

Lake St. Louis Site Of Sailing Championships

For the first time in its ten year history the Clifford D. Mallory Cup races are being held in Canada. From September 11 - 14 the sound of starting cannons will echo across Lake St. Louis as finalists from eight areas of North America battle through eight separate sailing races to determine a winner.

Keen competition is assured in the finals. Robert A. Mosbacher of Houston, Texas, 1958 winner of the Mallory Cup, is one finalist, while two-time winner "Buddy" Melges, Jr., Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, will be trying for three national championships in a row.

Sleek 29 foot Dragon class sailboats have been used throughout the eliminations. Club members from Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club, Pointe Claire Yacht Club, and Lord Reading Yacht Club will provide the boats for the finals. These are rotated throughout the series so that each skipper sails one race in each craft, thus equalizing minor boat differences.

Main competition in the eliminations on Lake Ontario this weekend is expected from Walter Windeyer of the Royal Canada Yacht Club, Toronto, who won the right to represent Canada in the Gold Cup races later this year in Norway.

AIRPLANE CRASH AT DORVAL

Dorval residents last Sunday witnessed a tragic airplane crash which took the lives of four people. The small Beachcraft Bonanza plane took off shortly before 5:00 p. m. on Sunday afternoon and was endeavoring to gain altitude when, according to witnesses, the engine failed and the plane nose-dived to the ground catching fire immediately.

Killed in the crash were Norman Berman, 32, of 4889 Mira Road, Montreal, owner of the aircraft, his son Jonathan, aged seven, his daughter Elyce-Joy, aged five, and a friend, Howard J. Greenspan of Brooklyn, New York.

The Dorval Fire Department were first on the scene, a pasture field belonging to the Townsend Pony Farm, 1325 Sources Road, which drew many residents of Dorval including swimmers from the nearby Surrey Gardens Pool.

Fourteen year old Norma Dolan of Dorval was an eye-witness of the crash which is now being investigated by the RCMP and officials of the Department of Transport.

DORVAL POLICE NOSE OUT TROUBLE

Persistence paid off for two Dorval Police Constables on August 31. Constable R. Lagace and Constable L. Brebant were on routine patrol, travelling from East to West along Metropolitan Boulevard during the early morning hours when they noticed that the driver of the car in front of them had become very excited upon seeing the patrol car. The sudden erratic swerving of the driver led the constables to stop the car. The driver's credentials were in order and the police were ready to release the car when they decided to check the trunk. They discovered that the nervous driver was piloting a cargo of 52 gallons of homemade alcohol, worth about $1500. The two occupants were turned over to the R.C.M.P.

Youngsters Aid Lachine General

An envelope, addressed in juvenile handwriting, arrived at The Lachine General Hospital last week.

Opening it, Hospital Administrator W.W. Allison took a letter and $5.16 in cash, a donation to the Lakeshore's oldest hospital. Signed by Barbara Payson, aged 10, of 880 - 51st Avenue, Lachine, the letter explained how Jeanine Carriere, 11, Claire Bennet, 12, and Carolyn Coones, 13, decided

Three Rivers Regiment Plans Reunion

Maj.-Gen. J.V. Allard, CBE, DSO, ED, CD, now Vice Chief of the Canadian General Staff, will be among the many former members of The Three Rivers Regiment who will attend that unit's reunion, to be held September 29th, 30th and October 1st in Montreal.

General Allard, who served as adjutant of the Regiment when it was mobilized for active service in 1939, has been appointed to command a British Division. However, before leaving to assume his new duties, he has informed the committee in charge of the regimental reunion that he will make a special point of being present.

The celebrations, organized by the Regiment's Montreal Association, will be highlighted by a memorial service September 30th at the Dominion Square cenotaph. It will be conducted by Hon. Maj. J.H. Wilhelm, MC, long-time padre of the unit, and will commemorate the 113 members of the Regiment who made the supreme sacrifice. These ceremonies will be followed by a dinner and dance at the Victoria Rifles Armoury on Cathcart Street.

to relieve some of the monotony of the closing days of the school holidays to organize a "market".

"They did it all on their own and without my previous knowledge", said Mrs. Payson.

Apparently they collected records and books from neighbours and set up three stalls on their front lawns, offering prizes for skills at games.

The prizes they bought themselves with their own pocket money in the shape of pop-sicles and lollipops.

"This is the second time within a month that local children have used their imagination to help the hospital", said Mr. Allison.

"We certainly have some thoughtful children living on the Lakeshore".

JOHN PRATT REPORTS FROM OTTAWA

For the last eight months this weekly column has been devoted to a rather detailed explanation of some of the beneficial legislation which has recently been introduced by the government. Much of this explanation has necessarily been of a highly statistical nature, for the benefit of those of my constituents who may be interested in certain realms of legislation. Some of these statistical details have probably been rather boring for readers who do not happen to be interested in some of the specific areas of government activity which I have covered, but the residents of this riding have a tremendous variety of interests, and so I have attempted to cover as many different subjects as possible in the last few months. Any constituent who is interested in a subject which has not been dealt with in the column has only to write to me at Ottawa and I will be very glad to supply the necessary information.

There is such a tremendous volume of new legislation constantly forthcoming at Ottawa that I could very easily fill all the pages of an entire newspaper and still only scratch the surface. Many average citizens are completely unaware of the vast amount of work that is done in Parliament in the way of legislation and other matters, and it was to give some small conception of the great multitude of problems considered and resolved at Ottawa that I have gone to such length to describe them in this column in the past few months.

The average man in the street, however, is not so interested in the details as he is in the great sweep of national and international events, and so, for the time being, at least, I intend to revert to a more general description of events of the world of government. Parliament resumes its session on Thursday, September 7th, after a summer break of eight weeks during which the members of Parliament were able to return to their homes and attend to their local affairs, not to mention their much-neglected personal affairs. We are returning to Parliament at a time when world tensions have reached a new high and there is no doubt that the next few months will produce much that will be both sensational and significant in the affairs of mankind.

I will do my best to keep the constituents of Jacques-Cartier-LaSalle informed to a reasonable extent on those matters which may be of greatest concern to them.

NO MORE LETTERS IN TELEPHONE NUMBERS

Dorval telephone numbers will no longer contain letters when the 1962 directory serving this region is issued next February, the Bell Telephone Company of Canada informed customers here this week.

In the new directory, the letters will be replaced by the figures that correspond to them on the dial, so that all numbers now beginning with ME 1 will be listed as beginning with 631. There will be no change involved in dialing.

In a letter sent to all residents involved, local Bell Manager R. C. B. Love explained that all the Bell exchanges listed in the Lachine-Pointe Claire-Ste. Anne de Bellevue directory will be converted to the seven-digit method of numbering (known as All Number Calling or ANC) with the appearance of the new book -- which will be the first in the Montreal area to be completely converted to ANC. Other suburban directories will be converted year by year, as will various groups of listings in the Montreal directory, until all telephones in this area have seven-digit numbers.

The other exchanges listed in the Lachine-Pointe Claire-Ste. Anne de Bellevue directory are Melrose 4 and 7 (Lachine), Oxford 2 (Châteauguay), Murray 4 (Roxboro), Oxford 5 and 7 (Pointe Claire), Glendale 3 (Ste. Anne de Bellevue), Belmont 4 (Vaudreuil), Belmont 6 (Hudson), Belmont 8 (Rigaud) and National 16 (Ste. Genevieve). Numbers beginning with these exchange designations will also appear in seven-digit form in the 1962 Montreal directory.

In addition to this "bulk conversion" method where whole exchanges are converted as units, the Bell company plans to take advantage of what it calls "customer order activity" to convert individual telephones throughout the metropolitan area. Starting on August 7 this year, ANC numbers will be given to all customers ordering telephone service for the first time, and to all present subscribers who change their address or otherwise require a change in their existing number.

OPERATIC SOCIETY

CASTS FOR "IOLANTHE"

The St. Paul's Operatic Society of Lachine is commencing rehearsals for its 1961/62 production of Iolante at 8:15 p.m. on Tuesday next, September 12th in St. Paul's Hall, 375 - 44th Avenue, Lachine. This will be the Society's 7th production of the Gilbert and Sullivan Operettas. Under the expert stage direction of Mrs. Harry Norris, and the able musical direction of Mr. Richard McLaughlin the performances scheduled for the first week of March 1962 are expected to excel even the successes achieved in the past. An invitation is extended to all amateur singers and actors, or those who aspire and wish to gain experience, both Ladies and Gentlemen, to join the Society in this production and enjoy a pleasant winter's activity (one rehearsal a week) in a friendly and happy association. As this operetta has particularly fine male chorus work, a special invitation is extended to all such voices. Auditions for Principals and Chorus will be held at the opening rehearsal on Tuesday next. Enquiries may be directed to Mr. L. C. Elvidge, ME 7-9293; Miss. Harry Norris, HU 6-7449 or Miss S. Sharpe, ME 7-2427; or by attendance at the first rehearsal on September 12th.

next twelve months. Merchandise presented at this year's Market will surpass that of previous years for both style appeal and practicality. Continued progress in manufacturing methods now makes it possible to offer better values than ever before.

For the first time in the 15 year history of the Montreal Furniture Market, the general public will be permitted to visit the exhibition and view the many attractive exhibits. This innovation will be of particular appeal to new home owners and also to those who may be renovating or adding to their present home furnishings. It is anticipated that more than 30,000 consumers will attend the Furniture Market on the dates open to the public, September 8th from 8:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. and September 9th and 10th from 1:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m.

The Honourable André Rousseau, Minister of Commerce and Industry for the Province of Quebec will officially open the 15th Annual Montreal Furniture Market to the general public at a special opening ceremony to be held at 8:00 p.m. on Friday, September 8th at The Show Mart on Berri Street. His Worship, Mayor Jean Drapeau of Montreal, has been invited to participate in this special opening ceremony.

In extending an invitation to the general public to attend this year's Market, two principal purposes will be fulfilled: on the one hand, consumers will be able to see in advance the many new innovations in the new lines of furniture and, also, they will be introduced to the products of the Quebec Furniture Industry which is one of the province's major manufacturing groups and which accounts for more than 40% of the total furniture manufactured

By K. M.

STUDENTS: The High School Graduation Exercises for St. Stephen's students will take place on September 15 Four Dorval students attending Lachine High School made the lists of McGill Entrance Scholarship Winners this week, and were interviewed for the Dorval Reporter. These good students are Helena van der Star, 22 Starling Ave.; Doug Bland, 33 Vinet; Ian Hodgson, 64 Malcolm Circle; Wayne Matthews, 14 Roy Ave.

Although Helena, 16, came to Dorval from Halifax only 18 months ago, she is intensely interested in the Sea Rangers, S.R.S. Hochelaga, and was looking forward to a tour of the visiting Dutch Ships this week with the Rangers. She had an unusual hobby — dressing dolls in period costumes. Research into the details of the clothing and accessories, and sewing, with attention to the most minute detail makes this a time absorbing but rewarding and unusual hobby.

Doug Bland's chief outside interest is the Canadian Cadet Squadron 592. Both Doug 16, and Ian Hodgson, 17, are keenly interested in radio and hold ham operators' licences; they intend to complete University training in Electrical Engineering. Ian is on the executive of the Youth Group of the Lakeshore Unitarian Church. Wayne Matthews, 17, intends to take his degree in Science with emphasis in Mathematics. He has been active in the H-Y Group at Lachine High, has served on the student Council, and has been active in sports. With several Lachine students also in the scholarship lists, students and parents alike were impressed with the number of students from the same class who were granted scholarships.

CANADIAN ART TEACHER IN PARIS, INFLUENCE FELT IN DORVAL:

A Dorval parent directed my attention to the fact that Leon Bellefleur, father of five, and well known Canadian artist who has recently left to study in Paris, once taught a group of children in Dorval. Bellefleur, who was picked last year as Canadian candidate for a Guggenheim award, a number of which are presented annually by a United States Foundation for creative Artists, was chosen to teach the first Art Class for children sponsored by the Dorval Gardens Home and School Association four years ago. His influence is quite evident in the work of some of the students who have continued with their painting; his work in the permanent section at the Museum in Quebec City is picked out very easily by these students and they watch for his paintings at Montreal exhibitions with special interest.

HEARD IN DORVAL: The heart warming, and at times hilarious, story of a genial grandfather's crusade in Africa was told last Tuesday night at St. Veronica's hall. Listeners were transported to the French Cameroons, a sweltering little country in west central Africa, inhabited by three quarters of a million negroes, tens of thousands of them afflicted by leprosy.

The speaker was Monsignor Gerard Bakker who has dedicated himself to work with these lepers, and who has set about the task of providing a network of treatment centres for them. As unusual as Monsignor Bakker's work is, his own personal history adds another unusual highlight to his work. A dozen years ago he was a prosperous Dutch businessman nearing the age when he could slip into leisurely retirement. He had raised eight children and seen three of his sons become Jesuit Priests. He lost his wife during the Second World War. At the age of 58 he left the old life behind and went to Rome to study for the priesthood. The monsignor now 70 years old, has 18 grandchildren. At an age when most of us would be retired from all activities he is embarking on a most ambitious campaign, to raise money for his crusade to aid the lepers.

Movies and slides of his work demonstrated what is being done and what is yet to be done. Monsignor Bakker also spoke of visits to the leper station of the famed Dr. Albert Schweitzer, a couple of days' journey away and a far journey from life in Canada.

HERE & THERE: This week an emergency which called out the Dorval police ambulance on our street served as a reminder of the quick, efficient, and thoughtful service we get whenever we are in trouble The Dorval Civic Library resumes regular hours on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and evenings. Mrs. A. Lachance, librarian, reminds children to visit the library during the children's hours 3:39 - 5:00, whenever possible. All books out for summer reading should be returned promptly --- Mr. John Audette, Divisional Sales Manager for Red Rose Tea and Coffee, back from a trip with his family to the old home province of Sask., reports that it was really hot out there: the family of nine travelling in a station wagon, was greeted with a high 103 degrees as they reached Saskatchewan Several sailors from the Dutch Aircraft Carrier Karel Doorman were shown Dorval hospitality last weekend. A number of Dorval families joined a project by a Montreal Association of people of Dutch descent to entertain as many sailors as possible from the visiting Dutch ships. The sailors were most impressed with the project, the first they have encountered in any country Mr. G. Some Dorval residents will therefore have seven-digit numbers even before the 1962 directory appears.

Commenting on ANC, Mr. Love said that the new numbering system is being introduced throughout Canada and the United States because it provides millions of additional telephone numbers, and these will be needed to meet the demands of the future. He explained that the present two-letter, five-figure system is limited because certain letters cannot be combined to form exchange names, and are therefore wasted on the dial.

The Three Rivers Regiment had a distinguished record in World War II. It was awarded 23 battle honours - the most won by any Canadian armoured unit - during arduous campaigns in Sicily, Italy and North West Europe. Those who served with it are now scattered all across Canada, but the addresses of some 450 are known and a majority of those contacted have announced their intention of attending the Montreal reunion. Others who saw active service with the Regiment are invited to write the Secretary, Sgt. Paddy Morrison, 5649 Coolbrook Ave., Montreal 29, for full information about reunion plans.

Louise Vinet Wins Ballantyne Trophy

Miss Louise Vinet defeated 15 year old Claudette Belisle 6-2, 1-6, 6-3 to win the Dorval Tennis Club Ladies Annual Championship and the Ballantyne Trophy for the second straight year. The match which had to be postponed twice due to weather, finally took place on Sunday afternoon at 1:30 p.m.

For those who were fortunate enough to be at the Club, and there were many, had a most interesting and exciting afternoon. The tennis of these two young stars was superb. Louise took a commanding lead in the first set and fought hard to hold the lead as Claudette time and time again came within one point of taking many of the games. The second set was the opposite right from the start with Claudette playing excellent tennis, time and time again coming up to the net to kill the ball. Louise made many beautiful returns but each time Claudette would clip the ball harder. It was not until the sixth game that Louise took a game (5-1). Claudette then went on to take the next game and set 6-1.

Tension was very high as both girls started into the third set. The first game was long and extremely important to both players. Louise took the game and the next two giving her a 3-0 lead. Claudette fighting hard took the next 2, making the score 3-2. The sixth game was close with both girls having the advantage from time to time. Louise with her extra experience and good

Most of us hoard our household treasures for those few extra-special occasions each year. The fact is, our best tableware is usually more durable than the everyday service. Why not enjoy it more often? Take dishes, for example.

When was the last time you used your fine china? Long ago?

Well, resolve to mend your ways. Move those good dishes up front in your closet. Bring them out at least weekly for Windsor Gardens Annual Fund Raising Carnival will be held again this year in Nihon Park, on Carson Avenue, between Allard and Roy Avenues. Everybody will be welcome Friday, Sept. 8th from 6 to 11 p.m. and Saturday, Sept. 9th from 2 to 11 p.m. Fun for all ages!

The DeCourcelles Chapter of the I.O.O.F. Dorval, held a meeting at the home of Mrs. D.C. Stapleton to finalize arrangements for the Fashion Show to be held at the El Paso Cafe, Lachine, on September 11th, by Raymonde Dress Salon of Lachine and Beaconsfield.

The Fashion Show is being held to raise funds to carry on the work of the Chapter particularly their major project which is the sponsoring of the Lakeshore Senior Citizens Club.

The Convenor of the Fashion Show is Mrs. E.G. Farthing of Pointe Claire.

your own pleasure and pride . . . as well as for the compliments they'll bring you.

If you're in the mood for shopping, know how to buy china.

Bring a pencil along. Not for making notes, but for tapping the edge of a plate while you hold it in your finger tips -- for that bell tone good china produces. Ringing experiment over, hold the plate up to the light.

It should be translucent. No watery or shadowy areas, except for the "foot" of the plate. Spread your fingers across the back of the plate . . . you should see them cleanly outlined against the light.

A close examination of a few pieces of china will tell you its quality.

Look for dark specks, bumps, depressions, fine lines under the glaze . . . all defects. Is the cup comfortable to hold? Is color even, design perfect?

If you select your china as a complete set, remember it may not be possible to add individual pieces in the future . . . discuss this with the sales person. Dinnerware from "open stock" is more easily replaced and reputable retail stores will guarantee to obtain pieces for you as long as your pattern is being made.

Take a quick look at the handicrafting of fine china, so you'll know what you're testing -- and why -- when you buy.

FINE CHINA

The creative processes are intricate, testing is continuous. Walter Scott Lenox, the father of American fine china making, set extremely high standards. For example, according to his criteria, a teacup must go through 250 separate operations and 18 inspections before you would see it on display! If you were to visit his plant today, you would learn that the same standards are still in use.

Let's follow his process through. Fine china is made from a combination of special clays, feldspar, and flint. These raw materials are ground face-powder fine, mixed with purified water, pulverized again . . . insuring a smooth, uniform body for the finished piece. This uniformity adds strength because there are no weak spots that hasten breakage.

Next stop: the casting or jiggering departments, where the material is poured into plaster of Paris molds. To make sure each piece has the smoothest surface and sharpest definition, Lenox destroys molds after every 25 pieces of china are cast.

If a saucer's thickness varies by more than 5/100ths of an inch, it is not merely rejected . . . it is destroyed! In giant kilns, where the china is fired for more than a day at high temperatures, close controls insure a uniform glaze. Warping, or a variation in shrinking, would take a piece of this world famous fine china out of the running -- for good.

Even weight differences involving a few fractions of an ounce are grounds for discard.

Fine china is completely "citricfield," meaning evenly fused and non-porous. Result? It will fight off dirt, bacteria and grease . . . and will be amazingly durable. It's not easy to chip, and the china will never change color.

Color is a vital factor in China. A simple test for you to make -- hold your china up to the light. Any muddiness reflects a low quality piece.

The best china has no pin holes, no pores, no waviness and no heaviness. Lenox standards for smoothness of glaze are 1/1000 of an inch.
