From the President—Sally Steele

Hello Navajo Canyon Members, Associates, and Friends,

Yesterday I was having a conversation with Waskah and told her that my head was ready to explode off my shoulders because of all the political writings/rantings that have been so negative towards Trump. She asked what I have been reading, and when I rattled off about a dozen sites that I peruse all day long, she determined that was my problem! While the majority of what I read is conservative, I've immersed myself with Politico, Huffington Post, Daily Beast, NY Times, and CNN. If that isn't pure torture, I don't know what is!

It's beyond amazing and defies all credibility how facts are distorted beyond recognition! I think I read all that for shock value, it reads like blockbuster thriller, then you realize it's pure fiction, written in such a way to elicit anti-Trump sentiment and distort the truth with low-information voters. Waskah said she doesn't read the left-wing news as it just causes distress — that's the key to her sanity! So today I am going to TRY and avoid....well maybe cut back....on the negative and focus on the positive. Do you have similar thoughts and experiences as me?

The next 4 weeks will certainly be an emotional roller coaster ride for many of us. I encourage you to attend any and all of our upcoming events, volunteer in any way that you can, and spread the positive message of a Trump presidency vs the alternative! WE ARE IN IT TO WIN IT!

Warmest Regards,

Sally

Our September luncheon meeting padded our Treasury with $245 from raffle ticket sales. The lucky winner of our "Trump Basket" offering was Dr. Willa Ramsay. We hope she has lots of fun with all the Trump goodies!!

This month, we are again decorating Hearts4Heroes cards for the Military and Veterans in San Diego to honor them on Veterans Day. This is so much fun, and rewarding! We will get together at my home to decorate AND sign the cards. Since our luncheon meeting will be after Veterans Day, they will need to be signed after decorating.

I have set aside 4 days for crafting, and will invite 10 ladies each session to come and have some fun. I will have sign-up sheets at our meeting October 11. If you have stickers, stamps or other decorating items you would like to use or share, please bring them. I'm looking forward to this fun event!!

Corporate Greed and Political Cronyism

The EpiPen, a lifesaving allergy treatment, was sold in packages of three in 2001 for $75.80. Purchased by Mylan Pharmaceuticals in 2007, the cost rose to $124.00. Today the price for two pens is $609. Mylan has raised the price 15 times, up 400% from 2009. CEO of Mylan, Heather Bresch, earned nearly $19 million in total compensation last year.

And over the past three years, she made $54 million. Now here is the kicker, Bresch's mother, Gayle Manchin, head of the National Association of State Boards of Education, pushed for Mylan's EpiPens to be bought by schools. Her father is Democratic Sen. Joe Manchin, a member of the Senate Commerce committee.

We want our members to know that we are always thinking about them.

Please let me know if you know of anyone who would be cheered up by receiving a card from their friends at Navajo.

Perhaps they are facing an illness, recovering, or grieving. We want to let them know we are thinking of them.

I have always LOVED the Dilbert cartoons and captions. Now I love what Scott Adams has to say about Trump. Yes, you guessed it...Dilbert is on the Trump Train!

I Score the First Debate by

Posted September 27th, 2016 @ 8:27am

Trump and Clinton debated each other for the first time last night.

Clinton won on points. She had more command of the details and the cleaner answers. Trump did a lot of interrupting and he was defensive. If this were a college debate competition, Clinton would be declared the winner. I call that victory on the 2D chess board. But voters don't care about facts and debating style. They care about how they feel.

Trump and Clinton both seemed "presidential" enough. That mattered more for Trump. We haven't seen him off the teleprompter lately. So Trump passed that test by being sufficiently serious.

Clinton looked as if she was drugged, tired, sick, or generally unhealthy, even though she was mentally alert and spoke well. But her eyes were telling a different story. She had the look of someone whose doctors had engineered 90 minutes of alertness for her just for the event.

Some will say Clinton outperformed expectations because she didn't cough, collapse, or die right on stage. That would be true if she also looked healthy in general, and her campaign schedule from here on out is full.

Clinton's smile seemed forced, artificial, and frankly creepy. My neighbor Kristina hypothesized that Botox was making her smile look unnatural. Science tells us that when a person's mouth smiles, but their eyes don't match the smile, they look disingenuous if not creepy. But whatever the reason, something looked off to me.

To be fair, Trump's physical appearance won't win him any votes either. But his makeup looked better than I have seen it and his haircut was as good as it gets for him, and he was otherwise his normal self that some voters hate and some like.

But the most interesting question has to do with what problem both of them were trying to solve with the debate. Clinton tried to look healthy and I don't think she completely succeeded. But Trump needed to solve exactly one problem: Look less scary. Trump needed to counter Clinton's successful branding of him as having a bad temperament to the point of being dangerous to the country. Trump accomplished exactly that...by...losing the debate.

Trump was defensive, and debated poorly at points, but he did not look crazy. And pundits noticed that he intentionally avoided using his strongest attacks regarding Bill Clinton's scandals. He showed control. He stayed in the presidential zone under pressure. And in so doing, he solved for his only remaining problem. He looked safer.

By tomorrow, no one will remember what either of them said during the debate. But we will remember how they made us feel.

Clinton won the debate last night. And while she was doing it, Trump won the election. He had one thing to accomplish – being less scary – and he did it.

October 11: Assemblyman Brian W. Jones has served in the California State Assembly since 2010. He represents the 71st Assembly District, which encompasses Southern Riverside and Eastern San Diego Counties. With his term coming to an end, we are fortunate to have the Assemblyman join us as we are only one month away from the general election. With all of the hype, debates, and planning devoted to a contentious Presidential race, we don't want the importance of what is happening in Sacramento to get lost in the shuffle.

Assemblyman Jones has earned a reputation as a strong fiscal conservative and a vocal advocate for a smaller, more responsible government. His deep convictions in free market principles, the need for government reform and tax relief comes from his service in both the public and private sector. His background as a businessman and his service as Councilmember and Vice Mayor of Santee strengthened his resolve to restore decision making to the local level and to ensure that tax monies meet community needs.

He initially ran for Assembly in 2009 because of his frustration over what was taking place in Sacramento. Active in his service to the state, Assemblyman Jones currently serves as the Vice-Chair of the Business, Professions and Consumer Protection Committee and is a member of the Appropriations, Budget Subcommittee 1: Health and Human Services, Budget, Joint Legislative Ethics, and the Joint Legislative Audit Committees.

The Assemblyman is a strong believer in the Second Amendment, is opposed to illegal immigration, and works towards reforms aimed at curtailing the political influence of public-sector labor unions. He has been a supporter of the Stop Special Interest Money initiative and was involved in an effort to repeal the California DREAM Act.

A Santee resident since 1978, Assemblyman Jones is on the Board of Directors of the East County Boys and Girls Club, a member of the Lemon Grove Rod and Gun Club, and a lifetime member of the California Rifle and Pistol Association.

November 15: The second Tuesday of the month is election day, so in November our meeting will be the third Tuesday and final program of 2016. Our speaker, Jason Roe, has been deeply involved in conservative leadership for decades, from Executive Director, Republican Party of San Diego County, to National Media Spokesperson for Marco Rubio during his presidential campaign. Jason will review the election results, and look to the future of the Republican Party. What a great way to finish the year!

Congratulations to the 1900 new citizens we welcomed on September 21! Navajo Canyon was one of the five clubs working to register them as Republicans. This is an uphill battle, as most of them head to the tent across from us. We need to help them understand, even though they have the "Democrat" name, we are working for their best interest and freedoms. Our immigrants think Democrat is democracy.

 Voter Registration
 New Citizens Ceremony
 San Diego Concourse
 10am-noon

Trolley is easy from the East County. Take the green line to Sante Fe depot, transfer to the orange line through downtown and exit at the Civic Center. You can also take the Orange line into downtown coming west, still exiting at Civic Center. Go north into the concourse, see the colorful Republican Tent located right smack on the concourse, across from the other party and in front of Golden Hall. Sign-in and say Hello!

At about 10:30 a.m. a large group of happy, new naturalized citizens will come streaming out of the double doors to celebrate with their friends and family. We will be there to greet them and register them as Republicans.

By 12 noon, registrations will be complete, the tent will be packed up and the area cleared. Plan then to celebrate your day's accomplishments at lunch with your teammates.

Wear your Republican red and show the Dems our patriotic spirit and spunk! Check the trolley schedule at sdmts.com

They (the DemoRats) come up to those we are speaking with and physically steer them away, telling them we (Republicans) don't like immigrants! These new citizens know how difficult it is to obtain citizenship. We need to get our message out that we are only opposed to illegal immigrants. Big difference! Come join me this month downtown on Wednesday October 19, from 10 to noon. Last day to register for the general election is October 24.

As most of you know, Navajo Canyon ladies worked the GOP booth at La Mesa OKtoberfest from September 30 through October 2. We all braved the heat and the crowds to interact with the Fest goers spreading our Republican message. We conducted a Straw Poll this year to gauge which issue was most concerning to them. They were given a single ticket to place in one of the six bowls, each labeled with an issue. We spoke with 808 people and the results were kind of surprising to me. Look at the pic and decide which issue would be most important to you.

Grateful appreciation to our ladies who volunteered: Ruth Weiss, Kat Culkin, Gloria Harpenau, Nancy Murnahan, Waskah Whelan, Marjorie Faris, Lois Gubitosi, Jan Lewis, Maryann Alianelli, Sandra Giordano, Marie Buesing, Carolyn Lawson, Pat Dolbeck and Charlotte James. Also, thanks to San Diego GOP Alex Phillips and GOP intern Skyler Shibuya for bringing tables and chairs and table cover for our use, and picking them up!

Thanks to Gloria Harpenau, Kathy Petersen, Nancy Murnahan, Kat Culkin and Pat Boerner who joined me. We helped register 36 new Republicans! Need more help to get more!! And, it's always fun to see Lady Liberty, Uncle Sam and the Donald!!

Chaplain's Words of Inspiration

Ginny Wisley

Never pay back evil for evil to anyone... So far as it depends on you, be at peace with all men... Never take your own revenge...

Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good. Romans 12:17-19, 21

My plan was that this would be to Sally really early, haha...God had other plans so again His works became my Plan B. I'm sitting in my hotel room in Killarney, having spent the last five weeks here in Ireland, with one more week to go. I feel somewhat disconnected to the "real world" but with WI-FI I get to see the local news, as well as national news on BBC and RTE (oh and CNN)

I also hear conversations of the other locals (Rick & I are being called locals, not tourists!) think of the States, the elections, the candidates. Wow, we really have an image problem. For the most part we are still the dream place but a wee bit crazy right now. They have views on Hillary (great, wonderful) which Rick & I correct (& use Glenda's ABC for the election). Benghazi didn't hit the airwaves as hard here. They have views of Donald, which again, we correct. Although we aren't a third-world country, we do agree that some of our airports are third world design.

The "Black Lives Matter" makes no sense to the Irish as they feel that ALL lives matter (what a concept). They also don't condescend, attack or hate speak to those with different opinions.

I'm in a limbo feeling: I love our country but we do have aspects that embarrass me. Watching the city I live in fight & hurt each other, yes even over here, is heart wrenching. I have proudly spent years on a liaison group with the El Cajon Police, they are the finest group of men & women.

I pray every day that we remember to be more like the Irish: smile, laugh, use turn signals, accept everyone, respect everyone, hold fast to rules, love, eat potatoes, & when all fails, grab a pint of Guinness & watch football.

Sláinte & see you in October,

Ginny

Feel free to contact me with any "Chaplain-y" type needs: prayers, a listening ear, etc...that is part of this job.

Another Takeover?

Because of cyber-hacking by foreign countries and others, the Department of Home Land Security is considering whether to "help" by overseeing state elections.

HOMELAND SECURITY TO TAKE CHARGE OF ELECTIONS

DRUDGE REPORT

Ronald Reagan infamously said, "The nine most terrifying words in the English language are, I'm from the government and I'm here to help."

Once the government is given power, it will be abused. They start in a benign role and end up directly involved, controlling every aspect of the agency they claim to be assisting. Intrusive rules, overwhelming regulations and corruption follow:

NSA - Massive information sweeps, requiring no prior authorization for searches: phone records, emails, social media activity, and browsing history

IRS - Targeted conservative groups, either denying them tax-exempt status outright, or delaying that status until they could no longer be an effective part in the 2012 election.

Education - The Federal government has taken over national education standards at the expense of state and local control

ACA Health Care - The rules, doctors, hospitals, and patient care are now controlled by the government, as prices escalate and services decline.

Immigration Department - Granted citizenship to hundreds of people they were suppose to deport, sanctuary cities, welfare and voted fraud, the list is long.

VA, DMV, GSA - Government agencies riddled with corruption is never-ending, and no one is ever held accountable.

We would be better served insisting our state officials strengthen our current security measures for voting, rather than allowing the federal government to intrude.

The government should be the solution to our safety and well-being, unfortunately they are a big part of the problem.

Here's a good quote:

"If you put the federal government in charge of the Sahara Desert, in 5 years there would be a shortage of sand." ~ Milton Friedman
