(food for thought) (Bulletin 2 January, 2022)
 Gospel: Mt 2: 1-12. “True Light from True Light”

The birth of Christ was a turning point in the history of the world. Once again we, as Christians, take this Christmastime to proclaim the mysterious event of the Incarnation. God's explosion into human history had very humble beginnings. A young, mother and a confused, but faith-filled husband brought their hopes, joys, fears and trust to a stable in Bethlehem - and gave to the world the first-born Son of God, wrapped in swaddling clothes and warmed by the breath of sheep and oxen.

Today we reflect on the wonderful things God has done for us in Christ Jesus. He can be found in humble circumstances, in surprising places and, by the world's standards, among the least important. Christmas celebrates the Light of Christ. God's hospitality reaches beyond all borders and touches all people. For God there are neither outsiders nor aliens.

We are all surrounded by this brilliant Light. A blessing has been said over us and a new name given us. This year's Christmas will enable us to discover God-With-Us anew and, with him, the key to our existence, the taste of the essential, the fountain of peace, the joy of dialog and the wonder of true freedom.

And from our hearts, hope will overflow.
