WHAT TO EXPECT AT HORSEMANSHIP CAMP

At an average day at horse camp, campers arrive in the morning for our camp powwow (meeting) to go over the day's events and address any safety issues from the day before.

We learn something about the type of riding we will be doing. (parts of the saddle, how to handle the reins, mounting safety and more) Then we get our horses out and start grooming and tacking up.

We split up in two groups and while the first group rides, the second group learns about horse care and stable management.

The first lesson of the day usually lasts an hour per camper. We work on improving the rider's skills and then we switch riders.

Two campers will share one horse for the week.

Share the horse, share the work is our motto and we all pitch in to cool the horses out, hose them down and feed them lunch.

Then it's our turn to cool out in front of a fan and eat lunch.

After lunch we will play a game, sometimes we do a craft, learn something cool about horses and maybe even get wet playing in the hose then back to the horses for a little afternoon horsey fun, and learning. A change of clothes is important, and we have a private bathroom for campers to change in.

If time permits, the second ride of the day will involve fun games on horseback in our small but secure trail. We try to ride twice a day at least three times during the week.

If it rains, we move into the barn and focus on groundwork safely inside until the storm passes. If there is lightning within a ten-mile radius, we do not ride. Don't worry though, we have plenty of other fun horse activities while we wait for the weather to clear.

Covid: We sanitize our equipment daily during camp, including the common touch areas such as doorknobs, hoses, and the vending machine. We social distance as much as we can, which is why we keep our groups below ten. Six campers, one instructor and up to three qualified volunteers or Jr. counselors.

Masks: Please pack a mask with your child daily. Being outside for most of the day we rarely require them to wear them, but when we are inside the barn for extended periods of time, we will break out the masks. We also wash our hands and have plenty of sanitizers on hand as well.

That being said, if your child is displaying any type of illness, please do not bring them to camp. If they become sick during camp, we will call you to come pick them up early.

During our Florida summers, heat exhaustion is a genuine threat. We cool off in the hose and break out the fans every summer. We expect our campers to pack plenty of water and keep an eye out for the signs of overheating. We do have bottled water on hand during camp, just in case they use their water supply up. This is for emergencies only. Please pack more water than you think your child will drink.

Bugs: We have them. Flies, mosquitoes and spiders to name a few. We have Deep Woods Off Bug Spray on hand. But if your child is sensitive to this brand, please pack your preferred bug spray.

Manure: They are going to shovel it and push wheelbarrows of it daily. Horses are herbivores. The chemical constituents of horse manure are not toxic to humans. Horse guts do not contain significant levels of the two waterborne pathogens of greatest concern to human health risk, Cryptosporidium or Giardia, neither do they contain significant amounts of the bacteria E. coli O157:H7 or Salmonella.
