Pastor's Corner

I recently began facilitating our next Discipleship Essentials small group, and the very first lesson was perfect for the start of the Fall quarter: PRAYER! Isn't that what we all need to be doing as we seek to live out the mission Christ has given us – personally and collectively as Puckety? How else are we going to continue to capitalize on the relationship with our schools? How else are we going to discern the outreach and service opportunities each of us is called to in the community? How else are we going to find the strength to stay plugged in with the weekly use of our spiritual gifts? In Luke 11:1, the disciples ask Jesus to teach them to pray. Of all possibilities, prayer was the matter on their hearts. Why? There are many possible answers to that question; but for now, I want to highlight one: “desperate people” pray. They pray without thinking about it; they pray even if they are not sure who they're praying to or if anyone out there is listening at all. When we reach the limit of our resources, we pray instinctively, reflexively — like the way someone lacking oxygen gasps for breath and the way someone who is falling reaches out for something to grab. It is not bad to pray in a time of crisis. One of God's most amazing attributes is that He is gracious enough to accept people when they turn to Him in sheer desperation, even when they've been ignoring Him for years. (That still amazes me ... and teaches me). Desperation prayers have been the beginning of spiritual life for many people. But, by themselves, such prayers are not sufficient to sustain spiritual life. It's an incomplete picture, like a puzzle with just the corner and side pieces put together. Many of us fall into a pattern where the only times we pray are the times when we are prompted by crisis or pain; the rest of the time we rely on our own strength and cleverness. This pattern points to what we really believe regarding prayer. In most ordinary moments, we are not convinced that prayer really changes things.

Many people believe that their prayers won't change God's actions, so they ask themselves what the point is of praying. But look at how seriously the writers of Scripture viewed prayer. In Revelation 8, John describes a scene in heaven after the seals have been broken on the scrolls that tell the story of human sin and God's judgment. Then a remarkable thing happens. John writes: “There was silence in heaven for about half an hour.” During this time an angel with a golden censer comes to the altar and offers much incense, which represents prayers rising from earth: “The smoke of the incense, together with the prayers of the saints, went up before God.” John Ortberg speaks to this: “Usually we think of events on earth being interrupted because of actions taken in heaven. However, here it is the other way around. All of heaven comes to a standstill. The endless songs and praises of heavenly hosts suddenly stop. Why? Because someone is praying. Heaven, to some degree, ‘stops’ so the prayers of the saints — your prayers and mine, every one of them – can rise before God. They are heard. They matter. Prayers of real human beings – like you and me – interrupt heaven.” (The Life You’ve Always Wanted).

Walter Wink says that this is the message of John’s text: “History belongs to the intercessors – those who believe and pray the future into being.” History does not belong to the powerful, or the wealthy, or the rulers, or the armies, or the corporations, or the global media. What they do on their own, apart from God, may look impressive for a time. But the day will come when all merely human actions will be tossed, forgotten, on the ash heap of the dead past. History belongs to the intercessors. Interceding is what Jesus is doing now: “It is Christ Jesus who died, who was raised, who is at the right hand of God, who indeed intercedes for us” (Rom. 8:34). His teaching ministry lasted 3 years. His intercessory ministry has been going on for (at least) 2,000. That staggers me. The Bible’s teaching on prayer leads overwhelmingly to one conclusion: Prayer changes things. Does it seem like your prayers don’t affect change? Like they don’t always matter? What if you believed that they did impact heaven and impact earth? How would you pray differently?

From the Hearts and Hands of Session

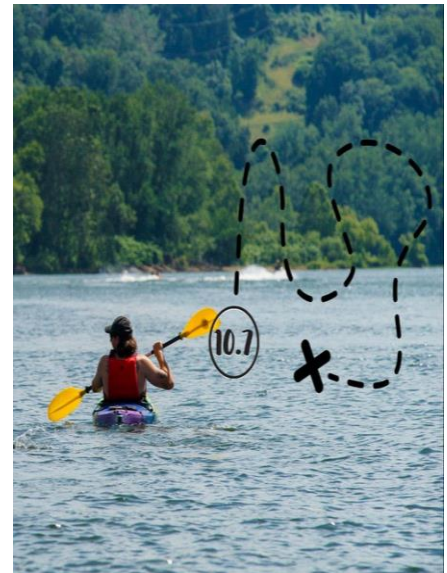

The Discipleship Team would like to invite all the families of the church - and community – to join us for our “Back to Church” Breakfast at 9:00 AM on Sun. September 10th at Faith Hall (before Worship). We’ll have pancakes (different kinds), sausage, juice, coffee and more – including activity placemats for kids & families. Afterward, please invite others to stay for worship and Children’s Church (kids excused early in the service to this time designed especially for them). This is a great way to kickstart the school year, so don’t just mark your own calendar, invite someone personally to join you.

We met for our Annual Joint Board Meeting with the Deacons on August 8th, to review how we have lived out our Church Mission in the last year and brainstorm how we could all, personally and collectively, “honor God, grow in faith, and improve our community and world” in the year to come. We reminded ourselves these aren’t just words on a website or in a visitor’s gift bag. We prayed and opened ourselves to the Spirit. And now we need all of your help to make it a reality. Soli Deo Gloria!

Youth Group

Our Youth Group will begin with our KICKOFF event on Sunday, Sept. 24th from 6:00 to 8:30 PM. Students in 5th grade and up are welcome (any school district). We’ll have games in the big field (weather permitting), a pizza party, and a great chance to get to know new people. Students are encouraged to bring a friend and help us make it a great start. Our first outing of the year will be Kayaking at 10.7 Marina in Verona, PA on the Allegheny River – on Sun. October 8th – leaving from the church at 2:30 PM (hoping to be back shortly before 6:00). NOTE – any student who wants to go MUST RSVP with Pastor Brian by September 17th DEADLINE. The cost is $12 for students in youth group (5th grade and up) – due NO LATER than the Sept. 24th Kickoff night.

The family of Ellen Fisher would like to thank everyone for the cards, their prayers, support, and love over the past several months. We are grateful for the way God used all of you to ease our sadness and remind us of His care and love. John, Rebecca and family and Tim, Donna and family

A Devotional For You - Read Romans 12:14-21 & 1 Samuel 24:8-19

When I preached on Romans 12 a couple weeks ago, I was only able to really do justice to the first half of the chapter. So, I decided to use the devotional space of the Postscripts to include some of the rest. In the final verses of the chapter, Paul gives us explicit counsel for loving a hostile world (e.g., “do not repay evil for evil,” “do not take revenge,” feed and show compassion to your enemy, etc.). Maybe we’ve been anesthetized to this message with the many times we’ve heard similar expressions from Jesus in various contexts. But, still, this is supremely radical, because it is supremely unnatural. Our conditioned reflex is to “hit back.” And the world gives us no help, because it says common sense demands “getting even.” Paul says the way of renewed minds is different, and has two elements. First, trust God. Paul echoes Christ by saying we must trust God to work in the life of the one who has wronged us. In some mysterious way, God’s wrath (displayed his way) may even bring enemies to repentance. Whatever happens, God will be equitable in the end.

The second element is to do positive good. We don’t stop at passive resignation (“Fine, God, I won’t get even, but it’s up to you now, leave me out of it.”). Nope, sorry, verse 20 exhorts us: “If your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink.” This extends to, if they are grieving or despairing (far from internally gloating), we are to comfort them. Paul says that by doing such things we “heap burning coals on their head.” You’re probably thinking, “Huh?!” It basically means that grace will wake them up in an intense (even uncomfortable) way.

One of the best examples of this in Scripture is the exchange between David and Saul after David had been so close to Saul in the cave that he cut off a corner of the king’s robe, but for conscience’s sake would not lift a finger against Saul (even though all David’s friends would have told him to do so in a second because he had been maliciously seeking to end David’s life and God had anointed David to be the next king anyway!) You can read about this in 1 Sam. 24. When I was on pilgrimage in Israel they took us to the area of these caves (in En Gedi National Park – see image), and we were likely at some point within 300 feet of the exact cave in which this happened. While there, I imagined David coming out of one of the caves, holding up the piece of his robe, and crying out to Saul, “This day you have seen with your own eyes how the Lord delivered you into my hands in the cave. Some urged me to kill you, but I said, ‘I will not lift my hand against him, for he is yet the Lord’s anointed.’ Now see this corner of your robe in my hand, and understand that I have not wronged you” ... The ‘coals’ David heaped on Saul’s head moved the wicked king to say, “You are more righteous than I – you have treated me well, but I have treated you badly ... When a man finds his enemy, does he let him get away unharmed? May the Lord reward you for the way you treated me” (24:16-19).

One last illustration. Toward the end of his life, it is said that W.C. Fields – a comedian known to be crude and egotistical – but near the end of his life he was seen reading the Bible. A surprised friend asked him why he was doing so, and Fields answered, “Looking for loopholes, looking for loopholes” ...

But in relation to Paul's words, there are no loopholes. We are never under any circumstances where we must avenge ourselves. And not only are we called to refrain from avenging ourselves, we are to do positive good to our enemies. Impossible? Our Lord did it. And before you say, "Well, yeah, but he's God." Just remember Jesus once said in John's Gospel, "I tell you the truth, you will do even greater things than I have done" (John 14:12) ... I don't think he meant miracles. I think he meant fallen, fickle human beings forgiving other human beings for the seemingly unforgivable. Love in the church and love in the world go together. They are the evidence of a renewed mind and transformed life. The Holy Spirit can do all this through us. So let us love the church, not as an end in itself, but as practice for loving the world. Amen.

We as a church are still supporting the Try Life Center by going to their Lower Burrell facility on the second Tuesday of the month and volunteering to organize and sort through the donations they have received. Those who have already participated in this program can confirm that this is an easy way to give back and support a group that supports those most vulnerable, mothers and young children. Ideally we like to send in a group of 4-6 people from Puckety. We need a few more volunteers for September, October, November and December. If you have volunteered before please consider signing up for a slot. If you are curious and have some questions please see Wiebke. You do not have to stand for the whole time you are there, we work as a group and can easily be the legs for the willing hearts that have unwilling legs and feet. This is also a great opportunity to show off your snazzy new Puckety shirt!

Memorial Banners - the Worship Team would like to procure 4-5 more hanging banners for the sanctuary so a different pair could be rotated about every 6 weeks – mid January – mid November. As before, this is an opportunity for families/members to purchase a banner (2' x 6') in memory of a loved one. The relevant information would be included on the backside of the banner, and in the printed announcements/postscripts for the respective period it is displayed. The average cost is about $100/banner. Suggested options are available in the office (particularly Thanksgiving and Pentecost) If you are interested in purchasing one to be used in our yearly worship, please contact Rev. Kilbert to see the options. Thank you.

It's here again... Choir time! Time to learn old songs, new songs, fast songs, slow songs. And all in praise of our Lord and Savior. We have a seat for you. Say "yes" to God's call and just try it out. First rehearsal is Thursday, Sept 14 at 7:00. First choir Sunday is September 24. You can return to the pews after the choir anthem or stay in the chancel. We are so VERY blessed to have such a nice group who know and believe it is their ministry. Come join us. Contact any choir member or director Lorraine Menk at 724-339-9531.

The Operation Christmas Child fundraiser dinner for our area will be held Saturday 9/23 from 4-7 pm at Grace Community Church. They are serving Pulled Pork Sandwich Platters. The side dishes will include macaroni and cheese, coleslaw, applesauce and of course a dessert. Cost will be $15/ adult, $10/ children under 12; $1 discounted presale tickets will be available in the Grace Church office beginning 9/11 and after worship 9/17. They hope to see you there!

Women's Bible Study:

We will be meeting in Faith Hall on September 3rd to discuss Episode 2 and September 17th to discuss Episode 3. Bring your lunch and your questions as we continue the journey of The Chosen.

As the days grow shorter we get to look forward to the most wonderful time of year, Halloween!!!! Join us for our 3rd Annual Trunk or Treat. To make this a success we need volunteers to bring their cars and hand out candy and we need volunteers to run the games and craft station. We have put up two sign-up sheets in the hallway. One for cars to come and hand out candy and another for those willing to help in other ways. Please prayerfully consider signing up for this event in some way. Invite your family, friends and neighbors to join us for this event. If you have questions, please see Wiebke or Kelly.

AV Team:

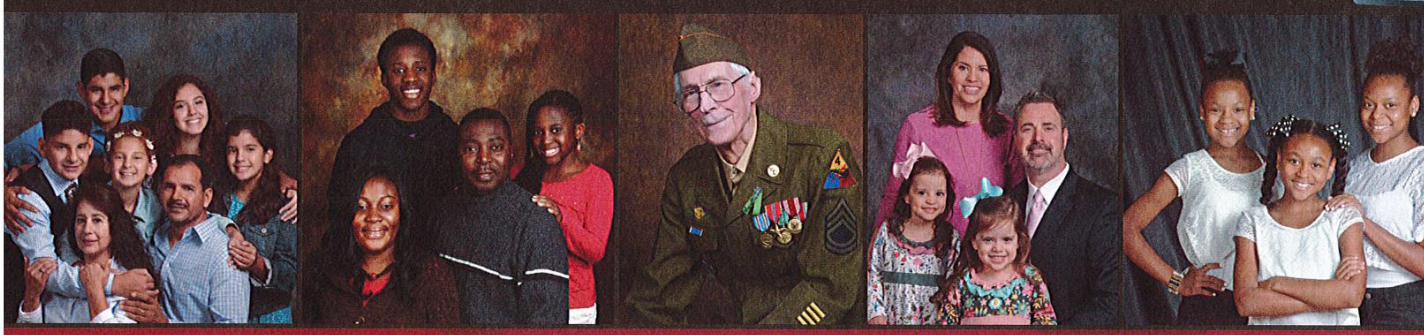

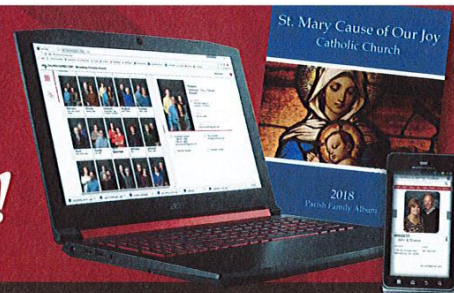

We wanted to thank all of you that stopped by our table during the ministry fair. We are still looking for help so if you are curious about any of the information you picked up or options you discussed with us please reach out to Wiebke. We are always open to having someone interested in seeing the work we do by spending a worship service with us.
