

Privacy Policy

This web site is owned and operated by Lifeline Youth and Family Services, Inc. (hereafter referred to as Lifeline). We respect the privacy of every individual who visits our site. We do not collect personally identifiable information from individuals unless they provide it to us voluntarily and knowingly. If you register to use various features of our site, we use the information you supply for the purpose of providing the services you have requested. We may also contact you from time to time with information that relates to your requests or interests.

Lifeline collects two types of information: personal voluntary registration information, such as name and email address, and non-personal statistical information, such as site traffic and usage patterns. This information is used primarily to fulfill publication orders, deliver requested information, and to improve the design and structure of the site. It is used solely by Lifeline and others involved in the operation of this web site and will never be sold or given to third parties without your permission, unless compelled by law or court order to do so.

To protect your privacy, we use encryption technologies. In addition, we allow only authorized employees or agents access to personal information. Although we cannot guarantee there will be no unauthorized access to personal information, these measures increase the security and privacy of information traveling to, from and within our web site.

Cookies

Lifeline does use cookies to keep track of unique web hits and return site visitors.

External Links

Lifeline is not responsible for content, policies, and practices of other websites that are accessible by hyperlink from our site. Lifeline's privacy policy applies only to information maintained by Lifeline. In addition, Lifeline is not responsible for the materials contained at any web site linked to our site. Further, any such linkages do not constitute any Lifeline endorsement of products and services appearing on other websites.

Disclaimer of Warranty

Although we work very hard to provide the user with the most current and accurate information, we cannot and do not warrant that everything you see on this site is up-to-date, error free, or complete. While we may periodically add, modify, or delete any of the content, we do not make any commitment or assume any obligation or duty to do so. It is the user's responsibility to verify information prior to making any decisions. Any item with a fee or cost associated with it may be subject to change at any time, and without prior notification.