Methods and Sources for all maps and figures in the essay are at
http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appendix-to-flaneur.html
Figure 2: Detail of John Hills Map of Philadelphia, 1796

Sources and Methods: http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appendix-to-flaneur.html
Sources and Methods: http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appendix-to-flaneur.html
Blocks in red are the most densely populated.

Sources and Methods:
http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appendix-to-flaneur.html
Figure 5: Householders in Apple Tree Alley

Philadelphia 1789-1791

Sources and Methods:
http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appendix-to-flaneur.html
Figure 6: Deaths from Yellow Fever

Yellow Fever Deaths 1793

Sources and Methods:
http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appendix-to-flaneur.html

Principal Investigator: Dr. Billy Smith, Montana State University Dept. of History and Philosophy, bgs@montana.edu
Background map created by John Hills, 1797, Wheat and Brun no. 468, Library of Congress
Structure and people data from the 1791 city directory, 1790 federal census, and the 1799 state tax list
Data assembled and analyzed by Dr. Billy Smith and Paul Stultz, Montana State University Dept. of History and Philosophy,
Tara Chesley-Preston, Alex Schwab, and Stuart Challender, Montana State University Dept. of Earth Sciences
Figure 7: Laborers and Merchants Householders

Sources and Methods:
http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appendix-to-flaneur.html

Project Directors: Prof. Billy Smith, Dept. of History, Montana State University, & Dr. Paul Sivitz, Dept. of History, Idaho State University
GIS Map & analytical team: Alex Schwab, Tara Chelsey-Preston, Alice Hecht & Prof. Stuart Challenger, Dept. of Earth Sciences, Montana State University
Data compiled from the 1791 Philadelphia City Directory, 1790 Census & 1789 PA Tax List. Background map: John Hills, 1796, Library of Congress
Figure 8: Laborers and Merchant Householders in 1801

Sources and Methods:
http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appen

Project Directors: Prof. Billy Smith, Dept. of History, Montana State University, & Dr. Paul Sivitz, Dept. of History, Idaho State University. GIS Map & analytical team: Alex Schwab, Tara Chesley-Preston, Alice Hecht, & Prof. Stuart Challenger, Dept. of Earth Sciences, Montana State University. Data compiled from the 1801 City Directory & 1796 PA Tax List. Background map: John Hills, 1786, Library of Congress.
Philadelphia 1789-1791

Sources and Methods:
http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appen

Principal Investigator: Dr. Billy Smith, Montana State University Dept. of History and Philosophy, bgs@email.edu
Background map created by John Hills, 1797, Wheat and Sian no. 468, Library of Congress
Structure and people data from the 1791 city directory, 1790 federal census, and the 1799 state tax list
Data assembled and analyzed by Dr. Billy Smith and Paul Sivitz, Montana State University Dept. of History and Philosophy, Tara Chesley-Preston, Alex Schwab, and Stuart Challender, Montana State University Dept. of Earth Sciences
Figure 10: Householders in Coates Street (Northern Liberties)

Sources and Methods:
http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appen
Figure 11: Shoemakers

Shoemakers 1801

Sources and Methods:
http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appen

Figure 12: Female Householders

Red is higher density

Sources and Methods: http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appen
Figure 13

Occupations of Women Householders

Sources and Methods:
http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appen
Figure 14: Washerwomen Householders

Philadelphia 1801

Sources and Methods:
http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appen

Project Directors: Prof. Billy Smith, Dept. of History, Montana State University, & Dr. Paul Sivitz, Dept. of History, Idaho State University. GIS Map & analytical team: Alex Schwab, Tara Chesley-Friston, Alice Hecht, & Prof. Stuart Challenger, Dept. of Earth Sciences, Montana State University. Data compiled from the 1801 City Directory & 1786 PA Tax List. Background map: John Hills, 1786, Library of Congress.
Figure 15: Slave-Owning Householders

Sources and Methods:
http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appen

Principal Investigator: Dr. Billy Smith, Montana State University Dept. of History and Philosophy, bgs@montana.edu
Background map created by John Hills, 1787, Wheat and Brun no. 468, Library of Congress
Structure and people data from the 1791 city directory, 1790 federal census, and the 1769 state tax list
Data assembled and analyzed by Dr. Billy Smith and Paul Sivicz, Montana State University Dept. of History and Philosophy.
Tara Chesley-Preston, Alex Schwab, and Stuart Chatterider, Montana State University Dept. of Earth Sciences
Figure 16: Free African American Householders

Sources and Methods:
http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appen

Principal Investigator: Dr. Billy Smith, Montana State University Dept. of History and Philosophy, bgs@montana.edu
Background map created by John Hills, 1797, Wheat and Brun no. 468, Library of Congress
Structure and people data from the 1791 city directory, 1790 federal census, and the 1789 state tax list
Data assembled and analyzed by Dr. Billy Smith and Paul Switz, Montana State University Dept. of History and Philosophy
Tara Chesley-Preston, Alex Schwab, and Stuart Challender, Montana State University Dept. of Earth Sciences
Figure 17: African American Households containing 6 to 15 people

Philadelphia 1789-1791

Free black households containing 6 to 15 people

Sources and Methods: http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appen
Figure 18: Householders in Helltown

Helltown 1791

Sources and Methods:
http://www.mappinghistoricphiladelphia.org/appen

Project Directors: Prof. Billy Smith, Dept. of History, Montana State University, & Dr. Paul Stivitz, Dept. of History, Idaho State University
GIS Map & analytical team: Alex Schwab, Tara Chelsey-Preston, Alice Hecht & Prof. Stuart Challenger, Dept. of Earth Sciences, Montana State University
Data compiled from the 1791 Philadelphia City Directory, 1790 Census & 1789 PA Tax List. Background map: John Hills, 1796, Library of Congress