Liturgical Singing

The Christian faithful who gather together as one to await the Lord’s coming are instructed by the Apostle Paul to sing together psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs. Singing is the sign of the heart’s joy. Thus St. Augustine says rightly, “Singing is for one who loves.” There is also the ancient proverb: “Whoever sings well prays twice.”

Great importance should therefore be attached to the use of singing in the celebration of the Mass, with due consideration for the culture of the people and abilities of each liturgical assembly. Although it is not always necessary (e.g., in weekday Masses) to sing all the texts that are of themselves meant to be sung, every care should be taken that singing by the ministers and the people is not absent in celebrations that occur on Sundays and on holy days of obligation. In the choosing of the parts actually to be sung, however, preference should be given to those that are of greater importance and especially to those to be sung by the priest or the deacon or the lector, with the people responding, or by the priest and people together.

It is the right of the community of Christ’s faithful that especially in the Sunday celebration there should customarily be true and suitable sacred music.

The Divine Name

In liturgical celebrations, in chants and prayers the name of God in the form of the tetragrammaton, YHWH, is neither to be used nor pronounced but instead the ancient practice must be observed of representing it by the expression THE LORD.
