

Bio-Sketch for Belinda C. Anderson

Dr. Belinda C. Anderson earned a doctorate in higher education administration from Virginia Tech. She received her bachelor and master's degrees from Radford University in history and social sciences. During her academic tenure, she served as Dean of the College of Liberal Arts at Norfolk State University, President of Virginia Union University, Vice President for Academic Affairs at Virginia Union University, Director of Student Affairs and Academic Affairs Coordinator at the State Council of Higher Education for Virginia, Dean, School of General and Continuing Education at Norfolk State University, and Director of Academic Advising Services at Radford University. Dr. Anderson also taught social studies at I.C. Norcom High School in Portsmouth, Virginia and Granby High School in Norfolk, Virginia.

Dr. Anderson has over thirty years of managerial experience at the director level and above in higher education administration at both the institutional and state levels. She has an exceptional background in administering academic and student affairs programs and has a proven track record initiating and implementing change and new processes. Dr. Anderson is a collaborative transformative leader who is both student-centered and student-focused.