- For one or more players, or played in teams. It's also great for parties and family game nights!
- Disruptus was designed around the concept of disruptive thinking—looking at an object or idea and envisioning an entirely different, innovative way to achieve the same end
- Examine the objects and ideas on the cards and Improve it, Transform it, Create something new - or completely Disrupt it according to a roll of the die!
- Suppose you roll Create2: Take elements from 2 different cards to create something totally new. For example, if you get a card with a motorcycle and one with a rope, you could decide to take the two wheels from the motorcycle and use the rope to tie these together into a double decker swing!
