EN HILSEN FRA PAUL

It was fun seeing so many of you at the August meeting after the summer break. The salad and dessert potluck was tasty and it was fun to graze through the variety of items.

September is a very important month for our lodge. It will be our chance to select a nominating committee for the upcoming election of officers. When we pause and look around at lodge meetings and functions, we realize all the people involved in the operation and success of the Lodge are volunteers. They are our brother and sister members doing what they love to do. We are all working towards the common goal of perpetuating our heritage and learning more about it through cultural and social experiences. So think about the future year and ask yourself "How can I become a part of this experience?"

To all you lefse making "wanabes" circle the lefse making days on your calendar. This is a great way to learn all the steps in the creation of this delicacy.

You are all cordially invited to attend the 39th Anniversary of our lodge. See the details in this issue.

Fraternally,
 Paul Wiig,
 President, Fjellheim Lodge

REVEILLE 3

September 21, 7:00pm at Atonement Lutheran Church, Boulder

Vesterheim Lodge's September 21 program will be a wonderful musical salute starring the singing group REVEILLE 3. Step back in time to an era of war bonds, rations, scrap drives, swing music and GI's. This story of three ladies living during the 1940's is brought to life thru the music made popular by the Andrews Sisters (raised in Minnesota by a Norwegian mother) and woven with letters, inspired by actual letters written during this time in history. How these ladies live and relationships changed during WWII includes narrations of love lost and found, a yearning for a return to a normal life and the strength and determination of those living back home to help with the war efforts. The songs included will be Boogie Woogie BugleBoy, Don't Sit Under the Apple Tree, Sentimental Journey, and many more!

Following the program at 8 pm will be coffee and refreshments.

THANKS FROM TUBFRIM

I want to extend a hearty TAKK FOR HJELPEN to everyone who has saved and clipped stamps for our Tubfrim program.

Tubfrim was started 84 years ago by a postmaster in Norway who began to collect and sell used stamps. The profits were used to help children with tuberculosis. Today the monies raised helps to improve the quality of life for children and youth with disabilities and support tuberculosis research. Each year approximately half a million NOK is raised for this purpose. The largest collector outside of Norway is Sons of Norway in the U.S.A.

Tubfrim collects stamps from any country in the world. They also are happy to receive entire collections, old envelopes, first day covers and postcards. If these are very old please do not cut off the stamp but send the whole envelope/postcard. They also accept used telephone cards (an increasingly rare item since the advent of the cell phone).

Our lodge recently sent an 8# box to the Norwegian Seaman's Church in San Francisco. (An incredible number of stamps considering how many of us receive more e-mails in a day than we do stamped letters in a week). From there the stamps will be sent to Norway in bulk with collections from other Lodges. For each pound we send in, we also send a postcard to the National Tubfrim chairman to be entered into a contest for a free trip to Norway.

Please continue to bring your stamps to the monthly lodge meeting. Leave a small margin around the stamp when you trim them (about 1/2 inch) or bring in an entire bag of stamped envelopes and we'll trim. If you know a business that receives lots of stamped mail, maybe you can convince them to save them for us. Ask your neighbor and your relatives to save them also

From the children and youth with disabilities who benefit from this mission may I say... MANGE TUSEN TAKK

CAMP REPORTS

The following reports are from our Colorado Heritage members, Emily Strand and Lukas Horan. Each attended the 2012 Camp Trollfjell two week session with a half campership provided by the Colorado Past Presidents Club (and half by parents) Colorado was well represented this year: Erik Peters, Vesterheim, taught the Norwegian Language class, and led the staff in final day's clean-up in the most complete method ever done. His wife Julie Horan also joined in and attended the program on Saturday, July 21st. Matthew and Rebekah Strand, Stein Fjell, were senior Counselors while Abigail Strand worked as a CIT (Counselor in Training)

Thank you,

Bernice Kwan, CPPC President

Lyle Berge, CPPC Secretary

Bjorg Mapstone, CPPC Treasurer

Dear Lyle,

Thank you so much for the half tuition campership. Camp Trollfjell was my first time at overnight camp and it was a really great two weeks.

I thought sleeping in tents out in the meadow was really fun. Even if it was usually cold in the mornings.

My favorite classes were rosemailing and heritage with JuJu. I painted a rosemailing plaque that my Mom and Erik plan to hang in our hall.

I really liked learning to sing in Norwegian and learning about the language. The arts and crafts were really cool! I wore my tie-died shirt to bible camp last week.

I thought the hike to Lover's Leap was a lot of fun, but it was hot!

The evening activities were a blast. I liked everyone at camp. My favorite campers were Mason and Max.

I really liked everything about camp. It was all really great. I can't wait until next year. I hope Mason comes again.

I'm definitely planning on coming next year.

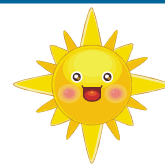

I hope other kids from Boulder decide to come to Camp Trollfjell because they will learn a lot and have lots of fun too.

That's it for now.

Lukas Horan

THE SUNNY CORNER

To all who are having September birthdays and anniversaries, Happy Birthday and Happy Anniversary! We wish you the best and hope you have a great day and wonderful celebration.

Millie Sullivan will be having surgery on August 24 to fix the veins in her legs that have given her such trouble. Say a prayer and keep her in your thoughts as she goes through this process.

There is a 3-day weekend just ahead of us – so fly your flags as we celebrate Labor Day – the last big bash of the summer. Other events on the calendar for September are – Grandparents Day on the 9th, the Autumnal Equinox on the 22nd, and most importantly, the Høstfest starts on the 25th in Minot, ND. Enjoy the month and the beginning of fall, with its oranges, golds, and other brilliant colors.

Just a reminder: Life is a coin. You can spend it anyway you wish, but you can only spend it once.

Karen Ravnaas,

Sunshine Director, 390-0621

My Adventures at Camp Norge

I would like to thank the Colorado Past President's Club for their scholarship allowing me to attend Camp Norge's Language/Heritage Camp. It was exciting and full of new adventures.

I had fun catching little frogs in the meadow. Some even jumped into the swimming pool.

My favorite activities were crafts, dance, heritage, and rosemailing. In crafts I learned how to make my own book. My favorite dance was the mountain march. In heritage, I learned how to make rope. I also made a sampler. In rosemailing I painted a board and an ornament.

In the evenings we sometimes had a campfire. There were funny skits and jokes.

One time for our evening activity we had "Viking Olympics". My favorite competition was the bubble gum race. They had a plate with a piece of gum hidden under a mound of whipped cream. Without using hands, we had to find the bubble gum, chew it and blow a large bubble. It was hard. Another game involved a horseshoe and running up the long flight of stairs.

Usually, they had ice cream bars for dessert, but one night they had s'mores. It was my favorite.

Graduation happened on the last Friday night of camp. It involved all of the 13 year olds "graduating from camp" since they would be too old to attend next year. One by one, each 13 year old received some ice water down their back and received their rune. I am 13 this year. The ice water wasn't so bad and my rune is really interesting. Last, I made lots of friends. Lilly and Rose were sisters who live in Petaluma, California. Emily and Emily also became good friends of mine. Since there were three Emilys, we each had our own nick name: Unicorn, Arf, and Sparkles.

Overall, I had a lot of fun at camp. Thanks for the scholarship that made it possible for me to attend!

Sincerely,

Emily Strand

LITT PÅ NORSK... SKOLESTART I NORGE

Skolestart kommer snart for barn over hele verden. I Norge er det det samme, kongefamilien gjør seg klar til at Prinsesse Ingrid Alexandra og Prins Sverre Magnus begynner på skolen igjen.

Prins Sverre Magnus begynte på Jansløkka barneskole i Asker ifjor. Prinsen ble fulgt av sine foreldre og av sin bestemor Dronningen på sin første skoledag.

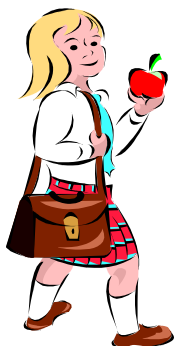

Vel framme møtte Prinsen også en "gammel elev", søsteren Prinsesse Ingrid Alexandra.

Prinsesse Ingrid Alexandra (8) begynte for øvrig på skolen for to år siden, og går denne høsten i 3. klasse. Hennes skolestart i 2010 var historisk, i så måte at det var første gang en tronarving gikk på sin nærskole.

Som ventet var det stort oppmøte da prinsesse Ingrid Alexandra begynte på Jansløkka barneskole i Asker. I tillegg til mamma og pappa var også kongen og mormor Marit Tjessem med på første skoledag.

Prinsesse Ingrid Alexandra var den første i Kongefamilien som begynte på Jansløkka skole. Kronprins Haakon og Prinsesse Märtha Louise gikk på Smestad, en godt stykke unna barndomshjemmet Skaugum. Smestad var også Kong Haralds barneskole, men på grunn av krigen ble hans første skoledag i USA.

Kongen var svært fornøyd med barnebarnets første skoledag. "Det har vært en fin dag. Jeg synes det er fint kronprinsparet har valgt annerledes", fortalte han når han møtte pressen. "Til tross for at skolen nå får en elev med kongelig blod, endres ikke rutine for den første skoledagen."

A LITTLE IN ENGLISH... FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL IN NORWAY

School is starting soon for children all over the world. In Norway it is the same, the royal family makes themselves ready for Princess Ingrid Alexandra and Prince Sverre Magnus to go back to school.

Prince Sverre Magnus began Jansløkka school in Asker last year. The Prince was accompanied by his parents and by his grandmother, the Queen, on his first day at school.

Once getting to school, the Prince met an "older student", his sister, Princess Ingrid Alexandra.

Princess Ingrid Alexandra (8) started school two years ago and this fall will begin in the 3rd grade. Her first day of school in 2010 was historic, in such a way that it was the first time an heir to the throne attended the local public school.

As expected, there was a large attendance when Princess Ingrid Alexandra began Jansløkka school in Asker. In addition to mom and dad, the king and grandma (Mette-Marit's mother) Marit Tjessem were along for the first day of school.

Princess Ingrid Alexandra was the first in the Royal Family who started Jansløkka school. Crown Prince Haakon and Princess Martha Louise attended Smestad, a good distance away from their childhood home in Skaugum. Smestad was also King Harald's elementary school, but because of the war, his first day of school was in the United States.

The king was very pleased with his grandchild's first day of school. "It has been a nice day. I think it's nice Prince Haakon and Princess Mette-Marit have chosen differently", he said when he met the press. "Although the school now has a student with royal blood it does not change the procedures of the first day of school."

AMERICAN FOOTBALL IN NORWAY

For Americans, many associate the crisp air of fall with football. It is no question that American football dominates sports enthusiasts within the United States. But over the past few decades, others around the world have taken up the sport as well. In fact, the first American Football Federation outside of the United States was founded in Canada in 1896. In 1998 the International Federation of American Football was formed, encompassing 33 European countries and 62 countries worldwide, including Norway.

American football is said to have started in Norway in 1957 when American marines, stationed in Oslo, began coaching at two local high schools, Ullern and Riis. The two schools started the American football tradition in Norway with a short season of one intense game per year. Protecting themselves with hockey pads and whatever else they could get their hands on, the Norwegian high school students had officially started American football in Norway.

The Norwegian American Football Federation was created in 1983 when the Oslo Trolls were formed, today called the Vålerenga Trolls. The team dominated internationally against Sweden, Finland, and England, and fell hard to St. Olaf College when they visited Oslo to compete in 1985. Teams began developing around Norway and the rivalries ensued between the Oslo Vikings, Eidsvoll 1814's, Bergen Storm, Larvik Lions, Moss Pirates, and the Tønsberg Raiders. There are 16 clubs in Norway that run similarly to a soccer club in the U.S. Within most of these clubs there are teams for young people ages 12, 14, 16 and 18, a few clubs even have girls' flag-football. The oldest team in each league is called the senior team, comprised of the best players from around Norway.

Football teams outside the U.S. are growing in popularity, but it's probably too soon to tell whether the Super Bowl will ever be played in locations outside the U.S. To learn more about the International Federation of American Football, and find out what countries have teams visit <http://www.ifaf.info/>. If you are interested in keeping up with teams in Norway, visit <http://tinyurl.com/cuphd4s> and check out club websites and team schedules.

SCREAM AUCTION UPDATE

In May the Newsletter Service updated you on the forthcoming auction of one of the world's most recognizable works of art, "The Scream." Since then, speculations have been swirling about the identity of the anonymous buyer who, in just 12 minutes of bidding, placed a world-record breaking $119.9 million bid to purchase the pastel drawing. Initial buyer guesses included Microsoft tycoon Paul Allen, financier Leonard Blavatnik and members of Qatar's royal family.

In July it was revealed by the Wall Street Journal that the bidder was New York investment billionaire Leon Black, founder and senior partner of Apollo Global Management investment fund. While Black's spokesperson has neither confirmed nor denied the validity of the story, it is likely that Black would have an interest in the painting as a board member of both New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Museum of Modern Art. Black is also an avid art collector. Among his personal $750 million collection are works by Vincent van Gogh, Raphael, and Picasso.

In addition to buyer mysteries, the sale of Edvard Munch's famous pastel drawing has generated both trade and tax buzz in Norway.

Despite falling crude oil prices, the Norwegian Statistics Bureau has reported an annualized 44.5% increase in the country's trade surplus (43.2 billion kroner or $7.1 billion) after the drawing's sale in May.

In an surprising twist it should also be noted that the Norwegian seller, Petter Olsen, will likely not pay any income or capital gains taxes on the sale of the artwork. In an interview with Aftenposten, Astrid Mjærum of the state authority Skatteetaten explained saying, "gains on the sale of items comprising one's fortune are generally taxable. "The tax law, however, says that gains on the sale of items in a household, such as a painting, which have been used in the owner's home or household, are exempt from tax."

YOKE OF THE MONTH

Ole & Lena lived by a lake in Norderdalen Minnesota. It was early winter and the lake had frozen over. Ole asked Lena if she would walk across the frozen lake to the general store to get him some smokes. She asked him for some money, but he told her, Nah, just put it on our tab. So Lena walked across, got the smokes at the general store, then walked back home across the lake. When she got home and gave Ole his smokes she asked him, Ole, you always tell me not to run up the tab at the store. Why didn't you just give me some money? Ole replied, Well, I didn't want to send you out there without some money when I wasn't sure how much the ice was yet.

Kinda brings a tear to my eye..it does!
