Keynote Speaker

Justice Anne K. McKeig

On September 1, 2016, The Honorable Anne K. McKeig joined the Minnesota Supreme Court, making her the first American Indian appointed to the state's highest court.

Justice McKeig previously served as an assistant Hennepin County Attorney and district court judge. She has worked on several committees focusing on child welfare and domestic violence issues, teaches as an adjunct professor at both St. Thomas School of Law and Mitchell Hamline School of Law, and has spoken at numerous conferences regarding child protection and tribal community issues.

A descendant of the White Earth Nation, Justice McKeig is a native of Northern Minnesota, married, and a proud mother of five children.
