Religious Education (RE) Policy

Aims and objectives

Religious education provides rich opportunities for children to learn about things that matter in the lives of many people in the local area and the wider world. At Grange Primary School, pupils study beliefs, teachings and ways of living. They are given the opportunity to explore a range of responses to questions of identity, meaning, purpose, values and commitments. In the process they can examine and reflect upon their own ideas and values. Understanding people's beliefs can be a first step to children recognising and appreciating diversity. At Grange Primary School, we develop the children's knowledge and understanding of the major world faiths.

The aims of religious education are to help children:

- develop an awareness of spiritual and moral issues in life experiences;
- develop knowledge and understanding of Christianity and other major world religions and value systems found in Britain;
- develop an understanding of what it means to be committed to a religious tradition;
- be able to reflect on their own experiences and to develop a personal response to the fundamental questions of life;
- develop an understanding of religious traditions and to appreciate the cultural differences in Britain today;
- develop investigative and research skills and to enable them to make reasoned judgements about religious issues;
- have respect for other peoples' views and to celebrate the diversity in society.

The legal position of religious education:

Religious education (RE) will still be a statutory part of the school curriculum post-September 2014. The framework for the new National Curriculum in England, published by the Department for Education (DfE), says that in addition to following the National Curriculum:

All state schools are also required to make provision for a daily act of collective worship and must teach RE to pupils at every Key Stage

Teaching and learning style

We base our teaching and learning style in RE on the key principle that good teaching in RE allows children both to learn about religious traditions and to reflect on what the religious ideas and concepts mean to them. Our teaching enables children to extend their own sense of values and promotes their spiritual growth and development. We encourage children to think about their own views and values in relation to the themes and topics studied in the RE curriculum. Our teaching and learning styles in RE enable children to build on their own experiences and extend their knowledge and understanding of religious traditions. We aim to invite people of different faiths or parents into school to talk to the children about special events / celebrations within their religion.

Trips:

Every year group, from FS2 to year 6 will visit at least one place of worship during the academic year. When they leave Grange Primary School, the children will have experienced a place of worship for each of the 6 major world faiths. We visit places of worship as guests and learners NOT as worshippers.

Curriculum planning in religious education

We use the "Focus Learning Challenge Curriculum" which is based on the National Curriculum requirements for RE as the basis for our curriculum planning. We offer opportunities for children of all abilities to develop their skills and knowledge in each unit, and we ensure that the planned progression built into the scheme of work offers the children an increasing challenge as they move through the school. We recognise the fact that all classes in our school have children of widely differing abilities, and so we provide suitable learning opportunities for all children by matching the challenge of the task to the ability of the child.

Foundation Stage

In the foundation stage, religious education is an integral part of the topic work covered during the year. We relate the religious education aspects of the children's work to the objectives set out in the Early Learning Goals which underpin the curriculum planning for children aged three to five. Through teaching religious education in our school, we provide opportunities for spiritual development. Children consider and respond to questions concerning the meaning and purpose of life. We help them to recognise the difference between right and wrong through the study of moral and ethical questions. We enhance their social development by helping them to build a sense of identity in a multicultural society. Children explore issues of religious faith and values and, in so doing, they develop their knowledge and understanding of the cultural context of their own lives.

Assessment and recording

The standard of work in RE is expected to meet the targets children are following in other core subjects.

Work should be recorded in books or files and any photographs that are taken of work or visits should be stored on the school system in the appropriate RE folders. Displays of the work are also valued.

To assess the children's level in Religious Education, teachers are expected to give an overall teacher assessment based upon the school's assessment policy.

Resources

We have a wide variety of resources in our school to be able to teach the lessons approved by the Focus Scheme of work. There is also an allocated budget for additional resources, which may be required and for trips.
