Our very own Ocotillo Living assistant event coordinator and Business Partner, Carrie McNeish, is celebrating her one-year anniversary of free line dance lessons at Nabers Bar and Eats, located in the Casa Paloma Shopping Center.

Just recently Carrie reminisced about the evolution of Line Dancing at Nabers, explaining that Graham Central Station in Tempe closed its doors in 2012, leaving loyal dance patrons in need of a place to socialize and dance. "Grahams is where I started taking line dancing lessons myself, back in 2001, and that's what fueled my idea for my Linedancercise fitness classes," she explains. "I've met so many great people there!"

Many of these great people became Carrie's Linedancercise class members who would often meet for lunch at Nabers, which opened in 2013. Shortly thereafter, these members suggested having classes at Nabers because it has a country, rock, rustic vibe they felt would be a good fit.

Turns out, it was a great fit. Denise Holliday, General Manager of Nabers, says, "Carrie does a great job teaching and everyone has so much fun! Nabers has become the 'go-to' place for dancing and socializing on Wednesday evenings." In fact, Nabers is offering a Wednesday "Whiskey, Wine and Line Dance" special, from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., in June to celebrate the anniversary. You can bet Carrie's dancers will be there to celebrate!

One loyal dancer, Lorraine Genthon, says, "I've been taking Carrie's Linedancercise classes for over 10 years, and I still look forward to going to class each week. Carrie keeps us laughing and having fun while learning the moves."

In addition to her partnership with Nabers, Carrie teaches Linedancercise at the Pecos Community Center and offers both daytime and evening classes. She says, "The more classes you take, the better you get at dancing. It's that simple."
