Hello St. Mark's Lutheran,

Welcome to another month held gently in the loving arms of God. So, July is quickly coming to an end and I still haven't done all those summer projects I imagined I would... how about you? One thing I'm still looking forward to is taking Elyse to Starved Rock. It certainly can be challenging to get everything scheduled and everything done. Sometimes I wish, probably like almost every school kid, that summer wouldn't end. The sunshine and the more mild days this year have been great... and given me an opportunity for hikes, disc golf, and the state/local park exploration that I love. I've really enjoyed getting to know Polo more, and checking out local events, shops, and museums has been eye opening.

The people here have been great, being both very helpful and very welcoming. I'm getting to know the neighborhood a bit and I even gave someone else directions the other day, what a treat.

One of the things I love about Polo/Forreston is that the view of the stars here is incredible they seem much brighter than they do in Rockford, and the sunset over the fields west of town is just amazing.

Sitting outside today listening to the birds chirp and feeling the sun shining down reminds me of how blessed we are to be surrounded by the beauty of God's creation. It also made me reminisce about a book I read called Altar in the World by Barbara Brown Taylor; in it she reminds us to see the glory of creation around us. She talks about hearing the buzz of the yellow jackets wings, seeing groundhog holes, marveling at the bright colors of the irises as she walks, and just taking the time to appreciate the world around us knowing that it is all God's great and beautiful creation that we have come to dwell in. God loves us so much that all of creation has been entrusted into our hands, we are called to be stewards of God's creation... called to care for the land and water, air and all the creatures that call this place home.

Thinking of the goodness of God's creation, I hope that August is especially good to you this year and that you get a chance to spend some time walking paths that you haven't before (with family and friends or perhaps on your own to reflect), so that your senses can be filled with the hum of not cars and trucks, but of God's beautiful creation. If you are looking for a neat place to check out I commend Castle Rock Overlook, Lowell Park (incl. a zip line for kids), Severson Dells, and LOMC. Where ever you may go, I'm praying God watch over you and keep you safe. May God bless you all!

Peace and Blessings to you and yours,
Pastor Scott

Altar Guild volunteers needed for September, November and December
Easy instructions with pictures are in the cabinet in the upstairs kitchen. We would be happy to help anyone learn. Serving on altar guild is an honor and a privilege. Preparation of the Lord's Supper for the congregation reinforces with physical elements those beliefs most basic to our traditions. Let the office know if you would like to help!
