What are Small Groups at SPX? How can I join one?

What are Small Groups?

At St. Pius X, Small Groups are a place to grow as Christ's disciple: in relationship with God, in community with those here, and in love with those yet to come.

What do Small Groups do?

Pray together, share life together and pray for each other. As we come to experience, life is hard and Small Groups allow us to 'do' life together. Each week groups meet and dive deeper into the message series from the weekend Mass and apply it to their lives.

What is the time commitment?

Initially 8-weeks - you meet for about 90 minutes weekly at a group member's home. No preparation needed: your meeting will be guided using the message series called "Community." Groups then continue to meet for about 2 years until they divide and grow into forming new Small Groups to share Christ and their story with others.

Who are Small Groups for?

All ages. We have groups for Men, Women, Couples and Mixed Adults. (We also have Small Group settings for our kids and teens within Kids Ministry, Middle School Ministry & High School Ministry.)

When can I join a Small Group?

One of the best ways for a new group to form is to just ask people you know! Consider a group for people of the same stage in life - moms of middle schoolers, couples with young kids, widows, guys who like to golf! A common thread can be a great way to get a group together that can form a group to go deeper together as a small group.

For adults, we also usually have two Church-wide launches during the year – once in the Spring, the other in the Fall.

What do Small Groups require of me? Show Up. Join In. Be Real.

Show up. Small Groups are all about relationships – and you have to be there to experience it.

Join In. Participate in the conversation. Everyone brings a unique point of view. Your group won't be complete unless you contribute.

Be Real. Be yourself and allow God to work through the group and you. Being vulnerable is hard, but God honors our trust in Him and others.

Where two or three more gather in my name, there I am with them. (Matthew 18:20)
