3 - Briefly describe:the most significant idea(s) /skill(s) that you learned through this course this semester, andhow this course affected your artistic/intellectual growth, values, or perceptions, etc.

Response Rate 5/15 (33.33%)

- a. The most significant idea that I learned is that during dictation, if I'm trying to identify a V7 chord, I should listen for the leading tone. b. I am now much more aware of intervals in my music and try to use what I've learned in my listening skills when I play.
- The most significant skills that I learned were sight-reading and keyboard proficiency, and these affected my artistic growth because I am now more able to read music and interpret the chord structures.
- This course has significantly improved my ear training in differentiating chords. This will be very helpful in the future.
- I improved my sight-singing. I gained improvement in my perception of music.
- Improved our listening skills, helped to hear pitches, intervals, chords, etc.

5 - Please comment on the strengths/weaknesses of the instructor and/or offer any suggestions for improving the course.

Response Rate
3/15 (20%)

- Strengths: patient, understanding, wants the best for the students and will do what's best for them Weaknesses: Suggestions for improvements: While much dictation practice was given, how to dictate was not taught clearly. Maybe go through each dictation practice and explain how one would accurately hear the interval/notes, so that students understand what they should be listening for when they do the dictation quizzes.
- Overall the class was good, Dr. Lively was usually entertaining and got the job done. However, many times he strayed off of what we were talking about and didn't make any of the material interesting or fun for us, so generally we were all bored and not really paying attention. He got the point across that he was trying to teach, but not always in the most effective manner.
- Great course, great teacher. Everything is presented well and I like the format of the course.

- Dr. Lively consistently let the class out with 30 minutes or more left in the period. This is very frustrating when we are so behind all of the other classes and we could be using that time to learn more and be more proficient at theory. He also made us do the same or similar exercises over and over again, which is somewhat redundant and boring, and although we are learning the concepts, they aren't interesting or fun so we probably won't remember them. I was very disappointed when I heard people in Dr. Feezell's class tell me about all of the fun stuff they were doing and how much they loved him, and I wasn't able to have the same experience.
- Textbooks were very expensive, unhelpful when explaining concepts, and unnecessary because the professor made copies of the pages to hand out to students. I recommend exclusively using these print-outs rather than requiring students to buy expensive textbooks that they don't need. Otherwise, the content of this course has been extremely helpful and well-taught.
- Fun course, taught really well

- This course just extended my music literacy. I think there were some things that we spent too much time on, but it can be difficult when everyone is at a different level.
- I just furthered my theory knowledge which will help me continue with my studies as a better student musician.
- A. I learned music theory of late 19th- and 20th century classical music, which I didn't previously know. B. I am able to better understand "modern", atonal music through the use of serialism and non-functional harmony.

- I think Dr. Lively could be stricter about people not being on their phones. We end up having to repeat a lot of stuff and it's because of poor attention or attendance. He's a great teacher though.

- The course was great. It was clear and Dr. Lively was good at presenting information in a clear way that we could build on over the course of the semester. It was also nice to have grad students in the class as more advanced and people we could learn from.
- Strengths: very clear, organized, always available for questions

- Dr. Lively is an incredibly smart professor, but I feel sometimes ideas presented weren't as clear as they could be, and not enough time was spent with new/familiar concepts. Also, the homework assignments weren't difficult at all, and I feel he could have asked more of the students, and perhaps introduced new/more advanced material to the students.
- I am a grad student in a theory class with almost all undergrads. 95% of the content I knew already, which made this class a total waste of time. Almost all of the concepts I had to know for the entrance exam, so I can't understand how this could possibly be the "grad-level" theory class I was supposed to take. I don't think this was Dr. Lively's fault, but I also don't think this class should ever be mixed again. I wish I could have been challenged with more complex concepts even slightly in this class.
- Graduate and undergraduate theory students should have two separate classes. As a grad student I felt much of this course was review from the diagnostic exam with very few expounding topics from my previous knowledge. I wished to have been challenged more in a graduate level course.
