

P-BOB AND FRED – SEPARATED AT BIRTH?

Stephen L. Bakke – October 22, 2009

(Please review the GLOSSARY of GOVSPEAK near the end of this report.)

I just can't help but think of Fred Astaire when I watch some of P-BOB's antics and mannerisms. And I think they even look a bit alike. Maybe it's just the ears. Close your eyes and think of graceful Fred in the movies – not his dancing, but the scenes where he is walking across the living room or a hotel lobby. He had moves even when just walking. Then compare that to watching P-BOB prance off Air Force One, or flit down the hall to his TOTUS before a press conference. Can you see it? Separated at birth?

Several weeks ago, I came up with the following entry which is included in the GLOSSARY at the end of my P-BOB "Chronicles":

FA-FLITTER – P-BOB 'flits'/prances like Fred Astaire(FA)(separated at birth?)(say: fay-flitter)

No RANT here, just some photos to compare:

Maybe? Or Maybe Not? But it works for me.

I extend thanks, as always, to the many writers, commentators, researchers, and others, from all political extremes, whose hard work helps me greatly. They gather details and present much information. About all I do is gather, organize, summarize, and attempt to fill in with comments – commonly referred to as my frequent “RANTS”.

More comments will follow on important topics and personal thoughts as our President battles through tough territory. I want to join other conservatives in recognizing and respecting our new President – and supporting him when we should. But when we oppose our President’s policies, we should act in accordance with values of decency – but that doesn’t preclude a healthy dose of sarcasm and satire, which are valuable tools for political commentary.
