

THE WHITE HORSE PROPHECY

MORMON PLAN FOR AMERICA & THE US ELECTIONS

This prophecy is a Mormon prediction taken very literally by the followers of the Mormon Church. It is referred to as the White Horse Prophecy alluding to the 1st Seal of the Book of Revelation. From this scene, a Man on a White Horse comes onto the world stage in time to save it from total collapse in every sense of the word; economic, political and spiritual. This 'One Mighty & Strong' Man, as the Mormon call their coming 'Messiah' has to be and will be a 'prophet.' This man will be in the line of succession of 'crowned prophets' since Joseph Smith was one before his death. Mormon historical accounts declare that Joseph Smith crowned himself 'King of America' during the time of persecution against the Mormons. The opposition to their version of Christianity is what has been an issue of contention, particularly in the USA, between the Mormons and mainline Christianity—whom the Mormons view as apostate and needing to be evangelized with the 'true gospel'. Many do not realize that bedded deep inside the psyche of the Mormon Doctrines is also a sense of revenge needed to be taken against mainline Christianity for the murder of their 'prophet', Joseph Smith.

Like most religions, their eschatology demands a 'Messiah' that will deliver the 'faithful' for their devotion and works. This 'Messiah' or prophet, much like the Muslims, will establish a New Order or 'Kingdom' on Earth. Mormons are supposed to be destined to be rulers over all other nations but especially the USA in the 'Latter Days'. This coming New Order, as it could possibly correlate to the Mormon Doctrine and White Horse Prophecy is that somehow America will be involved in the 'Latter Days' to bring this about. Many in the Mormon Church are increasingly coming to the realization that perhaps Romney could be this 'anointed prophet' come and save America and the US Constitution. Mitt Romney is not only a Mormon Elder but a Bishop, which is a High Priest in the Mormon Church priesthood hierarchy. He served his missionary tour in France. His great grandfather was born in Mexico. He lived there in an established Mormon colony, as there are many Mormon and Mennonite religious communities there to this day.

ROMNEY CAMPAIGN

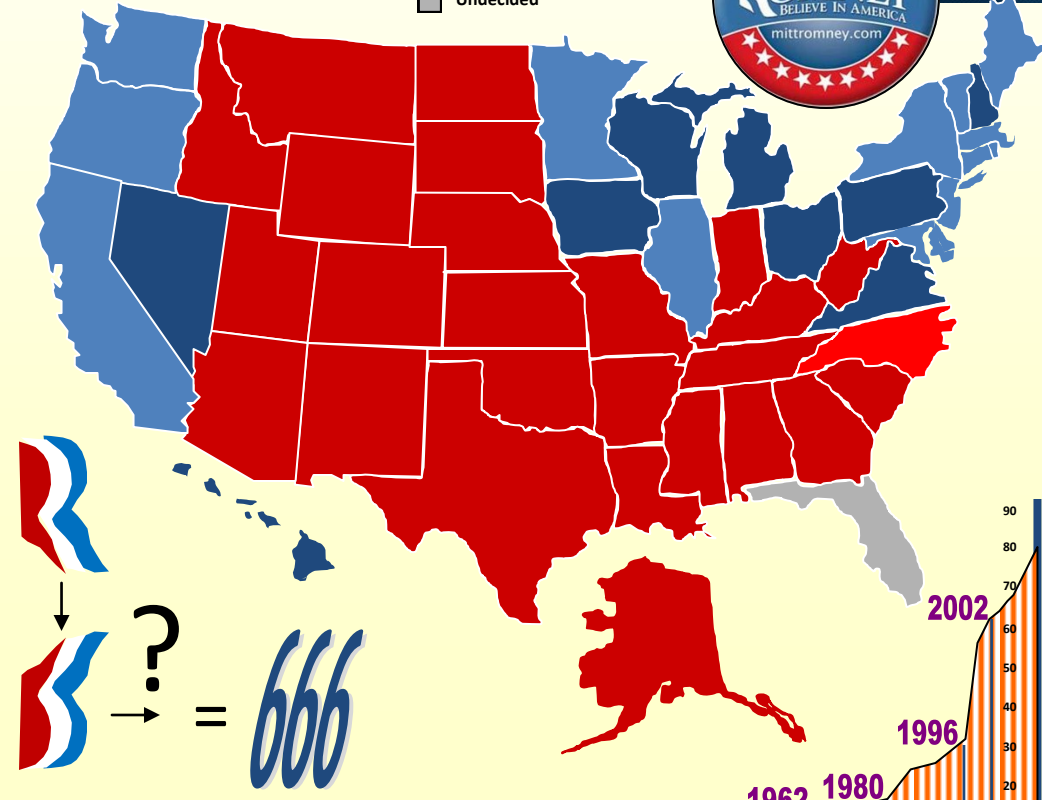

LOGO

This illustration is only pure conjecture. This illustration is not to conclude that the Romney Campaign is or has anything to do with an 'AntiChrist' complex or association. This illustration only seeks to show that like the Obama campaign logo introduced in 2008, that many have deciphered a 666 number into it, so too perhaps the Romney Campaign logo has such a number association incorporated into its logo as well.

Specifically the digits have been incorporated in many well known logos and/or symbols around the world. Many powerful world corporations, agencies and organizations have a variation of this number associated with their products or ideology. Perhaps this same principle is now being used in the Romney Presidential Campaign logo; if by coincidence or by choice.

The Romney logo has a tri-color font that has a red, white and blue triple 'R' without a left edge. The 666 configuration can be figured by basically flipping the logo horizontally. With this orientation, then the upside-down R's make for the three 6s.

The number 666 has a sinister connotation in many world cultures since ancient times. Many world religious and denominations do attribute evil forces to it. The number sequence has primarily been associated to the concept of the AntiChrist complex. It is a force and person that opposes what the concept or ideal of the 'Christ Jesus of the Bible represents, according to some religious interpretations. Others attributed it force, weather political, economic and/or spiritual as being behind or influencing world events, movements and/or personages.

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE

The USA is a Constitutional Republic, meaning it really is not a true Democracy of '1 man, 1 vote'. The citizens elect Representatives to vote for them, i.e., Congress. The Electoral College is just another mechanism placed to try to ensure equality in state representation. It consisting of 538 Electors who 'officially' the President and VP.

The number of Electors is equal to the members of Congress along with 3 from DC. Those against such a system argue that it is not democratic, others state that it gives undecided states more influence in the process. Those that support such a system believe that it brings 'balance' to a federal union in which small state populations are not discriminated against.

THE MORMONS (LDS)

In brief, a Mormon is used to describe a member of the church that is called officially, The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. This religion is also often times referred to as the simply, LDS. This religion claims to have the 'true revelation' of Jesus Christ given to their founder precisely in the USA. This compilation of writings form the main body of literary work that comprise the Book of Mormon; a 3rd Testament. The first being the Old Testament, then the New Testament.

Mormons believe that mainline Christianity is apostate and thus considers any non-Mormon as candidates for their proselytizing. A common example of this can use Romney's Mormon missionary tour in France. He spent the time required by all male eligible 'Elders' to do mission as a Mormon missionary on a quest to convert Christians to the 'true religion' of Jesus Christ.

Unlike the main Abrahamic faiths of Judaism and Christianity, Mormonism is uniquely an American or US phenomenon. Of note, within the Mormon Church, there has been a schism that occurred much like it occurred between the Roman Catholics and Protestant Reformed Catholics. There are actually 3 main branches; the most prolific and successful has been the LDS. The other 2 are the Reformed and the Temple Lot Mormons.

On the surface it might appear to be 'Christian' but as one further investigates and compares doctrine and practice, there is clearly a distinct difference. There are many peculiar religious tenants of the Mormon faith that are at odds with the main principles and practices of orthodox Christianity. Some of these peculiar Mormon practices are for example, baptizing the dead, being sealed, views of race, attributes of who God is, the divinity of Adam, blood atonement, and taking multiple wives., etc.

PRE-DETERMINED U.S. ELECTIONS?

The Mormons believe that one of their Elder and Priest would be this man that will save the USA from political, moral and economic doom. A possible sign that this Mormon Prophecy is about to be realized could be through the US Presidential elections of 2012.

This is not the first time that the US Presidential candidate would be a Mormon. Ironically Romney's father ran for US President in the 1960s but did not win. What is different now, as opposed to then, is that it would be during a time when the US Constitution would be in jeopardy of being discarded or destroyed.

Most students of Political Science, regardless of political affiliations could agree that the USA has never been so divided between the Blue and the Red. The USA currently is much like it was during Lincoln with the Blue and the Grey. Perhaps Romney is indeed in a position to have this Mormon Prophecy come to pass.

Perhaps this will be the case if America will 'vote' for Romney over Obama. Some political pundits have presented evidence by following the money trail that in all actuality, both are really not that far apart. There might be market economic differences on the outset but at the very top, both candidates can be seen as just been a different version of the 'same'.

Others go so far as to entertain that any candidate is really not 'chosen' by the US Electorate but that they are chosen behind the scenes by the invisible sinister 'dark hand' that only gives the US population an appearance that it 'elects' the most powerful 'man' on Earth, the President of the USA.
