

Dick Laursen Scholarship Recipient Graduates

Luke Stutler, recipient of the Texas Agricultural Irrigation Association's Dick Laursen Memorial Scholarship in 2013, recently graduated with a degree in Plant and Soil Science from the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources, Texas Tech University. Our congratulations to Luke who completed his BS degree in four years and plans to pursue a Masters Degree at TTU. Luke exemplifies the intent of the Dick Laursen Scholarship to prepare professionals for careers in improving agriculture production and efficient use of water resources. TAIA is proud to have been able to assist Luke in this accomplishment and wishes him the best in his continued studies.

2017 Scholarship Recipients Announced

Two High School graduating seniors were selected to receive this year's Dick Laursen Memorial Scholarship. Macy Lange, Ballinger, plans to attend Texas A&M University and major in Agricultural Leadership and Development with a minor in Agribusiness. Holt Bivens, Munday, will be attending Texas Tech University to major in Agribusiness. This year's Scholarship Committee; Greg Sokora, Mark McCormick and James Prochaska, felt that both of these candidates were equally deserving of the scholarship. Congratulations to both from the TAIA Board of Directors and the Scholarship Committee and good luck as they pursue their academic goals. They join the current recipients Emily Wade at Texas Tech University and Kaylee Ites at Texas A&M University.
