Counselor's Corner

Happy March! This month we are focusing on empathy and valuing the differences that make us special, while at the same time becoming aware that we are all very similar on the inside! Students are focusing on understanding what it's like to "walk in someone else's shoes." Using "I-Statements" to convey feelings to others can be helpful. Students can say "I feel ___ when you ___ because ___." Can you please ___?" and in return, we can show empathy through our responses by saying "You sound ___ because I ____. Next time I will ____. How can I help you feel ___?" Empathy is really being aware of and sharing another person's feelings, experiences, and emotions. Putting forth the effort to see things from other points of view is a beneficial skill for building healthy relationships.

We are looking forward to celebrating Fairness for Character Counts soon, but please know that THERE HAS BEEN A DATE CHANGE... Please mark your calendars for Thursday, March 21st- we will be celebrating Fairness Character Counts Day by wearing ORANGE and honoring exemplary students on the morning announcements! Please send your kiddos to school wearing ORANGE on Thursday, 3-21-19! Thanks!

After that we will begin focusing on Caring for Character Counts into the month of April. We are discussing being kind and compassionate by showing others you care. It's important to express gratitude and offering to help people in need. Forgiving others is also an important piece to being caring and goes right along with our counseling lessons over empathy. These skills can be easily practiced in elementary school, yet are important life lessons that will be used for years to come!
