

INTELLIGENCE SUMMARY

UUID	890cb484-9cb3-11e4-89d3-123b93f75cba
Document Number	WIAI-2015-0201
Document Title	NATO Background and Status
Document Version	Original (0)
Creation Date/Time	2015-01-14T15:00:00Z	Revision Date/Time	N/A
Author Organization	World Intelligence Analysis Institute™
Author	S.J. Anthony
Author Contact	sjanth@staerco.us
Author Nation	USA
Classification	Unclassified	Classification Source	N/A
Classification Instructions	N/A
Distribution Restrictions	Copyright © 2015; WIAI; All rights reserved. Any reproduction or other use of this document in whole or in part must have prior permission from the World Intelligence Analysis Institute, and use of this document in whole or in part, must include proper attribution.
Operation/Exercise Name	N/A
Geographic Description of Report	Europe
Geographic Latitude	50°52'33.60"N	Geographic Longitude	004°25'19.55"
Start Date/Time of Collected Information	2015-01-01T09:00:00Z	End Date/Time of Collected Information	2015-01-15T18:00:00Z
Executive Summary	The North Atlantic Treaty Organization was formed following World War II to provide a mutual defense organization to protect Western Europe from further Soviet expansion. It has grown in numbers of nations and in influence as time has passed. Today, NATO often provides the nucleus of forces to support international operations. However, the expansion has caused some issues with neighboring non-NATO nations, particularly Russia.
Priority	Medium
Data Source	OSINT
Credibility	1	Reliability	A