CATHOLIC HIGH FOR DORVAL

A new Catholic High School, with 24 classes to accommodate some 400 students, will be built this spring in Dorval.

This decision was taken at the last meeting of the Dorval Catholic School Commission, under the chairmanship of Guy Pager, Q.C.

Plans and specifications for the new building will be ready in the near future and tenders will then be asked so that construction may start as soon as possible. The high school will be used by both English and French speaking students and provides various modern facilities such as a gymnasium, swimming pool, academic hall, library, etc.

At the same meeting, the Commission has retained the services of Robert Burns, as director of studies, a new post created because of the increase of students in four existing schools, with some 1500 students. Mr. Burns was professor of religion at D'Arcy McGee High School.

A delegation of The Parents Association of Dorval was given full details on the project of the new high school. The chairman of the Association is Gerald Dolan.

Mr. Pager, president of the School Commission, emphasized the fact that the school tax, in Dorval, has decreased from one dollar to sixty cents, last September and that the financial situation of the Catholic School Board is very good.

Members of Dorval School Commission are: Dr. Peter Pare, Lorenzo Decary, J.M. Audette and Rene Aragnion. Secretary-treasurer is Armand DelTorchio.

DORVAL SAFETY COUNCIL COMMITTEES MEET

Both Committees on Safety Education met during the past week when the Chairman, Mrs. V. Godbeer, gave a detailed report on her visit last week to Toronto where she was one of three delegates from Quebec, and the only Safety Council Representative to attend the Ontario Board of Transport Safety Workshop '61. There were over 1300 delegates attending the Workshop which was held for three days in the Royal York Hotel. One of the special speakers was Mr. Joel Aldred, President of the new Television Channel 9 in Toronto. Mr. Aldred, who is well-known throughout Canada as a CBC announcer, spoke on the part communications play in safety.

It was felt that Mrs. Godbeer's attendance at this Workshop was well worthwhile in view of the tremendous amount of material and assistance she received which, while not available in the Province of Quebec, can be of considerable value to both our Adult and Children's Safety Education Committees' programmes.

A map of the City of Dorval was shown at the meeting pin-pointing the 946 traffic accidents which took place in the City of Dorval from January 1 to December 31, 1960. As a result of these accidents, 125 persons were injured and there were 7 fatalities. Granted, most of these accidents happened on the Highways in Dorval and did not involve Dorval residents, but how many Dorval residents were included in the statistics of other Cities or Towns?

Civic Affairs Forum Features Four Speakers

Session number five of the Civic Affairs Forum featured four aldermen from City Hall last week and covered subjects ranging through finance, town planning, traffic, public utilities, health, parks and recreation.

Speaking on public utilities, Alderman Sarto Desnoyers gave a highly interesting description of the city's filtration plant which serves local residents, general industry and the airport area. He also dealt with other aspects of the public utilities function and emphasized the importance of a well-run long-range public utilities program in a progressive community.

Alderman Mrs. Hazel Ballantyne, head of the Parks and Recreation Commission, traced the history of parks and recreation in Dorval over the past decade. She pointed out that ten years ago Dorval had only two parks — Neptune to the west and St. Charles in the east end of the city. Today, Dorval boasts a total of 13 parks in the north, south, east and west areas.

Another major step forward was the recent appointment of a Director of Parks and Recreation for the city, said Mrs. Ballantyne, and she outlined the necessity for such a position if the city's recreation needs are to be properly planned and met as the City grows.

In his address on municipal finance, Alderman George Goodale dealt at length with sources of revenue for the city. He indicated that such sources are limited and that it is vital to the city as a whole that "we continue our development on a pay-as-you-go basis". As an example he cited along range plan for developing the Elm Ridge property into a community centre.

"There will be a great deal of pressure brought to bear on the Council to have this done immediately," he said, "but we will of necessity have to resist this pressure until such time as we can afford to go ahead with it". Completion of the Elm Ridge recreation project would, he estimated, take approximately five years.

Alderman Goodale went on to deal with the various aspects of municipal revenues, including debt reduction procedures, capital financing, borrowing for local improvement works, municipal loan funds, grants, winterworks program rebates, etc.

The talk on city planning by Alderman E.S. Braddell merited more than the usual response from the audience, particularly during the question and answer period.

Mr. Braddell outlined city planning and explained how the Building Committee (composed of three professional architects), and the City Planning Committee (presently composed of three architects and three engineers) render invaluable assistance to the Council voluntarily and without remuneration.

He sketched the background of the city's two major by-laws dealing with zoning (No. 347) and building standards (No. 360) and illustrated how the Council processes amendments thereto.

Mr. Braddell also listed some of the typical problems facing the city planners of today.

"These problems call for intelligent, economic study of possible long-range advantages that might or might not accrue to the city as a whole," he said, "without infringing on the rights of established property owners and without creating precedents which might be regretted later."

"City planning policy," continued Mr. Braddell, "calls for integrity, foresight, prudence, wisdom and optimism; supported by unwavering purposeful government or administration and good public relations."

Session six of the Civic Affairs Forum series will deal with relationships between municipal, federal and provincial governments. The speaker will be Maurice Marcotte, former City Manager and Secretary to the Municipal Commission of the Province of Quebec.

Testimonial Dinner for Liberal M.P.P.

A testimonial dinner was held at the Edgewater Inn Monday evening for the purpose of honouring Dr. C.A. Kirkland, Liberal MPP for Jacques Cartier. Enthusiastic supporters who overflowed the ballroom were loud in their acclaim as Dr. Kirkland was presented with a memento honouring his services which began in 1939.

Dr. Kirkland assured the assembly, in the course of his remarks, that water pollution was the most urgent item on his agenda and stated that "the pollution problem will be looked after."

He revealed that he had personally met with members of Premier Frost's Ontario government to consider a joint effort involving the Ottawa River and Lake St. Louis, and he indicated that the Quebec and Ontario governments will, on a cooperative basis, exert joint pressure to reach a satisfactory solution.

DR. C.A. KIRKLAND, Liberal M.P.P. representing Jacques Cartier-LaSalle in the Provincial legislature, is pictured here with Mrs. Kirkland and Master of Ceremonies Paul Emile LeJour following Presentation of a complete cocktail bar and accessories at a testimonial dinner given in his honour Monday night at the Edgewater Inn.

Mr. Jacques Decary of Dorval paid homage to Dr. Kirkland's long and faithful service to his community and his constituency.

The address to Mrs. Kirkland was given by Mrs. A. Francoeur of Saint Laurent, Vice-President of the Federation of Liberal Women in Quebec.

TOGETHERNESS

John Pratt says

On resuming this report to the citizens after the holidays, I would like to take this opportunity of wishing all my constituents a very happy and prosperous New Year.

We are now well launched into the 1960's, a decade which may prove to be the most important of this entire century as the turning point for all civilization. Whether we are to have peace or war, whether we are to initiate the greatest period of progress in man's history or plunge over the precipice into mutual nuclear destruction, will very likely be decided within the next ten years.

Two mighty, armed camps of opposing ideologies and vastly differing political backgrounds today face each other, both equipped with the scientific means of completely wiping each other out, regardless of which one strikes first. That is the gloomy side of the picture.

On the other hand, mankind also stands on the threshold of an entirely new world in which it is possible, with commonsense and cooperation, to improve the lot of suffering humanity beyond the dreams of even the most optimistic prophets of a century ago. The intelligent choice is so obvious that it makes one wonder how man could possibly consider even the threat of war, much less spend the bulk of his energy and income in preparing for it. Nevertheless, human nature being what it is, we now find ourselves in exactly that ridiculous position.

Mutual distrust, compounded by propaganda on all sides, has continued to act as a barrier to the mutual cooperation of the nations of the world in finding a just and equitable solution to the problems involved in human survival.

This problem of survival, formerly of man against nature, has become one which is principally man against man. Our only hope is that the ultimate ghasliness of nuclear destruction may finally convince man that he has only one choice left, to live together or to die together. This is the decade in which the choice will probably be made.

as it possibly can in the short two years it has at its disposal before the next election. It is opposed to the comparatively new and young Montreal Metropolitan Corporation which so far has been only a planning group with insufficient power to implement its plans properly. The Metropolitan Corporation realizes very well its need for additional powers, if it is to operate efficiently, and will therefore oppose the City of Montreal in its efforts to make it even more powerless by means of a veto and other means of control which the City is demanding.

"In the meantime, thirty-one suburban municipalities have been shocked at what appears to be a threat of annexation of the entire Island of Montreal. This latter situation at present is an extremely

UNIVERSITY WOMEN HEAR TALK ON CANADIANISM

French Canada points the way to true Canadianism, in the opinion of Dr. Leon Lortie, director of the Extension department of the University of Montreal. Dr. Lortie spoke at a meeting of the Montreal Lakeshore University Women's Club, January 9th in the hall of St. John Fisher church, Valois.

Dr. Lortie said he was in agreement with statements of Canadian historian, Prof. R. M. Lower. According to Prof. Lower, French Canadians have become conscious of their identity before English Canadians. This, he said, has come about because, while English Canadians have not severed links with their mother country, French Canadians did so many years ago. He also pointed to the fact that there was little division within the ranks of the French settler, while English settlers came from varied regions, backgrounds and religions.

It is under the influence of the United States, he said, that Canadians now feel a need to act and to belong.

NEW FORUM SERIES COMMENCES

The Lakeshore Forum's new series, "Breaking Down the Barriers to Communication", opens on Tuesday, January 17 at 8:30 p.m. Topic for the first session is "Words, the Tools for the Job", to be discussed by John Pringle, Staff Engineer, Quality Analysis, Bell Telephone Company.

A McGill graduate in electrical engineering, Mr. Pringle has spent most of his working life in the communications industry. He is a fellow of the American Society for Quality Control, and past chairman of the Montreal section. But his interest has long extended far beyond the technical aspects of communication to its human elements.

"As far back as I can remember I've been quite interested in the relationship between words and things," he recalls. "There is a fascinating relationship between what we experience and how we describe it."

This relationship, which accounts for ten witnesses to an accident giving ten different versions of what happened, will be unraveled at the Lakeshore Forum with the aid of color transparencies by Mr. Pringle, whose interest in this subject led him to the presidency of the Montreal General Semantics Society.

A question period will follow the talk, and coffee will be served. An invitation to attend is open to anyone interested in the art of communication. The meeting will be held in the Lakeshore Unitarian Church Hall, 14 Cedar Avenue, Pointe Claire.

murky one with statements, denials, counter-statements, and denials of denials being made in all directions by everyone remotely concerned with this current local sensation.

"All in all, it promises to be a very interesting year in local politics as, on top of all this, we also have local municipal elections in both Pointe Claire and Dorval. Citizens who take my interest at all in public affairs will certainly have plenty to occupy their thoughts in the days ahead."

In describing the evolution of French Canada, Dr. Lortie touched on contributions of French settlers from their arrival in North America in the fields of education, natural history, geology, architecture and art. "There is a wealth of treasure that has belonged to Canada for 250 years," he said. At present, there is a mutual influence of east and west in realms of art, music and drama.

Canada is 30% French speaking Dr. Lortie stated. He added that the existence of French Canada adds flavor to the country and gives Canada a fair part of its present identity.

DINER-CAUSERIE AU CENTRE PAROISSIAL

L'UNION DES FAMILLES DE DORVAL recevra à un diner-causerie, dimanche le 29 janvier courant à 7 hrs p.m. les membres et amis intéressés à mieux connaître "Le rôle du laïc dans l'Eglise d'aujourd'hui".

Tous nous nous demandons parfois où réside notre devoir de chrétien dans la société d'aujourd'hui ou commence, où finit ce rôle? quel exemple devons-nous à nos enfants dans ce sens? quelle juste collaboration l'Eglise attend-elle de nous laïcs? comment devons-nous répondre? quel témoignage le catholique contemporain doit-il à l'Eglise universelle?

Il fait donc un spécialiste pour aborder un tel sujet; nous l'avons dans M. Jean Blais, secrétaire au Service des émissions éducatives publiques à Radio-Canada. M. Blais est licencié en science économique de l'U. de Montréal où il donna des cours durant 3 ans; secrétaire à la L.O.C. durant 9 ans, il travailla près du même laps de temps au Comité national de l'Action catholique. M. Blais s'occupe activement de l'Union des Familles de St-Paul-de-la-Croix d'Aumontic; ce qui nous rapproche davantage.

Nous anticipons donc le plaisir de l'entendre et de nous rencontrer à ces agapes fraternelles.

WOMEN'S AUX. NEWS

In the final returns of the Membership Campaign of the Women's Auxiliary of the Lachine General Hospital for 1960 a figure of $4,315 was given by Mrs. W. Harkness, Membership Convenor. A total of 1238 members was recorded including 14 Patronesses and 12 Honorary members.

These figures are slightly down over the past two years, and it was pointed out at a recent Executive meeting by the President, Mrs. F.A. Bush that the personal touch of the Women's Auxiliary is needed in hospitals now more than ever to complement the Provincial Hospital Insurance Service and this fact is strongly supported by the officials of the plan itself.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Lachine General Hospital urgently require volunteers to knit baby garments for the Auxiliary Cart and Gift Shop. Materials of the finest quality are provided by the W.A. and any ladies who would be willing to work at home in this way are asked to contact Mrs. J.A. Grant at ME 7-3920.

RED CROSS WATER SAFETY COURSE

The Red Cross Water Safety Instructors' Course held annually at the Y.W.C.A., 1355 Dorchester Street West, will commence on Tuesday, January 24, at 7:30 p.m. This was announced today by Mr. William A. Edge, chairman of the Water Safety Service for the Montreal Branch.

The 12-session course will be conducted on Tuesdays and Thursdays for a period of six weeks.

Prior to entering the Y.W.C.A. pool candidates will have to undergo a medical examination which will be held at the "Y" between 6:30 and 7:30 on January 24th. A statement from the candidates' own physicians will be accepted.

Following the compulsory examination or presentation of physician's certificate, a qualifying test will be held on the first evening of the course. Successful candidates will be charged $5.00 registration fee, to cover cost of literature, manuals, use of equipment, etc.

Application forms may be obtained from the Red Cross Water Safety Service, 2170 Dorchester Street West, Montreal, and must be returned at that address before January 20th.

THE BOOK REVIEW

"The Book Review," sponsored by the Muriel Biddell Group of the Woman's Association of St. Andrew's United Church, will hold its meeting on Thursday, January 19th, at 2 p.m. in MacDonald Hall, 75-15th Avenue, Lachine. Mrs. R. J. Perry, an observer at the United Nations, will review James M. Minife's book, "Peacemaker or Powder-Monkey." This book which tells of Canada's role in a revolutionary world has been the subject of furious controversy since publication and should be of immense interest to all. Tea will be served. Everyone welcome.

HEALTH TODAY

Don't eat foods you don't like to please nutrition experts. They don't care at all.

If turnip is your bete noire--and it displeases more people than any other vegetable--leave it on your plate. Nutritionists won't turn a hair.

It's not the foods you don't like that worry dieticians--it's the foods you do like but don't bother to eat, says Agnes Higgins, executive director of the Montreal Diet Dispensary. "Recent studies conducted in the United States show that inadequate diets occur when families neglect to eat nutritionally important foods that are never mentioned in the 'disliked' classes such as milk, beef, citrus fruits and bread," the head of this Red Feather Agency explains.

The recently completed Cornell University study entitled "What the Homemakers Knows About Nutrition" indicated that women were informed about some of nutritive values of foods but didn't know the finer points.

Housewives know their families should eat meat, potatoes, fruit and vegetables but they don't know that citrus fruits and tomatoes are eight times richer in vitamin C than other fruits, "Mrs. Higgins explains. "They know that meat is necessary to a diet but they don't know that organ meats give the best nutritive value."

Women reported that their chief problems were menu planning, food costs and motivating the family to eat.

Concern on the part of the housewife over family food dislikes was common. The study noted, however, that "contrary to common belief, food dislikes seemed to have little influence on the adequacy of the diet because most intensely disliked foods are commonly 'seldom served' food items."

Turnips led the list of disliked vegetables followed by spinach, squash, and cabbage. Liver was overwhelmingly the most unpopular meat. The survey noted that no persons listed eggs as disliked but several object to certain methods of cooking.

Forty-three percent of housewives think about "What's good for them" when they plan meals for their families, 30 percent think about likes and dislikes and only six percent think about ease of preparation.

The study also showed that the more knowledge on nutrition a housewife acquired the better she did in feeding her family. Income level made little difference.

By K. M.

SAFETY DELEGATE VISITS TWIN CITY: Early in the sessions of the Ontario Department of Transport Workshop on Safety at Toronto Mrs. Mae Godbeer, Chairman of the Dorval Safety Council met the delegate from Dorval's Twin City, Oakville, Ont. When Constable Alf. Hooks from Oakville discovered that Mrs. Godbeer was the representative from Dorval, he invited her to make a tour of Oakville. The tour was planned in a series of appointments, with Mayor William Anderson, the City Manager, and the Chief of Police, all of whom extended to Mrs. Godbeer a gracious welcome and proved to be wonderful sources of information on the City. Mrs. Godbeer saw the Elmer Safety Flags flying at Oakville schools, and was introduced to the Oakville Weekly Newspaper. At the local radio station Mrs. Godbeer was interviewed and a copy of this tape has been forwarded to C.F.O.X.

One of the things which impressed Mrs. Godbeer was the great pride and interest which Oakville shows in having Dorval as a Twin City. "We should take advantage of this interest and make an effort to encourage an exchange of ideas on a city-city-section basis."

The Oakville trip was an unexpected pleasure added to days of hard work at the Safety Workshop. One highlight of the meetings was seeing and hearing Joel Aldred in person, who proved to be even more handsome and charming than he is on T.V. Our Dorval Safety Chairman, who was the only delegate from Quebec feels that the conference was a source of some outstanding new ideas and one which will put the voice of Dorval in the limelight at the Quebec National Convention in May.

SCHOOLS: Some parents in the Eastern section of Dorval are disappointed to hear of the proposed extension to Dorval Gardens School. They would have preferred news of a new school on the former Royal Montreal Golf Course. . . . Pupils at Surrey Gardens School will have a Carnival theme for their art work for the next few weeks as they help out with the decorations for the Surrey Gardens Home and School Association Military Whist planned for Feb. 8. Departing from the usual Valentine theme for February, members of the committee are planning the affair in a gay carnival mood. . . . Did you know that one Lakeshore High School is giving out "tickets" for grammar mistakes? . . . At Dorval Gardens School a choir of 50 students, under the direction of Mrs. W.V. Smiley, is doing some intensive practice for the Competitive Music Festival, March 1st, in Montreal. To date, this is the only Dorval Choir entered in the Festival. . . . Grade Eight students at Lachine High, getting some practice at essential essay type work, turned in 3000 word essays recently.

APPEAL BY TELEGRAM: Mr. Hugh Parry, General Chairman of the Quebec March of Dimes Campaign and Hon. Treas. of the National Campaign was recalling the manner in which he became involved in the work. In 1946 when he was serving as Pres. of the Quebec Canadian Legion, a member suggested, during the polio epidemic, that the Legion get busy on a campaign to raise money for Iron Lungs. Overnight a meeting of commanding officers was called, and a campaign by telegram put into effect. Every Branch of the Canadian Legion was contacted and in a week $5000 was raised; in 5 weeks $50,000 had been contributed. Equipment was purchased and flown in from the United States for life-saving use during the polio crisis.

A Board of Trustees was set up with Mr. Parry as its first President; money was distributed for an intensive rehabilitation programme. In 1950 they joined the National Foundation as Quebec Chapter of the March of Dimes, a task to which he has been dedicated since the "campaign by telegram."

HERE AND THERE: When Mayor John Pratt assisted at the ribbon cutting ceremony at Dorval Airport which inaugurated Northeast Airlines new jet service between Montreal and Miami, did anyone quip the obvious slogan for the airlines — "Now — Go South by Northeast!" . . . The Montreal Lakeshore University Women's Club will raise scholarship funds in an "entertain at home" project in Feb. Last year the Club gave a total of $500 in scholarships, one scholarship going to a St. Stephen's High School student . . . Books from the Dorval Civic Library stored temporarily during alterations, in the safest of store rooms, the Defense Room at City Hall, protected against fire, water, and bombs . . . The Pops Concert last weekend at Lachine Arena in which every member of Lachine Figure Skating Club, from First Test up, could skate a solo worked up wonderful enthusiasm among the skaters and relatives. At intermission, the Lachine Maroons put on a chorus line comedy act which literally melted the ice . . . A souvenir scarf found at St. Mark's Church during the holidays may be claimed upon identification from Mrs. Gillette, ME 1-3927.

A STORY I like is one told in his inimitable manner by Mr. Rubin, favorite door to door fruit and vegetable vendor on the Lakeshore. It seems that he was stopped at a red light in Westmount and two ladies in adjacent cars ahead of him carried on a conversation which continued on through a green light. When the light again flashed green and the conversation continued, he honked his horn. And he got a ticket for breaking the anti-noise law!

HELIPTERS BOUGHT BY LOCAL FIRM

The Bell Helicopter Company today announced a quarter of a million dollar sale of commercial helicopters and spare parts to Autair Helicopter Services Limited of Montreal.

In a joint statement with Bell Helicopters, Autair's President, Mr. D.W. Comer, says that the sale includes the purchase of four 1961 model 47G-3 and one model 47G-2A machines. All five helicopters are to be equipped with night-flying gear, cargo slings and fire extinguishers. The 47G-3's are ordered with skid landing gear and the 47G-2A with flotation landing gear.

The new ships are scheduled for delivery early this year.

Autair operates one of the largest Bell Fleets in North America. Operations across Canada include all types of general charter work.

As an example, last year Autair operated three helicopters on the Canadian Government Polar Continental Shelf project. In a rugged five months' period, the three helicopters logged almost one thousand flight hours in support of a program of Arctic scientific study, with a two-fold purpose; to compile data for the exploitation of the natural resources of the area and to establish accurately the northern boundary of Canada.

That's a swear word in Spanish. But you'll never hear even a mild "gosh darn it!" from anyone who has the good sense to patronize the local merchants and shop in Dorval. ## Comment on Sports

Well hockey is in full swing. All of the teams are settling down and getting their ice legs. From our visits to the various rinks, we see enthusiasm is again at a high pitch. A great number of boys who were just fair last year, have blossomed out, and are playing like true stars.

Incidentally, several people have been asking about publicity for the various teams. The Dorval Reporter will give space and support any sport, but an effort must be made by those interested to have their reports in to 68 Green Circle, by Monday noon at the latest.

For those who admire beauty in motion, we strongly recommend that they take in the Dominion Figure Skating Championships being held in Montreal this year. This is a sport where nothing short of perfection will satisfy. All our efforts have been made to provide programs which allow the spectators to keep a running record of the competition. If you want to enjoy it, go, get active, keep your own score, and you will come away enthusiastic and with a deeper feeling of satisfaction, understanding, and accomplishment.

Most of you have participated in bowling at one time or another. It is a mild team competition, where individuals are individuals and they compete not only against themselves, but against others. It is a wholesome sport which we can all participate in, and the handicap system equals out our abilities or inabilities.

To most of us curling is a game associated with (Scotsman) and other than a passing knowledge of the sport we are uninterested. This is because we are not familiar with the game's purpose. To some of us, curling remains in the class of cricket.

Let us once and for all dispell this disillusion and recommend that curling be included in Dorval's future sports plans. As one who was brought upon the game and played it as a boy and young man, I will never cease to shout its praises. It is a game where you are always active, and continually concentrating on the problem at hand. The beginner participating fully enjoys the healthy exercise and all levels of society meet on a common ground. There is an old saying which fishermen will understand:

"Beggars may cavort with King,
Out Fishing,
"Man's all Man, Out Fishing!"
This applies equally to curling.

POPULAR SPOT IN DORVAL One of the most popular places in the City these days is the hill by the Filtration Plant. Children with flying saucers and toboggans have fun on the slippery slope, and there are some iced slides that make the old fashioned piece of cardboard handy sliding equipment. Someone has thoughtfully provided a rope ladder at one side of the hill so that climbing the slope is made easy. Whole families have been out to enjoy this old outdoor sport.

Lac St. Louis Anglers News

by C. Shelley

MUSKY STOCKING OF LAKE ST. LOUIS.

Musky - stocking-wise 1960 was a good year for our lake. The Lachine Fish Hatchery with cooperation from the Directors of your association, has carried out the following musky plantings.

1. In September, 2,000 musky fingerlings were planted in the waters near Dixie Island.

2. In October, 90 adult musky tagged on the gill cover with either a white or a black eyelet, were planted in the waters around St. Nicholas Island. These musky were from 2½ to 3 years old.

3. Again, this time in November, 127 musky averaging 12 inches long and bearing what looks like a red tattoo mark under the jaw were planted in the vicinity of the Flat Islands.

The planting of these tagged musky represents a start of a Biological Study of the migrating habits and survival of planted musky in Lake St. Louis. In recent years anglers have complained that musky fishing in Lake St. Louis has deteriorated. Is this true? Is it only a natural and temporary fluctuation? Or are there factors - like pollution - that has rendered Lake St. Louis unfavorable for musky.

It is to answer these questions that the Directors of your Association have asked, through "Federation" and also in correspondence with the Minister of Game and Fisheries, the Hon. Gerard Levesque, that an extensive Biological Survey be made of Lake St. Louis.

Musky fishing, especially when in urban waters, is an attractive and most valuable asset that should not be allowed to go to waste and that should be, in its conservation, given the financial consideration warranted by its economical importance. The effective management of public waters presents a challenge to both us and to the Province's Dept. of Game and Fisheries. That Dept., now that it is under a new and dynamic Minister, has shown a spark of go that just might be the birth of Quebec's torch of conservation.

SWAN LAKE

Presented by the Royal Ballet from The Royal Opera House, London, at the Forum. Music by Tchaikovsky. Musical Director, John Lanchberry. Choreography by Marius Petipa and Lev Ivanov. Produced by Nicholas Sergeyev with the following Principals:

Prince Siegfried	Donald Macleary
The Princess Mother	Gerd Larsen
Wolfgang	Franklin White
Beno	Derek Rencher
Odette-Odile	Svetlana Derlosova
Von Rothbart	Leslie Edwards

However many times one has seen SWAN LAKE, however familiar are the story, the music and the dancing, this will be the unforgettable performance. The huge stage which the space in the Forum affords, the richly magnificent scenery and the very large company of the Royal Ballet combined to provide the ideal setting for a flawless performance. Never have we seen the work performed with such magnificent contrasts in mood and tempo, with such variety and nuance in choreography.

Act I was a delightful pastoral frolic, the highlights of which was a lively, precise pas de six, and an exhibition of strength and skill by Prince Siegfried, danced by Donald Macleary.

The lovely and familiarly costumed corps de ballet in their traditional white net skirts took on a dream-like quality when revealed in a green forest light in Act II. Svetlana Veriosova enacted a most subtle change in her dual role of Odette-Odile. Technically perfect, rhythmically attune in both roles, in Act II, as Odette, she was soft, hesitant, shy and yielding. In Act III, as the scheming Odille she became the brittle temptress. A lovely and moving bit of mine was provided by an anonymous member of the Company, as the vision of Odette appeared far upstage, brokenheartedly trying to warn Siegfried of the plot against their love.

The atmosphere of Act III depicted the pomp, splendour and artificiality of court life. The Czardas and the Spanish dancers were magnificent and gave delightful exhibitions of power on the part of the men, of grace and precision on the part of the women, while the Neapolitan pas de deux wrung cheers from a responsive audience.

The sombre mood of the final act was suggested beautifully by the corps de ballet, and the mine, which was exceptional throughout the ballet, reached heights of poignancy in the tragic denouement. You will never see a finer performance of SWAN LAKE, though this is your first," I told Diana as we hurried into the blustering wind, the music of Tchaikovsky still ringing in our ears.

M.R.T. RE-OPENS SEASON WITH COMEDY

IF ROAR LIKE A DOVE in half as good as the cast M.R.T. has lined up to play it, it should be sure-fire entertainment. Leo Ciceri fresh from his stint for Shakespeare in Chicago, Jane Mallett, a veteran of theatre and T.V. from Toronto and an old friend of ours, small but competent Grace McNeary of "The Bad Seed," and Beryl Baxter who is as easy on the eyes as she is competent on the stage, should add up to very fine entertainment indeed. The comedy by Lesley Storm opened on Tuesday and will run for two weeks. We are going to-night to watch the shenanigans of this Scottish-American family. Won't you join us?

WHO READS POETRY NOWADAYS?

Embarrassing question? Shouldn't he, you know. School children have to read some in school. All of us have read or said nursery rhymes to our children and then progressed to R.L.S.'s "Child's Garden of Verses," or to A.A. Milne. We are among those who dip into verse indiscriminately and, a poem or two at a time, have introduced our offspring to Archibald MacLeish, Vachel Lindsay, E.J. Pratt, whose "The Icefloes" immortalized a tragic event in Newfoundland sealing lore, recently retold in Maclean's. I don't seem at all, let us add that we read great swathes of Edward Lear, and large portions of "Peacock Pie" (by Walter de la Mare) as well. It takes time to read poetry, because one usually has to read it more than once in order to make it "one's own." A new book of Canadian verse by an outstanding Canadian poet and anthologist has recently been placed in our hands. It is noteworthy not only as a new volume of poetry by Ralph Gustafson but, and we quote, "as the first of a series of works of poetry and letter-ettes chosen to inspire fine craftsmanship in the book design and manufacturing arts." RIVER AMONG THE ROCKS is the result of a unique association dedicated to the improvement of the standards of design and the manufacture of Canadian books. The book was designed by Frank Newfeld, a brilliant young Canadian Art Director, and four other companies had a share in its production.

And what of the contents? Ralph Gustafson is a scholar whose frame of reference is Catholic, who can skip, and at the same time, telescope several ideas and symbols into one short line, to the utter confusion of simple readers like myself. Nevertheless, following our dictum that reading poetry takes time, we have taken time to read poems which appealed to us, not twice, but three times, and some of the lines have stayed to haunt us—

"On such a wet and blustery night as this May each man have his flame and house and food . . ."

and
"Milk-white of ecstasy
Leans the Drenched hyacinth . . ."

and this, because it is a description of our own province, in late autumn.

"The buzzsaw shines and barch and tin
Are canted near the kitchen door.
Around the roof the farmer trims
The eaves; the housewife counts her jars
And all things bring the prodigal and summer work to wise debate
With coming of the northern snow,
The early need of lamps, and night."

The Holland Paper Company Limited, H & S Reliance Limited, T.B. Best Printing Company Limited, and McClelland and Stewart are all to be congratulated for the sharing of effort and cost in printing this volume. With the findings of a Royal Commission on the publishing business in Canada still buzzing in our ears, we consider their approach to the problem both courageous and practical.

MODERN INSIGNIA: The new trademark of the Canadian National is now making its first appearance on insulated box cars and trucks.

Developed by Toronto designer Allan Fleming, the symbol is a continuous line forming the letters "CN". It denotes the role of Canadian National in Canada's development — the movement of men, materials and messages. The new trademark is the first step in a comprehensive re-design program that will reflect the continuing modernization of the system. Bright colour schemes incorporating the new trademark as shown on this truck and model locomotive will eventually be applied to all items of the CN; cars and coaches, signs, telegraph forms, stations, letterheads, uniforms and advertising. The re-design program is aimed at building and extending the reputation of the CNR as a company interested in providing good service and merchandising it with modern marketing methods.

ROTARY CLUB ORGANIZED ON LAKESHORE

Steps for the organization of a Rotary Club were taken Wednesday by a group of 23 local business and professional men who are planning to establish a unit of Rotary International, world-wide service club organization, on the Lakeshore.

At a luncheon meeting at the Green Lantern, in Dorval, the men voted to apply for a charter in Rotary International, thus adding the Lakeshore to the list of more than 11,000 communities in 119 countries where Rotary plays a leading part in the progress of the community.

Provisional officers appointed were:

- President Keith Daney Vice-Pres. Georges Larland Secretary Austin Williams Treasurer R. M. Ward Sgt. at arms A. M. Linkletter Directors Allan R. Capel David Green Jim McDermott J. D. Lehane J. St. Germain George Gerson Marry Black

The new club is being sponsored by the Rotary Clubs of greater Montreal, whose members have brought Rotary to the Lakeshore through their friendship with the business and professional men of this city.

INTERNATIONAL SOCCER LEAGUE

19 matches of the International Soccer League of New York will be played in Montreal at the Percival Molson Memorial Stadium.

This was announced recently by Joseph Slymovics, President of the Montreal Concordia Soccer Club.

Concordia will play in both sections of the International Soccer League, and will compete in League play against outstanding Soccer Clubs from France, England, Scotland, Italy, West Germany, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Israel, Turkey, Austria, Spain, the United States, Argentina and Brazil.

Brazil will be represented by Bangu of Rio de Janeiro, who won the International League Championship last August in a play-off against Kilmarnock of Scotland.

Concordia is delighted to offer these outstanding competitive Major League Soccer Games in Montreal's Major League Stadium - Molson Stadium, said Slymovics. Other locations were considered, but detailed studies proved them inadequate for the purpose.

Evil deeds never prosper. - Homer.

Never open the door to a lesser evil, for other and greater ones invariably slink in after it.

- Baltasar Gracian

Rotary International employs no field men to organize Rotary clubs so all new clubs are sponsored by Rotary clubs in nearby communities.

One of the distinctive features of Rotary is that Rotarians are welcome visitors at meetings of all Rotary clubs throughout the world. There are Rotary clubs in St. Laurent, Mt. Royal, Westmount, Verdun, Montreal Westward, Montreal, and elsewhere throughout the province, so it is expected that the new Rotary Club of Montreal Lakeshore will have numerous visiting Rotarians at its meetings.

Rotary was defined by District Governor S.C. Holland, as "a fellowship of some 500,000 business and professional executives throughout the world who are united in the Rotary 'ideal of service,' which is thoughtfulness of and helpfulness to others."

"Members of Rotary clubs," he continued, "endeavor to exemplify their motto, 'Service above Self,' in all of their daily business, social and civic contacts by placing the obligation to serve others before the desire for profit for themselves. A Rotary club selects its membership on the basis of one active member from each recognized business and profession in the community, so that it is a representative cross-section of the business and professional interest and activities in the community."

The new Rotary Club of Montreal Lakeshore has the same general objectives as all other Rotary clubs throughout the world -- to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster the development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service; High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying of each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society.

The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life; The advancement of international understanding, goodwill and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

The Rotary Club of Montreal Lakeshore will hold its regular weekly meetings at the Green Lantern in Dorval, Wednesdays at 12:15. When it has been formally admitted to membership in Rotary International, its official Rotary charter will be presented by St. Clair C. Holland, District Governor, at a special meeting which will be attended by Rotarians from many of the Rotary clubs in this district.
