October 2, 2016
Twenty Seventh Sunday in Ordinary Time

Luke 17:5-10

“When you have done all you have been commanded, say, ‘We are unprofitable servants, we have done what we were obliged to do.’”

We begin life totally dependent on our parents and guardians. Some of us continue to expect others to do for us long after we are more than capable of doing for ourselves. When a father was asked by one his children to do something he would tell them, “Move your legs, then your arms, and wiggle your fingers.” Then he would tell them, “You look capable of doing it yourself.” When they really needed help, he was there for them. In today’s Gospel, the disciples asked Jesus to “Increase our faith.” He tells them, and us, to “Move your legs, your arms and wiggle your fingers” He is teaching us that we have the gift of faith from God, but we must use our head and heart to grow in faith. He cannot do for us what only we can do for ourselves. A wise sage said, “God gave us two ends to use, one to think and one to sit. Success depends on which we use, heads we win, tails we lose.” God has given us the gifts of life, intelligence, reason and free will. Do we use those gifts to increase our faith in God? Or do we just sit there?
