

Importance of Education in Human Development

Vandana Rani

Assistant Professor, Department of Hindi,
H.H.S. New Era College of Education, Sirsa, Haryana, India

Abstract - Education is most compulsory in human life. Without education, anybody cannot develop and progress in life. It is the only one thing that plays very important role in the development and progress of the country. It makes a healthy and educated society. It aware us with the information about the surrounding world and makes it better. It helps us to make our personality strong. People argue over the issue that whether education is the sole thing that imparts knowledge. It is an essential tool for getting bright future and have points of view on important things in life. According to Aristotle, "Educated men are as much superior to the uneducated as the living are to the dead."

Keywords - Education; human; development; society

I. INTRODUCTION

The word 'Education' has been inferred from latin words, "Educare, Educere, Educatum." Educare means to bring up, to nourish. Educere means to lead out. Educatum therefore intends the act of teaching and learning. It means that education is guide to the enlightenment of human beings, which enables an individual to differentiate between the good and bad, right and wrong. It starts out from birth and continuous throughout life. It is a life – long process. Education is life and all of the life is education. It is a dynamic process. Education is that which polish the human personal magnetism, so that it accomplishes its fullest development. It enables to head for better physical, emotional, intellectual, social and spiritual life. It makes the person to live with hygiene and to earn a honest living.

II. IMPORTANCE OF EDUCATION

There are the following determinations of education in human being:

A. Intellectual Development

It is all about learning. It helps us to create some new ideas and thoughts in our mind. It necessitates the progressive building of learning skills such as attention, memory and thinking.

B. Physical Development

It is the physical process that commences in child's early childhood period and carries onto the late adolescent period. It implies getting command over the body, particularly muscles and physical co-ordination.

C. Social Development

It means to adjust ourselves in society. It is the education which plays a large part in the socialization of children into society. It is the methodology by which individuals get social competence by acquiring the norms, values, beliefs, attitudes and roles suited to their social groups.

D. Emotional Development

Education helps to develop the child's emotions in better way. This involves training in processing, assimilating and appropriately using emotional skills in suitable way. It is most important for human beings. When a child grows then he see some different situations and their emotional lives become more complex. Then there is a need to manage a range of emotions in society.

E. Spiritual Development

It is very crucial element of a children education to other areas of learning. By education, we can raise the personal beliefs including religious faiths on the basis of which they plan for their lives and formulate understanding of how beliefs conduce to personal identity.

F. Character Development

For peaceful society, character development is very necessary or it is possible only with the help of education.

III. ALL ROUND DEVELOPMENT OF PERSONALITY

It is very important that children learn to build positive relationship with their family and society. This is possible only with the help of education because education develop the child's all round personality which include student's communication skills, problem solving ability, logical thinking, student development activities, physical development, social development and participation in extra –curricular activities.

IV. CONCLUSION

Education plays its continuous role in all spheres of life. It is the most urgent factor in the human life. If we may achieve some knowledge about anything then we shall be capable to taking a more effective decision.

V. REFERENCES

- [1]. www.studylecturenotes.com
- [2]. www.educationengland.org.uk
- [3]. Karen Lutfey. "Development and Socialization through the Adult Life Course.", Handbook of Social Psychology,
- [4]. www.womenandperspectives.com
- [5]. Handbooks of Sociology and Social Research, 2014.