

Push is on to disbar James Comey after Clinton scandal

A crusading lawyer filed a bar grievance this week accusing former FBI Director James Comey of lying to Congress and destroying potential evidence in the Clinton email scandal, in a process that could end up costing him his law license.

Ty Clevenger filed the grievance in New York, where Mr. Comey was a former U.S. attorney and is licensed to practice law.

Mr. Clevenger said Mr. Comey's testimony to Congress that he did not predetermine the outcome of the FBI's probe into former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton is belied by revelations this week that he in fact started drafting an exoneration months before even speaking with Mrs. Clinton.

"Insofar as Mr. Comey gave materially false testimony to Congress, it appears that he violated Rules 1.0(w), 3.3(a)(1), and 8.4 of the New York Rules of Professional Conduct," Mr. Clevenger wrote.

Comey may be the sacrificial lamb here; but it is Hillary Clinton who is fast becoming the "live liability."

And those in the Bowels of Power in DC in the Occupied, Unhinged, Surveilled States of Amerika have a particularly vile distaste for live liabilities.

I would be reasonably sure that those in her inner circle have come up with some very reasonable suggestions about countries where she and Bill could live comfortably, with one thing in common: they have no extradition treaties with the US government.
