

Schizophrenia is a unique human disorder. The illness occurs with a similar prevalence around the world, across races and culture. It is a type of illness in which a person cannot tell what is real and what is imagined.

Horizon Health Network can help in the home when changes in ability to function, perception and behavior occur. With this illness it is important to get help, symptoms can be sudden and severe.