Story & Toddler Time

November just came and went!

The holiday season has snuck up on us so quickly, and we're really starting to feel it in the air. The kids are quite excitable and their energy is absolutely electric.

We've been having so much fun!

For November, we learned about hibernation. The kids brought in their stuffed animals for a sleepover at the library. We shared all of our pictures of their adventures around the library throughout the week and the kids were so thrilled to see what they got up to while they were here.

Then, to kick-start the Thanksgiving celebrations, we had 2024 Bituminous Coal Queen Ava Smith as a special guest reader. The kids were pretty excited to meet her and loved the story she read to them.

They thought Turkey Trouble was hilarious!

Then, for the final week before Thanksgiving, the kids had a Friendsgiving with their classmates and friends. They brought their favorite snacks to share with the group and they had so much fun talking to each other, playing games and talking about all the things they're thankful for.

Toddler Time is quite young, but they are getting the hang of things at the library and having a great time, just as we are with them!

Watching these kiddos grow and learn is a wonderful sight to behold. We are so grateful for all of the kids and families that come to the library. It's some of the best times of our weeks!

We hope you had a Happy Thanksgiving!
Now, buckle up: here comes the winter holidays!

Paint & Snack

The Paint and Snack was a great success and the best time!

Everyone did such an amazing job with their paintings.

We can't wait to do it again!

We want to give a very special shout out to Mike Lesko and his students from Jefferson-Morgan Art Club: Julia Cox, Hannah Dilts, and Raelyn Gibbs.

You were all so wonderful. Thank you for your time and lending your talent!
