

Somehow I know...

When the breeze blows and the air flows
Somehow I know... I've been touched by Love

I hear a bird's call in the Autumn fall
Somehow I know... I've been touched by Love

As I watch the still blue sky, as clouds roll by
Somehow I know... I've been touched by Love

As flowers bloom and fragrance fills the room
Somehow I know... I've been touched by Love

In the whispers of snow and their midnight glow
Somehow I know... I've been touched by Love

In the echoes of laughter and spinning faster
Somehow I know... I've been touched by Love

As big waves crash and children quickly dash
Somehow I know... I've been touched by Love

In a brilliant setting sun as rivers reflect sky as one
Somehow I know... I've been touched by Love

In the sound of a heartbeat, nothing can compete
Somehow I know... I've been touched by Love
