WILDLIFE

Snakes

- Most snakes will gladly take off in the opposite direction. Be aware of the surroundings. Snakes are often hard to see at first view, so watch for movement on top of the water (particularly if something is moving against the current), or in the trees. An excellent guide to the Snakes of Alabama can be found on the internet at:

<http://www.aces.edu/natural-resources/wildlife/awdm/reptiles/snakes.php>

Alligators

- Alligators inhabit the lower half of Alabama (including Montgomery) in a wide variety of rivers, lagoons, beaver ponds and lakes. Residents in the Southeastern U.S. peacefully coexist in close proximity with alligators. They are a fascinating native wildlife that serves an important function in wetland ecosystems. Alligators are an apex predator and survive on a diet of snakes, turtles, fish, wading birds, small mammals and any other free source of food. Although they have a primitive brain, they are very capable of learning to associate people with food. DO NOT FEED THE ALLIGATOR REGARDLESS OF SIZE. Once an animal becomes acclimated to being fed by humans, they lose their natural fear of human activity. For this reason, it is illegal to feed alligators. Violators can be fined and prosecuted. Do not discard fish heads, offal/entrails or other food wastes in or around the lakes. The fish cleaning station that was at the Marina has been removed. Residents are encouraged to bag fish heads or offal/entrails and place in the deep freeze until the morning of garbage pickup. DO NOT DISCARD FOOD WASTES or FISH PARTS INTO THE LAKE. Keep a watchful eye for pets that frequent the water's edge. Alligators do not differentiate between dogs and other natural prey items. Give a wide berth to any alligator on land or water. Do not approach or harass alligators. Approaching wildlife is harassment and violators can be fined and prosecuted.

OTHER REMINDERS

- Construction Road. The Waters construction road is designated for heavy-duty construction vehicles only. We do not own the property and our agreement with the property owner(s) requires that we limit traffic to construction traffic only. Please DO NOT use the construction road, at any time and do not dump items on the roadside.
- It is important to learn to watch for approaching storms and high winds. Getting caught in the rain is one thing, but you don't want to be caught crossing a large lake in the middle of a lightning storm. Be sure to take an emergency whistle or cell phone with you when on the lake.
- The pool, lakes, boats and other amenities must be cleared at the first sound of thunder or sight of lightning. Members and guests should keep a safe distance from objects that would endanger them from being electrocuted. Members, and their guests, are not permitted to use the amenities until the conditions permit.
- Rights of Ways – The use of the rights of ways for plantings, rocks, or other materials is prohibited as such items can obstruct views and can cause damage to vehicles and will be removed by The Waters Assembly without notice.

Parental Supervision

- Parents should supervise all children when playing around the edge of any of The Waters lakes, and when using The Waters amenities.

Management reserves the right to adjust or add any rules as needed. Additional Amenity rules may be posted or implemented without notice. Management reserves the right to refuse anyone the use of the lakes or other amenities. Failure to adhere to these rules may cause the loss of privileges. If a Member or its Guests violate any of these rules, Assembly Management reserve the right to bar the Member from using The Waters Assembly, Inc. amenities.

The Rules and Regulations are in place to protect your Assembly property. Please be a good neighbor and follow the Rules and Regulations. If you see that any Assembly property needs attention, please notify the Information Center (334) 272-3200 or email – TheAssembly@TheWatersAL.com.

Periodically, The Waters Assembly Rules & Regulations CHANGE. The most current copy of this document can be obtained from The Waters Information Center or by visiting The Assembly's website at www.TheWatersAssembly.com.

This is your community – please take care in using the amenities; just as you would your own property.
