, and litigation, making our firm the perfect fit for any organization throughout its entire life cycle. From starting your business to protecting and defending its property, we have mastered the technical expertise and personal service necessary to exceed your expectations at every turn.

Our business was founded in February of 2008 with one attorney and one paralegal. Our goal was simple: eliminate the big firm overhead and focus on serving the client. We made efficiency and efficacy our two priorities, billing the client only for the services actually provided, as opposed to grandiose sporting event suites and lavish dinners. We continue to use this streamlined approach while attracting top-flight staff and attorneys to best serve our clients' needs.

Our highly-credentialed team of patent professionals includes five Ph.D.'s in hard sciences. We are singularly positioned to assist businesses in even the most technical and mercurial of industries. Often, more than one area of expertise is required. Brannon Sowers & Cracraft skillfully advocates for you in many areas of law. Our range and depth of knowledge means that we keep you and your company one step ahead at the front of the pack.

As an industry leading intellectual property law firm, we put all of our experience to work for you. We also deftly handle all of your company's other legal needs: litigation, business formation, mergers and acquisitions, contracts, employment law, and anything else that may arise throughout the life of your business.

Each client relationship is unique. We treat every client with the respect, honesty and reliability that we apply to our own company, becoming part of your team to resolve issues as they appear. We pride ourselves on our longstanding client relationships and our high percentage of repeat business. Here are just a few things that our clients are saying:

Whenever anything has come up—from patents to subdivision work to incorporation to lawsuits—they've been logical, responsive, open-minded, and easy to work with. My experience could not be better. I've sent a lot of friends and colleagues their way through the years, and every one I've ever referred has loved working with John and his team.

– Philip Paull, CEO, Excavating Solutions

“As an entrepreneur with a start-up in a highly regulated industry, I had little experience where intellectual property was concerned. As a young company, the last thing I could afford was to waste resources in an area that I didn't fully understand. Brannon Sowers & Cracraft guided me through the process in a way that was approachable, efficient, and stress-free. I am confident I now have the protection I need for my business, and I know that my resources were used efficiently.”

– Colleen Fanning, BOSS, Grey Market Wine
