Poetry Writing Workshops

Tuesday, December 12th at 6:30pm

Writing poetry can seem daunting, especially if you do not feel you are naturally creative or bursting with poetic ideas. With the right inspiration and approach, you can learn to write poems that you can be proud to share with others.

Under the guidance of Cameron Marzelli, Lakeville resident and faculty member at Lesley University in Cambridge, these poetry writing workshops will allow you to experiment with various poetic forms, techniques and themes.

The sessions will include exercises that we hope will inspire, cajole, and tease you into writing poetry. The group will also read and analyze poems written in the different poetic forms or about varying themes or ideas as part of the learning process.

The group will meet on the 2nd Tuesday of the month at 6:30pm in the Trustee Room. We will begin with back to back monthly workshops on Tuesday, December 12th and Tuesday, January 9th and then move to every other month for the remainder of the year.

No prior experience or registration is required.
