Our Mission Statement:

Emerging Women NC is a powerful movement across the state that is redefining the way women lead. Committed to practicing the art of influence through service-leadership and community involvement, we inspire others by leading with compassion and integrity. Empowered by diversity, we embrace positive leadership traits as our members impact local, national and global communities.

Our Creed:

I am an Emerging Leader.

I am a student and a teacher, fully engaged in the process of daily learning.

I am a person who considers the impact of my actions and intentions so that I do no harm.

I am open to experiencing the emergence of self and others.

I am aware that I have gifts and talents, and I seek daily opportunities to share them.

I am transparent in truth, continuously evolving towards a more genuine way of being.

I am freed when I release my need to be right.

I am unencumbered by the fear of differences.

I am steeped in compassion, accepting others without judgment.

I embrace my place alongside my sisters as we transform lives by enriching the world. I am an Emerging Leader.
